KAPP GOVERNMENT HAS FALLEN

Bolivia Warned by United States

UNCLE SAM'S AID TO PREVENT WAR SOUGHT BY PERU

Two Urgent Notes Already Sent Bolivia by State Department, and Third May Follow.

REPORTED THAT CHILE HAS BEEN INSTIGATER

Disputing Nations Are Members of League, Which May Be Called Upon to Settle Trouble.

Washington, March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Insistent representations to Bolivia not to disturb the peace of South America has been made by the American government as a result of the anti-Peruvian manifestations at La Paz. In connection with the communications it was stated that Peru has sought the good offices of the United States to prevent hostilities. Two notes have been sent and a third is ready to go forward unless a reply to the others is received soon. The first was dispatched immediately after official news was received Monday of the attack on the Peruvian legation in the Bolivian capital and the second was put on the cables yesterday.

Officials view the situation as serious and the representations made by the state department were described as "urgent."

Dispatches to the Peruvian embassy today said events in Bolivia resulted from the influence of the Chilean government and the activity of Chilean agents. It is known this view also is held in other diplomatic and in some official circles here.

Effort to Force War.

Embassy officials expressed the belief there was an effort to force Peru into a war against its former ally in the war, against Chile in the eighties, out of which grew the Arica-Tacna dispute. The Peruvians charge General Montes, a candidate for the presidency of Bolivia, who is reported to be leading the anti-Peruvian manifestations, is being supported by Chile and is being supplied with arms and ammunition from that country.

The exact situation in Bolivia is somewhat obscure, owing to the rigid censorship reported to have been imposed at La Paz. Reports reaching Peru that General Montes was mobilizing Bolivian reserves caused deep concern. At the Peruvian embassy it was said that if this were true Peru would be obliged to call out its reserves as its standing army consisted only of a few thousand men.

Members of League.

Peru and Bolivia are members of the league of nations and if they sever diplomatic relations, the crisis thus provoked would, under the articles of the league covenant, be such as to bring the dispute to the official cognizance of the council of the league.

Some diplomats considered such an eventuality not at all unlikely. They said such a case would have a peculiar interest as it would afford the first test of the strength and power of the league.

Should Peru and Bolivia fail to submit the dispute to the league, the council might be expected to take action on its own initiative. Since the court of international justice, provided for adjudicating disputes, has not yet been organized, the allied supreme council, it was said, would deal with the matter.

It was pointed out, however, that the dispute would not necessarily have to be referred to the league; that by mutual agreement the two countries could ask the good offices of a third power in arbitration.

Should the league council finally intervene, or some third nation be called in, it would not be the first time that differences between the Latin-American republics had been submitted to European arbitration. The recent boundary disputes between Colombia and Venezuela was referred to Switzerland for adjustment, and before that the king of Spain was called on to settle a similar dispute between Honduras and Nicaraugua.

Differences between the United States and Chile growing out of the Alsop mining claim in the latter country was referred to King George of England at the time Philander C. Knox was secretary of state.

SUB-COMMITTEE ACTION STANDS

After Canvassing Replies and Finding 48 Upholding Its Action, It Is Held Unnecessary to Call the Whole Committee.

At a meeting of the subcommittee on arrangements for the presidential primary of the democratic state executive committee, held at the Kimball house yesterday, it was decided, in view of the fact that forty-eight replies favoring the subcommittee's action had been received and only eight against, that it was not necessary to call a meeting of the whole committee together at this time.

Six members of the subcommittee were present, the only absentee being Miller Bell, of Milledgeville. The committee displayed prfect unanimity of sentiment and the statement given out by the chairman and secretary represented the sentiment of every one present.

Inasmuch as Herbert Hoover has until 12 noon on April 1 to quualify as a democrat under the rules, no action will be taken as to placing his name on the ticket until that time.

Immemorial Rule.

It was pointed out by the committee that the rules of the democratic party in Georgia have always required of any candidate in white primaries that he be an "adherent of the democrat. arty." It would have been entirely outside of the scope of the subcommittee to change or modify this rule, even if it had wanted to do so.

At the conclusion of the meeting the following signed statement was given out by Chairman J. J. Flynt and Secretary Hiram Gardner, giving the unanimous result of the subcommittee's deliberations:

"At a meeting of the subcommittee of the state democratic executive committee, held at the Kimball house this day, the following members were present: Messrs. J. J. Flynt, chairman; Hiram L. Gardner, secretary; H. H. Dean, Fermor Barrett, J. H. Miller, T. H. Parker.

"The subcommittee proceeded to canvass the replies from the state executive committee as to their approval or disapproval of the action of the sub-committee as to its request upon Hon. H. C. Hoover to quality under the rules, before putting his name on the ticket for the presidential preference primary to be held on April 20.

"Replies had been received from 56 members of the total 76, of which 48 expressed their unqualified approval of the subcommittee's action, eight expressed their disapproval of that action, and notice was taken of expressions through the newspapers or disapproval of two other members, leaving 18 members unheard from in any way.

The 1918 Rule.

"The rules adopted by the state democratic executive committee in 1918, which at the present time are binding on the subcommittee (section 5, page 5) are as follows:

"No person shall be deemed a candidate in said primary unless he is legally qualified to hold office for which he announces, is a valid member and adherent of the democratic party, in both state and national politics.

"This same rule has been a standard one since the organization of the democratic white primary in Georgia. In view of this fact, and of the replies from a large majority of the state executive committee, the subcommittee could see no necessity at this time of requesting the calling together of the state democratic executive committee, and inasmuch as Mr. Hoover has, under the rules, until 12 o'clock (noon) of April 1, 1920, to qualify as a democrat, and have his name placed on the preferential primary ballot, the committee, on motion, adjourned, subject to the call of the chair.

(Signed.)

"J. J. FLYNT, Chairman.

"HIRAM L. GARDNER, Sec'y."

HOOVER CAMPAIGN ON G. O. P. TICKET IN MIDDLE WEST

Chicago, March 17.—Plans to organize a campaign in the middle western states for Herbert Hoover for the republican presidential nomination were made today by representatives from eleven states who attended a meeting here at the invitation of Ralph Arnold, California mining engineer, who started the California Hoover campaign. Headquarters for Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas would be opened in Chicago soon, Mr. Arnold said.

Declared United States Would View "With Grave Concern" Future Upheavals in Europe. Voted Down 25 to 39.

IRISH RESERVATION IS TABLED, 54 TO 21

Senator Owen's Reservation, Declaring Treaty as Not Modifying Terms of Armistice, Is Also Defeated.

Washington, March 17.—The republican irreconcilables, combining with the democrats, overturned on the senate floor today the plan of republican leaders to attach to the peace treaty a general declaration of American policy toward future European wars.

The declaratory reservation which would pledge the United States to regard "with grave concern" any threat to Europe's peace or freedom, was voted down by 25 to 39 after the irreconcilables had tried in vain to amend it. Intended as an offset to the reservation denying the obligations of Article 10 the proposal had been expected by the republican leaders to attract many democratic votes, but on the roll call only two senators on the democratic side supported it.

Disposition of the reservation was regarded as clearing up the last doubtful issue of the treaty fight and the leaders immediately made plans to bring a vote on ratification by Friday. By unanimous consent it was agreed to limit speeches on all other pending reservations to fifteen minutes, and to continue tomorrow's session into the evening if necessary to put the ratification resolution into final form. About a dozen reservations remain to be voted on, but it generally is conceded that none of them will be adopted.

Bryan Urging Ratification.

As the ratification controversy neared a conclusion, William J. Bryan began a series of conferences with democratic senators, throwing the weight of his influence against the advice of President Wilson that the administration senate forces vote against ratification with the republican reservations. Mr. Bryan is understood to have told his friends in the senate to take the best ratification they could get, but there was no evidence tonight that he had materially weakened the democratic forces standing out against the republican program.

Mr. Bryan disclosed his plans to some extent tonight, speaking before the local Bryan Democracy club, when he said he would urge the party convention at San Francisco to adopt a platform plank favoring amendment of the constitution so that a majority of the senate instead of a two-thirds majority could ratify treaties. A majority in each house of congress could declare war, he said, and the treaty ratifying power was not more important than the war power.

Action on the declaratory reservation, which was introduced by Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, was reached after the senate had extricated itself with some difficulty from the debate started yesterday on the Irish question. Two propositions intending aid toward Irish independence were laid aside by votes of more than two to one, discussion of each of them being ended summarily by a motion to lay on the table, not debatable under senate rules.

The first proposal, by Senator Shields, democrat, Tennessee, was offered as an amendment to a pending reservation on Egypt, which was tabled with all its proposed amendments, on motion of Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, by a vote of 54 to 21. The subject immediately was revived, however, in a reservation introduced by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, which was laid on the table, 46 to 21, on a motion by Senator Lenroot.

Stupendous Piece of Humor.

Debate on the reservation to declare a European policy was brief. Senator Lenroot advocating it as a means of showing the nation's good faith toward its recent allies, and Senator Williams, democrat, Mississippi, denouncing it "as a stupendous piece of humor," which meant nothing and would result in nothing. The roll call follows:

oFr—Republicans: Calder, Capper, Calt, Cummins, Curtis, Edge, Elkins, Hale, Jones of Washington, Kellog, Keyes, Lenroot, Lodge, McNary, New, Phipps, Smotts, Spencer, Sterling, Sutherland, Townsend,

NO SMALLER TAXES UNTIL AFTER 1922, HOUSTON ASSERTS

SMALL REDUCTIONS POSSIBLE IN 1923

Houston Favors Flat Tax on Excess Profits, Instead of Graduated Rates of 20 and 40 Per Cent.

Washington, March 17.—Income and excess profits taxes cannot be reduced until after 1922, Secretary Houston today wrote to the house ways and means committee, urging an immediate simplification of these taxes and substitution of a flat tax on excess profits instead of the graduated rates of 20 and 40 per cent.

Only very moderate reductions may be made in the calendar year of 1922, collected in 1923, the secretary wrote. Under the plan of a flat tax, the letter stated it would be possible to adopt a declining rate, say, of 25 per cent for the first year in which the change is in operation, 20 per cent for the second year and 15 per cent thereafter.

Unless action is taken at the present session of congress, Mr. Houston said, existing taxes "must continue to be collected on the basis of the present law until the close of the calendar year 1922." Such a condition, he wrote, "is contemplated with the gravest apprehension."

Cost of Court Decision.

Immediate losses to the government under the supreme court's decision that stock dividends are not taxable will approximate $105,000,000, the letter stated. Secretary Houston added, however, that the ultimate loss would be only $25,000,000, as much of the original loss would be regained through the sale of stocks and subsequent taxes on them. The secretary estimated that $35,000,000 collected in 1918 would have to be refunded and $70,000,000 would be lost on 1919 taxes.

Aggregate losses for 1919 and

Georgia Railway and Power Company and Employees Sign Contract Which Will Last During 1920.

An agreement between the Georgia Railway and Power company and Division No. 732, of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, representing the men employed by the company, concerning wages and operation of the street car lines of the company during 1920, was formally signed Wednesday. H. M. Atkinson acted for the company, and W. B. Honea represented the association, of which he is president.

Under the terms of the contract the company will maintain an open shop, and it is agreed that any and all motormen and conductors or other men employed by the company of the Atlanta Northern Railway company, in the car shops or barns, or in the track construction or maintenance work, shall be eligible to membership in the association and shall have the right to join or not join the association, as they individually prefer, and that there shall be no discrimination for or against any employee of the different departments on account of membership in the association.

Likewise it is agreed that no employee of the company shall be discriminated against for nonmembership in the association, and that neither the association nor any employes of the company, members of the association, shall attempt to coerce any employees of

QUIZ SHEET DRAWN BY FARM BOARD PRESENTED BRYAN

Accepts Questionnaire, But Not as Candidate, and Promises to Give Opinion on Matters Involved.

BARRETT EXPLAINS FARMERS' PLATFORM

"Statement of Principles," He Declares, "and We Will Stick to Them to the Finish."

Washington, March 17.—William Jennings Bryan received today the first copy of the questionnaire prepared by a committee of the National Board of Farm Organizations for presentation to all presidential candidates in order to place them on record on matters of interest to farmers.

In accepting the questionnaire, Mr. Bryan said he was not at this time a candidate, but would study the series of inquiries and give the farm board his opinion upon them.

Mr. Bryan declared himself as heartily in accord with the principle of requiring candidates to put themselves unequivocally on record before tentering upon their campaigns.

He did not accept the questionnaire as a candidate, he told the delegation which presented it, because "I would not want to be placed in the position of being a candidate when I am not a candidate. But if I should be a candidate, you will know soon enough."

Main Planks in Platform.

Elimination of the middleman, protection of the farmer in his right to organize, appointment of an expert acceptable to organized agriculturists as secretary of agriculture, and representation for farmers on all boards and commissions in the membership of which various interests are recognized are the main planks in the farmers' platform outlined in the questionnaire, according to C. S. Barrett, president of the national board, and chairman of the committee which drew up the document.

Other issues presented include the free and unquestioned right of collective buying, reduction of the farm tenancy evil, improvement of

Husband Trails Alleged Affinity And Young Wife

Mrs. Annie Gilbert and Child Held by Police, and Darvin Woods Is Charged by Officers With Jewelry Robbery in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Annie Gilbert, a pretty Jacksonville, Fla., woman, who deserted her husband last Sunday evening and came to Atlanta with Darvin Woods, a young man charged with burglary, taking with her their little 3-year-old daughter, Delphine, was arrested with her alleged affinity at a rooming house at 311 East Fair street, Wednesday afternoon, by City Detectives Cowan and Gillespie, and Special Agent Vincent Kelly, of the department of justice. Little Delphine was permitted to stay with the mother last night by the officals.

According to the officers, Woods robbed a jewelry store in Jacksonville last Sunday morning just before leaving with Mrs. Gilbert for Atlanta. When apprehended, a large number of articles said to have been stolen—valuable watches, rings, stickpins, etc., were recovered from his trunk. The officers also stated that they would have little difficulty in connnetcig him with other crimes.

United States Officers Busy.

Agents of the department of justice are also thoroughly investigating the circumstances in conection with the trip of the two from the Florida city to Atlanta, with the view of prosecuting Woods under the Man white slave law.

Their arrest Wednesday was brought about by the vigilance of the young woman's husband, Aaron

Allied Occupation Of Constantinople Precipitates Clash

British Soldiers and Turks Killed When Latter Resist Allied Forces as They Take Over War Office.

HIGH COMMISSIONER ISSUES STATEMENT

Allies Have No Intention of Destroying Authority of Sultan, He Declares, But Warns Against Disorder.

Constantinople, March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Constantinople was occupied this morning by allied forces under General Sir George F. Milne, of the British army. This long-looked-for military demonstration by the allies against Turkey was carried out with only one untoward happening, a serious clash at the war office, where the Turks resisted the allied troops.

An exchange of shots resulted in which several Punjabi of the British East Indain forces and a few of the Turks were killed.

The excitement caused by the occupation quieted down before darkness, which brought absolute calm.

The allies have occupied the ministries of war and navy and assumed control of the posts, telegraphs and telephones, which have been temporarily suspended. Shipping also has been suspended.

The allied high commissioner has issued a statement declaring that the allies have no intention of destroying the authority of the sultan, but wish to strengthen his power. It also says the allies will adheer to their intention not to deprive the Turks of Constantinople, but that they may be compelled to modify their decision if massacres and disorder continue.

Decks Cleared for Action.

The landing of the forces of occupation was carried out under the guns of the formidable allied fleet anchored in the Bosphorus. The British dreadnaught Benbow was moored at the Galata quay, her guns trained upon Stamboul. Another man of war faced the arsenal in the Golden Horn, while all the other ships in the Bosphorus were

JOHN GRANT QUITS PLANNING BOARD

Business Reasons Compel Chairman to Resign Position—McFall Kerbey Tells of Value of City Market.

Stating that he will be unable to devote the amount of time which he feels the post demands, John W. Grant, chairman of the Atlanta planning commission, in a letter addressed to the body and read at the regular session Wednesday afternoon by Vice Chairman Louie P. Marquardt, tendered his resignation from the position. Eugene R. Black moved that Mr. Grant's resignation be accepted with the regrets of the commission, and that a committee to nominate his successor be appointed. His motion was adopted.

In presenting his motion Mr. Black deplored the loss to the membership and to the city of Mr. Grant's leadership. Mr. Marquardt named as a committee on the selection of a successor A. J. Orme, Dan W. Green and Dr. W. L. Gilbert.

The resignation of Mr. Grant and a splendid address on municipal markets by McFall Kerbey, of the United States department of agriculture, bureau of markets, featured the meeting.

Mr. Grant's Resignation.

Mr. Grant's letter of resignation, which speaks for itself, was addressed to the commission's committee on selection of a chairman, and is as follows:

Atlanta, Ga., March 16, 1920.—Messrs. John S. Cohen, A. J. Orme, Mell R. Wilkinson, Frank Inman and Louie P. Marquardt, Committee on Selection of Chairman, City Planning Commission. Gentlemen: On account of continued indisposition, I am leav-Elected Chairman of the Southeastern Passenger Traffic Association at Meeting Held Wednesday Afternoon.

HOWARD HONORED BY RAILROAD MEN

The conference of the executive officers of the railroads operating south of the Ohio and Potomac rivers and east of the Mississippi, which has been in session in the Healey building during the last two days, adjourned yesterday afternoon, its deliberations having resulted in the re-establishment of the Southeastern Passenger Traffic association, which was abolished when the government took control of the roads.

The revived organization will maintain its offices on the sixth floor of the Healey building, in charge of W. H. Howard, who was elected chairman of the association. Mr. Howard occupied this position before government control, and is now merely reinstated to the post he formerly held.

The association had changed its articles so as to include steamship lines as well as railroads among those eligible for membership, and the executive committee of the association was increased from thirteen to fifteen members. The new committee will have charge of freight bureau accounts and the freight inspection committees established by the government during its control.

The executive committee is formed of one member from each of the lines in the association, among which are the Southern railway, Seaboard Air Line, Norfolk and Western, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, Louisville and Nashville, Illinois Central, Atlantic Coast Line, Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic and the Central of Georgia railways and the Merchants and Miners' company and the Clyde Steamship company.

Mr. Howard said the question of rates was not touched upon at the conference, the principal object of which was to perfect its organization as it stood at the beginning of the late war.

11-YEAR-OLD BOY KICKED TO DEATH BY SCHOOLMATES

Pueblo, Colo., March 17.—Ted, the 11-year-old son of Mrs. H. A. Kuykendall, in a statement today shortly before his death, charged he had been kicked and injured by five school boys. Physicians say the lad died as a result of these injuries.

Behind the death of the lad is a school-boy fund. Ted's mother is poor. His clothes earned for him the name of "Poverty" among schoolmates. Despite handicaps, the boy led his classes. This is believed to have created jealousy.

Ted, according to his statement, "whipped" two boys of his own age Thursday when they jeered at his clothes. Friday, five older boys attacked him and kicked him into unconsciousness. Neighbors found him behind a billboard.

NEW YORKERS RESCUED FROM YACHT'S RIGGING

Jacksonville, Fla., March 17.—The auxiliary schooner yacht Misery, Captain Waama, with Irwin Cox, owner, of New York city, and party aboard, went ashore during a gale last night south of the jetty at Mayport, the entrance to the St. Johns river. It was with great difficulty that the passengers and members of the crew were rescued by the pilot boat Meta early today. They were clinging to the rigging of the craft with heavy seas washing over them, and were transferred to the pilot boat by the use of life lines. The Misery was 65 feet over all and was manned by the master and four men. Marine men said the vessel probably would be a total loss.

TWO BANDITS SECURE $12,000 AND ESCAPE

Cleveland, Ohio, March 17.—Two armed bandits entered the Lorain avenue branch of the Cleveland Trust company when the bank opened this morning, held up Cashier George Travnikar while he was making up a payroll, secured $12,00 in cash and escaped in an automobile.

SEECHT APPOINTED TEMPORARY RULER, ACTING FOR EBERT

Resignations of Kapp, Von Leuttwitz and Other Officials Are Accepted by Vice Chancellor in Name of Imperial President.

MANY BLOODY CLASHES THROUGHOUT COUNTRY

Encounters Between Troops and Spartacans Take Place in Many German Towns With Heavy Casualties—Bolshevists Take Advantage of Situation.

Berlin, March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The resignation of Chancellor Kapp and his chief officials is confirmed by the following announcement:

"General Provisional Director Kapp has retired with the object of bringing about internal peace. General von Luettwitz has retired for similar reasons.

"The vice chancellor, in the name of the imperial president, Ebert, has accepted the resignations and has entrusted Major General von Seecht with the provisional conduct of affairs as commander-in-chief."

Wolfgang Kapp has fled Berlin, leaving the chancellery in an automobile at 6 o'clock this evening.

KAPP SUCCEEDED BY VON LEUTTWITZ.

Berlin, March 17.—(Evening)—(By the Associated Press.)—After holding the reins of power for less thar five days, Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, the self-appointed chancellor and dictator, has retired from office and control. He resigned today, and an official communication explained that the chancellor considered his mission fulfilled when the old government decided to meet the most essential demands addressed to it. He was also moved to this action by the extreme necessity of the fatherland, which demanded union against the dangers of bolshevism.

The official communique, announcing the resignation of Chancellor Kapp, says:

"The Bauer government, having voluntarily decided to fulfill the most essential political demands addressed to it, the rejection of which on Saturday led to the establishment of the Kapp government, Chancellor Kapp considers his mission fulfilled and retires, resigning the executive power again into the hands of the military commander in chief.

"In this he is moved by the conviction of the extreme necessity of the fatherland, which demands solid union of all against the annihilating dangers of bolshevism."

VON LEUTTWITZ GIVEN OFFICE.

The real circumstances of Kapp's retirement are still shrouded in mystery. An important factor undoubtedly is to be found in the deliberations of the under secretaries and imperial council yesterday, which Major General von Leuttwitz attended. The views of this conference were that both Kapp

"There's a ROGERS store near you"

Rogers saved the people $2,900 on bread last week

The actual difference between the price of Rogers' bread and price you have to pay elsewhere amounted to $2,900 on our output of bread last week, which was practically $500 per day. Isn't this worth thinking over? Every food item is sold here on the same close margin.

STRICTLY FRESH Country Eggs, dz. 40c

These stores can be relied upon to force the price of Eggs to a reasonable figure.

Best Grade Evaporated Milk, tall can 11c

CHOICE YELLOW YAMS, lb.....3½c

Now that Irish Potatoes are selling for 7c to 8c a pound, you will appreciate this price.

PURITY NUT Butterine, lb.....37c

No need to pay 70c to 80c for butter, when you can get this excellent substitute.

LEA & PERRIN'S Worcester Sauce . 26c

Full 1-Lb. Can BEST PINK SALMON 17c

ROGERS'
102—ECONOMY STORES—102

and Von Leuttwitz withdraw in order to terminate an intolerable position.

Von Leuttwitz agreed to this, but when he returned to the chancellory he allowed himself to be persuaded to change his mind and retain office. To him has been delegated the executive power by the former revolutionary chancellor, and it is difficult to say what will happen now that Von Leuttwitz remains the military dictor at Berlin.

It is reported, however, that Gustave Noske, minister of defense in the old (Ebert) government, is coming here tonight, and Von Leuttwitz perhaps will transfer his new found authority to him.

In conference with the foreign correspondents yesterday Kapp's press chief made play with the bolshevist danger. In a second conference an attempt was made to conceal the fact that the Berlin government was likely to be of only short duration.

Although the general strike dealt this government a mortal blow, the decisive fact is that Kapp and his supporters had no political prestige, their government being built on machine guns.

The statements made at these conferences gave a strange impression and caused a suspicion that the cry of alarm about the bolshevists was preliminary to the announcement of retreat. The chief of the press bureau warned the correspondents against showing themselves in the streets as a communist revolt was expected hourly.

COMPROMISE NOW OUT OF QUESTION.

That any kind of compromise is out of the question now is undoubted. President Ebert, of the old government, is strongly entrenched at Stuttgart, where, according to semi-official advices, the council of the empire met today and unanimously approved the old government and strongly condemned the military coup at Berlin.

Frightened Berliners last night were asking: "The white or red terror! Which?" This was in consequence of an official announcement that the reds were planning a rising and calling upon the people to save the country from bolshevism.

Government officials said to the Associated Press: "We fear bloodshed tonight; it is difficult for us to hold the troops back."

In preparation for the expected rising, officials camped in their offices all night. When the correspondent left the chancellory at nightfall into the darkening Wilhemstrasse, soldiers were bringing in huge boxes of food and cases of wine. Berliners generally scurried to their homes, apprehensively seeking refuge and locking their doors.

Notwithstanding Dr. Kapp's resignation, Berlin seems destined to have troublous times. An influential member of the government, talking with the correspondent Tuesday, insisted upon the urgency of suppressing the strike movement and communist opposition. He said:

"Time is on the side of the communist and every hour we let slip weakens our position. We may expect great events between now and tomorrow."

The great events, beginning with the retirement of Kapp, are evidently moving to a climax. Ebert sent an airplane over Berlin dropping leaflets and predicting the early collapse of the Berlin government.

The utter tie-up of the city continued today, and there is no evidence of the breaking down of the strike. So far as is known, no fresh supplies of food have been received, and prices are jumping almost hourly. The striking water plant employees released sufficient amount to flush the sewers, to prevent the outbreak of disease, but little is available for drinking purposes.

START AGITATION FOR SOVIET.

London, March 17.—Independent socialists and communists in Germany have commenced a violent agitation in favor of a soviet republic and an alliance with soviet Russia, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

PROCLAIM REPUBLIC OF WORKERS' COUNCILS.

Basel, Switzerland, March 17.—A dispatch from Chemnitz, the industrial center in Saxony with a population of more than 200,000, says a republic of workingmen's councils has been proclaimed there. A "committee of action" has been formed, comprising ten communists, six independent socialists, four majority socialists and one democrat.

EFFORT TO COMBINE SOCIALIST PARTIES.

Copenhagen, March 17.—A telegram from Essen says that at the first sitting of the revolutionary workers' council held on Monday afternoon, a committee of thirty-three took over the conduct of affairs.

"Efforts are being made," adds the dispatch, "to secure common action of all three socialist parties for the lower Rhine district and Westphalia on the basis of a proletarian dictatorship."

BLOOD IS SHED IN 24 TOWNS.

Paris, March 17.—News from Berlin and other German points, telling of sanguinary clashes at Essen, Dortmund, Leipsic, Mannheim, Frankfort and Brunswick, together with a report that a council of workmen had assumed power at Chemnitz, has given the impression here that there is more to be feared from a revival of the Spartacan movement than from the activities of the Kapp government in Berlin.

According to the latest dispatches the military movement has resulted in bloodshed in twenty-four German towns. The Spartacans are reported to have risen in Dresden, where a clash with troops is declared to have resulted in a casualty list of 160 dead and 300 wounded. Fighting in Breslau, Hamburg and Kiel also is reported.

CIVILIANS KILLED AT POTSDAM.

Amsterdam, March 17.—The Berlin correspondent of the Handelsbladet today telegraphed his newspaper that the excitement in Berlin and in the rest of the nation was increasing.

"Berlin has been rather quiet up to the present," he says, "but nevertheless the troops tonight fired upon the population. Yesterday in a clash in front of the palace at Potsdam twelve persons were killed and many others wounded. In a similar clash at the town hall in Schoeneberg, twelve persons were killed.

TROOPS CHARGED BY WORKNGMEN.

London, March 17.—Machine gun firing was heard in Berlin between 11 and 12 o'clock last night, says a message to the Exchange Telegraph company today from the German capital.

During the day a detachment of soldiers passed through the Brunnenstrasse, headed by a band playing "Heil Dir Im Siegerkranz." Workmen immediately charged the troops and a skirmish ensued in which a number of men were killed and others wounded, the message adds.

At Spandau sixty-nine persons, nearly all workmen, were reported killed, and the fighting is continuing.

The correspondent reports that big trucks are constantly passing through the streets loaded down with armed soldiers who point their guns in the direction of the sidewalk.

59 ARE KILLED IN AMERICAN ZONE.

Paris, March 17.—Fifty-nine persons have been killed and upwards of a hundred wounded in disorders at Treves in the American zone of occupation southwest of Coblenz, according to advices received here. Revised figures for the casualties in the fighting at Dresden are said to show that more than 100 were killed and 300 wounded.

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN SEEKS EX-KAISER.

Amerongen, March 17.—Considerable excitement was caused here on Sunday by an attempt by a mysterious German woman to visit former Emperior William. She appeared at the gates of Bentinck castle but was denied admittance and later had a conversation with the steward at the castle, leaving a bouquet of flowers for Count Hohenzollern.

There were rumors that her name was Kapp, which is the name of the chancellor of the new German government, but there is no confirmation of this report as yet.

The former emperor is still engaged in sawing wood and has not been permitted to leave the castle even for a visit at Doorn since Saturday.

MILITARY PATROL FIRES ON CROWD.

London, March 17.—A military patrol at Goerlitz, Prussian Silesia, having been driven back by a crowd, fired and killed two civilians, according to a dispatch from Berlin under Monday's date.

The government of Mecklenburg and Schwerin have signed a declaration that they are ready to retire in order to avoid bloodshed, the dispatch says.

General Watter, commander of the Reichswehr in the Rhenish Westphalian industrial region, has convened the workmen's council to aid in maintaining order.

TEN ARE KILLED AT HAMBURG.

Hamburg, March 17.—An encounter last evening in the Barmbeck quarter between Spartacans and troops resulted in ten deaths.

MOB STORMS FRENCH QUARTERS.

Paris, March 17.—A mob has stormed French headquarters at Bonn and pillaged stores and private houses, says a Berlin dispatch to the Journal. The disorder began by an attack on a French military auto-truck. The driver and several French officers narrowly escaped being lynched. Police officers were obliged to fire upon the mob, the dispatch says.

EBERT IN CONTROL OF HAMBURG.

Copenhagen, March 17.—Hamburg and its western suburb, Altona, are now definitely in the hands of the followers of the Ebert government of Germany, according to a dispatch to the Social Demokraten. General von Wankenheim, who was defeated and captured in Altona, has joined the troops loyal to the Ebert regime.

MACHINE GUNS USED IN LEIPSIC.

Coblenz, March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—A telephone message today from an American at Leipsic said conditions there are very bad. Fighting in which machine guns were being used was proceeding. Food was growing short, and the water had been cut off. The government troops supporting Premier Bauer were still holding their own against the revolutionists.

The message said there were many foreigners in the city attending the Leipsic fair, but that there had been no casualties among Americans.

BRITISH TROOPS RESTORE MAYORS.

The Hague, March 17.—Reports received here from Heerleen, Holland, which is on the frontier of the allied occupied Germany territory, say that the Spartacans hoisted the red flag and deposed the mayors at Halle, Westphalia and Ohligs, Rhenish Prussia, but that British troops restored order and restored the mayors.

EXPLOSION ON CUTTER BEING INVESTIGATED

Pensacola, March 17.—No lives were lost in the explosion of a gasoline tank aboard the cutter from the United States ship Camden in the harbor here last night, but sixteen men from the U. S. S. Barney received injuries in trying to rescue the occupants of the cutter, according to an official statement issued today. An investigation as to the cause of the accident, which resulted in the complete loss of the cutter, is being held today on the Camden.

MRS. BEULAH LIPSEY formerly of the Piedmont, is now located at 917 Citizens and Southern Bank building, where she will cordially welcome her friends.

Former Kaiser Heavily Guarded By Dutch Troops

Amerongen, March 17.—(By the Asociated Press.)—Reinforcement of the Dutch guard at von Bentinck castle, which since the middle ages has been protected by moats and drawbridges, has made the former German emperor's refuge a veritable prison fortress, capable of defence even in the unexpected event of an attack by raiders desiring to free the exile.

The castle is situated in a big square. The four sides are posted, while two of them have additional walls. The latter two sides are on the public road and on the other two sides, which have no walls, are private paths belonging to the von Bentincks. Constables and military police patrol the roads with loaded rifles night and day.

To the right of the main entrance is a small building in which rest reinforcements. Here sentries are on guard. Behind this main gateway, a distance of 130 yards, is another gate, barring the inner driveway to the drawbridge. More sentries are stationed here. Still further on, where the road bends at yet another gate there is also a guard. Then turning to the right a driveway leads to the terrace on which the castle stands. Police patrol this terrace.

At the rear of the castle there is a garden, then a moat and then a private pathway on the dike and this is constantly patrolled. Beyond the dike is a meadow land crossed by ditches and hedges and in the meadow are patrols who are particularly warned to guard against the landing of airplanes there. Only the Bentinck family and the former emperor's few servants have permission to enter the castle.

So strict has the control over the former monarch become that J. B. Kan, general secretary of the Dutch government, who is charged with guarding the Hohenzollerns and is personally known to most of the sentries, had to produce a pass before being admitted Monday afternoon.

STREET CAR WAGE AGREEMENT MADE

the company into joining the association against their will, or interfere with them in any way because of failure or refusal to join.

The company agrees to meet and treat with the duly accredited officers and committees that are elected or selected by the association upon all questions and grievances that may arise between it and the men.

"When any disputes arise between the company and the association or its members, over which they cannot mutually agree," says the contract, "the same shall be submitted to a board of arbitrators composed of three disinterested persons, one arbitrator to be chosen by the company, one by the association and the two arbitrators thus selected shall choose a third arbitrator. This board of arbitration so constituted shall hear all evidence and arguments on the points in dispute, and the written decision of a majority of the members of the board of arbitration shall be final and binding on the parties hereto."

The wages to be paid employees covered by the agreement will be at the rates fixed by the board of arbitration, composed of Luther Z. Rosser, Madison Bell and Judge John D. Humphries, to which the recent issue between the employees and the company over the matter of increased pay was submitted by mutual consent of the men and the company. This was approximately a 15 per cent increase. The rate of wages will be retroactive to January 1, 1920.

Motormen and conductors training new men will be paid five cents an hour in addition to their regular rates of pay.

Quite a lengthy part of the contract is devoted to a detailed explanation of the hours the men will be expected to serve. Time over a certain number of hours daily will be paid for at the rate of time and a half.

CLASH PRECIPITATED IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Except in the instance stated, however, there was no resistance to the allied forces, as they carried out the orders for the occupation of the historic capitol of the Ottoman empire. The population, in fact, showed little alarm, nor was there any sign of panic except in one section of Stamboul, as the commanders of the allied troops brought their forces ashore.

These forces included 4,000 bluejackets and marines from the British warships and contingents from the forces of all the allies represented here. Indian detachments having Moslems on their rosters were among the troops taking part in the operation.

Comprehensive military and naval plans have been made for carrying out the allied measures and precautionary steps taken. Last night a number of Turks and other persons, who were regarded as possible disturbers of the peace were arrested, including the commander of the tenth Turkish division.

Warning Placards.

The dead walls of Constantinople were placarded with a proclamation by Major General Wilson, of the British troops, declaring that any one committing any act that threatened the safety of the allied forces would be tried by court-martial and sentenced to death, or such other penalty as the court might fix. The proclamation was printed in Greek, English and French, and it was eagerly scanned by curious crowds in all sections of the city, which, after the landing took place, wandered around the streets in a dazed manner, apparently unable to understand exactly what had happened.

The French this evening patrolled Stamboul with Senegalese troops. The British guarded Pera, the suburb northwest of the Golden Horn, while the Italians guarded Scutari, the portion of Constantinople on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus.

The flutter that occurred in Stamboul as the troops marched in was on the part of the shopkeepers near the war office, where the clash occurred. They closed their shops in their first fright, but speedily re-opened them.

The allies are declared to believe their measures have provided amply for the maintenance of security and order in Stamboul and consider it questionable whether even the so-called nationalist forces in Anatolia are in a position to attempt anything serious.

ACTION FORCED BY PRO-GERMAN TURKS.

Washington, March 17.—Allied military occupation of Constantinople was forced upon the allies by the growing power of Mustapha Kemel over the sultan's government, the only element of authority in Turkey favorable to acceptance of the allied peace terms, according to officials here. The maneuver was not regarded, however, as an attempt at permanent settlement but rather in line with plan of Turkish adjustment drawn up in London by the ambassadors' conference.

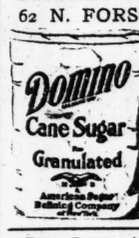

Under that plan, it was pointed out, the sultan was to be retained in Constantinople, but no military occupation was contemplated. Since the pro-German Turkish nationalist party has exerted such influence as to make Mustapha virtual dictator to the Constantinople chamber, however, and even able to break or make cabinets of the sultan's government at will, it was said military occupation for the announced purpose of strengthening the sultan's power was to be expected.

So far as known, the United States has not made as yet any formal rejoinder to the request of the allies, announced from Paris yesterday, for its views as to the proposed Turkish plan. Officials have expected that some alteration of that plan might be forthcoming owing to the swift march of events in Turkey, but it was not disclosed whether the expression of American opinion was being delayed on that account.

NORTH AVE. CHURCH REVIVAL MEETINGS DRAW BIG CROWDS

The Wednesday night services of the revival meetings being held at the North Avenue Presbyterian church were well attended, and at the close of Dr. Thomas' wonderful sermon on the subject, "The Second Coming of Christ—The Three Appearings of Christ," 25 or more stepped out and took their stand for Christ.

Dr. Trigg A. M. Thomas, of Kansas City, who is conducting the meetings, is one of the most forceful and successful evangelistic workers in the country, having records of about 10,000 conversions among the soldiers alone during his war-work activities in the army camps.

Tonight at 8 o'clock Dr. Thomas will speak about "The Fellow Who Got Married." At the midday prayer meetings of the Billy Sunday club, on the fourth floor of the Gould building, Dr. Thomas will each day this week, at 12:45, deliver a 15-minute sermon, to which all are invited. His subject today will be "The A B C of Religion."

PERJURY IS CHARGED IN 53 INDICTMENTS

False Testimony Is Alleged in Trial of Miner for Attempted Homicide.

Beckley, W. Va., March 17.—A grand jury in the criminal court of Raleigh county here today returned fifty-three indictments, charging perjury, against persons who testified recently in the trial of Tony Stafford, a miner accused of attempting to kill a fellow miner two years ago. Six of the indicted were officials of the United Mine Workers of America.

Among officials and members of the miners' union named were:

J. R. Gilmore, district No. 29; P. Dwyer and Joseph Patton, members of the district board; John Gatherum, secretary of district No. 29; Marshall Price, an organizer; G. F. Parsons, editor of a socialist newspaper; J. E. Brooks, Elizabeth MacMillen and John Kennedy.

Stafford, who was convicted of assault recently, also was indicted for perjury.

Eight other members of the United Mine Workers of America were indicted on charges of conspiring to prevent two miners from returning to work during the strike of bituminous coal miners last fall.

M. F. O'Brien, immigration inspector, of Pittsburg, is holding a hearing in connection with charges against Stafford, who, authorities claim is an alien, Stafford, they declare, recently attempted to incite fellow miners to destroy property at Glenwhite, W. Va. The hearing is expected to consume several days.

MILWAUKEE GIVEN 83,290 INCREASE; TOTAL OF 457,147

Washington, March 17.—Population statistics for 1920 announced today by the census bureau included:

Milwaukee, 457,147; an increase of 83,290, or 22.3 per cent over 1910.

Charlottesville, Va., 10,688; an increase of 3,923, or 58 per cent over 1910.

Moline, Ill., 20,708; increase 6,510, or 26.9 per cent.

Wausau, Wis., 18,661; increase 2,101, or 12.7 per cent.

Moberly, Mo., 12,789; increase 1,866, or 17.1 per cent.

Oswego, N. Y., 23,626; increase 258, or 1.1 per cent.

Milwaukee is the fifth big city, the population of which for 1920 has been announced. It ranked twelfth in 1910 with 373,857, an increase of 21 per cent over 1900.

Cincinnati, Milwaukee's nearest rival in 1910, returned a population of 401,158 for 1920, an increase of 10.3 per cent over 1910. Washington passed Cincinnati in this census with a population of 437,414, an increase of 32.1 per cent.

The population of Hawaii is 249,992, the census bureau announced today. This is an increase of 58,083, or 30.3 per cent, as compared with 1910.

GIRL BADLY INJURED IN COLLEGE FRACAS

Chicago, March 17.—Miss Elizabeth Chapman, president of the freshman class of Northwestern university, was in a hospital today seriously injured as the result of a fall from a third-story window of an apartment building, where she had been imprisoned by members of the sophomore class to prevent her appearance at a St. Patrick's day parade of the lower class.

Miss Chapman was abducted from her home Monday and taken to the apartment, where girl students stood guard over her. In an effort to escape Monday night she made a rope from sheets and attempted a descent from a window. She lost her grasp on the improvised rope and plunged to the sidewalk.

An investigation was begun here today by authorities of the university.

Direct "Homecoming."

Rome, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) Hamilton Yancey, Jr., has been designated chairman and Miss Anna Grham vice chairman of the general committee of "Home-coming week," October 10-16, by the directors of the chamber of commerce. They will choose assistants from the various clubs and organizations of the city and will start to work at once on this project.

IRISH TRI-COLOR WAVES IN PARADE ON FIFTH AVENUE

New York, March 17.—The traditional "wearing of the green" in St. Patrick's day parades on Fifth avenue, gave way today to the wearing the the green, white and yellow—the tri-color of the "Irish Republic"—in honor of Eamonn DeValera, head of the unrecognized government, who reviewed the 25,000 marchers from St. Patrick's Cathedral. The parade was a "free Ireland" demonstration, the like of which New York has never before witnessed. It also took on a "free India" aspect, for more than 1,000 representatives of that race marched with the sons of Erin.

While the colors of the Emerald Isle naturally predominated, the Stars and Stripes led the parade, followed by the "Fighting Irish 69th," now the 165th New York regiment. These veterans of the world war wore their overseas equipment and steel helmets. Wounded members of the regiment rode in automobiles.

Between the great gothic towers of the stately Cathedral floated the American flag and the tri-color of the republic. In addition to "President" DeValera, Governor Alfredt E. Smith, former Governor Glynn, Mayor Hylan, Archibishop Hayes, and a host of Catholic dignitaries were invited to the reviewing stand. Previous to the parade a pontifical mass was celebrated in the cathedral.

FLOYD REPUBLICANS ELECT DELEGATES

Rome, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) A convention of "old line" republicans of Floyd county was held this afternoon at the courthouse. Delegates to the seventh district convention, to be held at Cartersville Saturday, were elected, and also those to the state convention at Atlanta.

C. P. Coree is to be supported by the Floyd county contingent for chairman of the central committee; Henry Lincoln Johnson for national committeeman, and A. T. Atwater as one of the delegates from the state to the national convention in Chciago in June.

Delegates to the state convention are: A. T. Atwater, A. J. Spence, Dr. C. I. Caln, R. J. Johnson, E. M. Huggins and U. S. Hukabee Alternates: Will Batie, O. W. Weaver, Rev. W. H. Ferrell, H. D. Moore, Walter Spence and J. H. Gadson.

Owen Reservation Defeated.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, leader of the republican irreconcilables, proposed to add to the reservation a proviso that the United States would reserve "independent and uncontrolled power" in deciding what it would do, and at first Senator Lenroot accepted the amendment. Later, however, he withdrew his assent, declaring the change might eliminate all of the obligations assumed by the treaty, and Senator Borah withdrew his amendment and announced he would vote against the reservation.

In addition to the declaratory reservation and the two relating to Ireland the senate acted during the day on only two reservations. One by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, withholding assent to the British protectorate over Egypt, was rejected, 51 to 15, and one by Senator Owen, democrat, of Oklahoma, declaring the armistice terms still binding, was beaten, 55 to 12.

SENATE PREPARED FOR FINAL VOTE ON TREATY TODAY

By Robert T. Barry.

(The Constitution—Philadelphia Public Ledger Service—Copyright, 1920.)

Washington, March 17.—The senate prepared today for a final vote tomorrow on ratification of the treaty of Versailles, embodying the covenant for a league of nations. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge served notice he would keep the senate in session tomorrow night if necessary to reach a vote.

Should the vote come tomorrow the date will lack only a day of being four months since November 19, when the treaty failed three times of ratification. Very powerful efforts have been made in the meantime to bring about agreement among the eighty senators who favor ratification in some form or other. There have been all manner of compromise efforts. The volume of public, commercial and political pressure exerted on the senate cannot be overestimated. Yet the senate stands against ratification.

The prospect is for 15 republicans and about 25 democrats voting against ratification. The republican irreconcilables are stronger than ever in their opposition to involving the United States in what the president has undertaken tc establish as the new foreign policy of the nation. Standing with the republican bitter-enders will be two or three democrats who are opposed to the treaty even with reservations. The remainder of the democrats will be voting against the treaty because the Lodge reservations are unacceptable to Wilson because he holds them to nullify the covenant of the league.

With the defeat of the treaty, as their common purpose, the president's followers and his most bitter opponents in the treaty fight will be voting together.

The "strange bed-fellows" of the treaty debates will have their way. The two groups of extremists stand for directly opposite principles for a common aim, the defeat of the treaty. Both have been immobile before the frequent advances of public opinion. The president insisted upon all or nothing. He will get nothing. The irreconcilables wanted no treaty at all. They will get what they sought.

Approximately 55 democrats and republicans, representing the conservative thought of the country, are ready to vote for ratification. They have made mutual concessions to have the treaty. Many of them placed policy above politics.

Unable to Work

A Bad Cough, With Chilly Spells and Other Troubles, Kept a Rockdale Man From Work.

IS YOUR daily work a burden? Do you feel yourself losing strength, and your system declining in vitality?

While not really sick, you may be run-down, until you are pale, lack a hearty appetite, and feel nervous.

Then you will be interested in reading what Mr. W. S. Pugh, of Rockdale, Tenn., says: "I want to write a few words of praise for Ziron Iron Tonic. I was all run-down and had a bad cough with chilly spells, appetite was gone and I became unable to work.

"Seeing Ziron advertised, I thought I would try a bottle. After using it, I found it just as recommended. I am well again and at my regular work. I can recommend Ziron to any one as a system builder."

Many persons troubled with general debility, tired feeling, nervousness, loss of appetite, due to lack of iron in their blood, have found relief by taking Ziron Iron Tonic.

Admiral Declares Effort to Direct American Ships by Cable and Letter Was Dangerous.

Washington, May 17.—Again centering his fire at the navy department on his charages that it insisted on directing all war operations from Washington Admiral Sims told the senate investigating committee today that his urgent appeals for an adequate staff in London were ignored until November, 1917.

Admiral Benson, chief of operations, reached London during that month, Admiral Sims said, and quickly convinced himself of the "necessity for establishing a real advance base headquarters of the navy department abroad with an adequate staff to make possible full co-operation with the admiralty and co-ordinating all activities with the allies."

"I had been recommending such action for five months and specifically in my letters of May 16, July 16 and October 23, 1917, had pointed out the necessity for the establishment of such an advance base headquarters abroad," said Admiral Sims.

Changed Attitude.

After Admiral Benson had reported, the department changed its attitude, he continued, and a cable-gram to Benson, November 17, said a decision had been reached that it would be advantageous to have a permanent war staff in England to work with the plans department of the British admiralty.

"If this meets your approval additional officers will be sent to augment those already in England, who are fitted for this work," it said.

Admiral Benson then asked that Admiral F. H. Schofield and Commander Knox be ordered to report to Admiral Sims and Admiral Jellicoe for such duty, and this was done at once, Admiral Sims testified, while his own recommendations for nearly six months for the same action had been disregarded.

"It is hardly necessary to state that this is merely another instance of the attitude of the department during all those first critical months of the war," said Admiral Sims, "a recommendation I had been making for six months was not carried into effect until Admiral Benson, during his short stay in London, convinced himself that it was justified.

"The soundness of the policy was again demonstrated by the fact that the department adopted it and throughout the remainder of the war continued to recognize, though sometimese grudgingly, the necessity for what had been continually recommended, and which should have been obvious from the very first."

Continued Delay.

There was continued delay on vitally important recommendations because officials in Washington did not consider that sufficient information had been sent from London, Admiral Sims said. In many cases, he added, the necessity for secrecy or his lack of assistants prevented full reports. He read a cable from the department declaring it is essential that the department be promptly and fully informed of all operations of our vessels acting with the alllied naval forces." On his reply that all important operations would be reported, the department renewed its demand for detailed reports, he said.

"The department seemed disinclined to take any action or indorse any recommendations unless the fullest and complete legislation could be made, and this was extremely difficult, if indeed, not impossible," the admiral said.

It took four months to arrange a docking system for battleships abroad because of the department's insistance on details when it could have made all the arrangements "in ten minutes' conversation in Washington with the proper officers," the admiral declared, adding that arrangements were finally completed only after the armistice.

Admiral Sims was expected to conclude tomorrow his long statement, begun more than a week ago. He has not been interrupted by committee members during its presentation, and if his statement is concluded tomorrow, cross-examination probably will not be taken up before Saturday or possibly next week.

The admiral said that efforts to direct a large force of American ships and men by cable and letter from a point 3,000 miles away gave too many opportunities for misunderstanding of messages and for their interception by the enemy.

"The enemy secret service proved itself to be extraordinarily efficient."

MRS. J. A. STEVENS, OF ATLANTA, PRAISES IT

Declares That Pomeroy's Puratone Overcame Troubles of Four Years Standing.

"I will praise Pomeroy's Puratone as long as I live," said Mrs. J. A. Stevens, whose address is 74 Walton street, and who is employed as saleslady for the L. W. Rogers' stores. Continuing, she said: "My health had not been good for four years, and I don't believe anybody ever suffered any more than I did with indigestion and stomach trouble. Nothing I ate agreed with me, and I would have such awful smothering spells I had to sleep with my head propped up on four pillows in order to get my breath. I was so extremely nervous that at times I would become hysterical. I had intense pains around my heart that really frightened me. My sleep was so poor that some nights I didn't sleep over two hours. My health was rapidly failing, and I became greatly discouraged.

"This is just the condition I was in when I began taking Pomeroy's Puratone. I have taken only two bottles, and I am like a new woman. I have a good appetite now and eat anything I want and sleep all night without once waking. My nerves are perfectly calm again, and I feel just splendid. The indigestion is a thing of the past—in fact, I am now a well woman in every respect, and I give Pomeroy's Puratone the full credit."

Puratone is sold in Atlanta exclusively by the Jacobs' Pharmacy stores. It is also sold by one leading druggist in every town. If there is no Puratone dealer in your town Pomeroy & Co., Atlanta, Ga., will fill your orders at $1.04 per bottle postpaid.—(adv.)

SUFFRAGE OPPOSITION FADES IN DELAWARE

By T. F. Healey.

(The Constitution—Philadelphia Public Ledger Service—Copyright, 1920.)

Wilmington, Del., March 17.—Representatives of the National association Opposed to Equal Suffrage virtually have abandoned hope of preventing ratification of the national suffrage amendment in this state. That is grudgingly conceded. They fear the tremendous influence of Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, on republican leaders here, and the pressure on democrats from members of the Wilson administration.

The antis know that both big political parties look to Delaware to ratify the amendment and that the cards are stacked against them. They realize that the fight here is purely political, that is, it is not a suffrage and anti-suffrage battle as such. It is a contest between the republican and democratic parties for the prestige of putting over the thirty-sixth state in the union, with none of the leaders of either party willing to be responsible for its defeat.

The national women's party has ceased its propaganda work. It is not at all interested in meetings and demonstrations. Its officers are devoting all of their time to the business of keeping the leaders of the republican party in line. These women are not soliciting votes from the members of the Delaware house and senate.

Situation Satisfactory.

Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, head of the women's party in Delaware, has received assurances from T. Coleman DuPont, Delaware's representative in the republican national committee, that the "situation respecting the amendment is satisfactory." She has received similar assurances from Chairman Hays. The leaders of the democratic state organization, who have been urged to aid the amendment by officials of the administration, say the measure will be ratified.

Henry P. Isaacs, chairman of the democratic state committee, said today the republican majority in the legislature would ratify the amendment.

Governor Townsend is confident the amendment will be ratified. He has so informed Mrs. Hilles. The governor is daily receiving messages from labor and agricultural organizations throughout the country, urging ratification in Delaware. Today he received such a telegram from Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor. The telegram follows:

"The American Federation of Labor is in favor of woman's suffrage and the federal suffrage amendment and has repeatedly gone on record as officially indorsing the same. Urge you to do everything to procure ratification by Delaware legislature."

Negro With Barlow "Cleans Out" Bakery And Crackers Burn

A certain bakery in the city has a large supply of burnt crackers for sale cheap on account of the way in which Frank Kimball used a knife.

Kimball, a negro youth, was in the police court Wednesday charged with having run nearly everybody out of the bakery at the point of a knife which, the witnesses said, was big enough to stick a hog. Unfortunately, just as Kimball got his knife act under way, there were a large number of pans filled with crackers just ready to be taken from the range. When everybody fled and left Kimball "monarch of all he surveyed," the crackers were burned. The crackers, it was said, might be used for chicken food and can be bought cheap.

Kimball admitted the story and said that he got mad because another negro refused to do his work for a few minutes in the bakery. He was fined $16, which he paid.

Idaho Sentiment Divided By Palmer and McAdoo

Following is another of the special articles on the political situation in each state of the union, written in an impartial and non-partisan manner by Mr. Hollomon, The Constitution's Washington correspondent:

By James A. Hollomon.

Washington, March 12.—(Special.)—It was said that a beverage of memory made the great city of Milwaukee famous. Perhaps so. It is now said that a single member of the United States senate has made the great state of Idaho famous. Again, perhaps so! Certain it is that Senator Borah is one of the most talked-about men in America, and I am not sure that he is not one of the ablest, even if he is a minority in his treaty attitude.

But it is not Borah that this article is to deal with, but with politics in general in the state that Borah and the Non-partisan league made famous.

The latter cannot be ignored, for it cut up such a rumpus in Idaho politics two or three years ago that a subsequent machine legislature abolished their primary law in that state in order to destroy the vehicle that it seemed to be able to ride best. As the matter stands now there are about 20,000 non-partisan league voters in Idaho, but in nominating conventions they don't cut much figure, and in the general elections they are compelled to live unp with one or the other of the major parties, although they frequently split their ballots, voting for a republican in one place and a democrat in another, and so on. They do have statewide primaries—that is, county primaries all over the state—to choose delegates to the state conventions.

Conventions Nominate.

These conventions now do the nominating. This is the first year under this new law, hence the plan is yet untried. Just how it will work out remains to be seen. Botn parties, of course, handle the situation alike. At the county primaries the democrats chose delegates to the democratic state conventions, the republicans to the republican state conventions, etc. These conventions are to be held simultaneously the latter part of August, and the county primaries to name the delegates will be held thirty days preceding, or the latter part of July. There is a great deal of interest in Idaho as to just what may happen.

There are two exciting contests on, that for United States senator to succeed the encumbent, John F. Nugent, democrat, whose term expires March 4, 1921. Nugent, it will be recalled, is the only democrat in the delegation in either branch of congress, and was appointed by Governor Alexander, democrat, to succeed the late Senator Brady. This appointment was made in January, 1918, for the interim until the fall election of that year, and on November 5, 1918, Nugent was elected over his republican opponent for the balance of the unexpired term. He was indorsed by the non-partisan league, and this factor, holding at the time a balance of power, aided the organized democrats very materially in putting a democratic candidate over. Senator Nugent is a candidate for re-election, and at this writing has one opponent in his own party for the convention nomination. That is Chief Justice W. M. Morgan.

The Real Fight.

The real fight is being waged by former Governor F. R. Gooding, republican, who is the leading republican candidate for the nomination of his party, against two other republican candidates, who also aspire to the party nomination for the senate. They are Colonel L. V. Patch, of Fayette, a prominent business man who served overseas for two years as the commanding officer of the 146th regiment, and Captain Albert H. Conner, of Sawpoint, who also served overseas, was wounded in the Argonne, and was later connected with the judge advocate general's office in Washington. Both of these soldiers made excellent records. They were both prominent in republican politics in Idaho before the war, the former having been adjutant general for his state for several terms, and the latter having been speaker of the house. Just what figure the Legion of Honor is going to play is a problem.

In the meantime Governor Gooding is an old war horse. He made the race against Nugent in 1918. He is rich, being a banker and ranchman. He has served two terms as governor, and has been state chairman of the republican central committee. If he gets the republican nomination, and Nugent gets the democratic nomination again, which is probable, the race will be a notable one in the late summer and early fall months. There is reason to believe that the non-partisan league will again line up with Nugent by reason of the fight made on them in the legislature by Gooding when the primary law was repealed. Although it is only fair to say that organization men in both parties were interested in the repeal of the primary.

Governor D. W. Davis, republican, is a candidate for nomination. The present speaker of the house, M. A. Kiger, a republican, is also a candidate.

At one time Davis thought of running for the senate against Nugent, but later put the ambition aside for the present. There are no democratic candidates for the nomination for governor at this writing, though very probably will be before the entries close.

Congressional Situation.

In the two congressional districts the present incumbents, both of whom are republicans, have no announced opposition as yet. They are Burton L. French, of the first, who has been in congress about 14 years, and is now only 45 years old, and Addison T. Smith, of the second, who has been in congress eight years. Both of these members will very probably be returned.

The republican and democratic conventions to name delegates to the respective national conventions meet simultaneously on the 28th of April. The delegates to both conventions will go uninstructed, although, of course, efforts are being made to get delegation leaders favorable to specific candidates. There is a strong Johnson sentiment among the republicans by reason of the strong Borah following, but it is very probable the republican delegation will cast a complimentary vote for Borah, ready to follow it up if his name becomes a convention factor. Wood has the strongest organization in Idaho, and no doubt will get part of the delegation after Borah is eliminated. Geographically, of course, Borah is handicapped.

The democratic sentiment is divided between Palmer and McAdoo. On the whole the democrats are administration followers. The anti-administration following in the party organization is negligible.

In 1916 Idaho went for Wilson. The vote was 70,504 against 55,368 for Hughes. In 1918, however, Samuels, democrat for governor, only received 38,499 votes to 57,626 for Davis, republican.

Idaho is fighting territory for both parties.

ANTI-TRUST MEASURE APPLIES TO INDUSTRY

(The Constitution—Philadelphia Public Ledger Service—Copyright, 1920.)

Washington, March 17.—Industrial and business organizations which continue to operate the so-called "open competition plan" by means of market information exchanged among members will be subject to prosecution for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

This was made plain by the department of justice today as the result of the decision rendered in the United States district court at Memphis in the case of the American Hardwood Lumber Manufacturers' association. The court held that the practice of the lumber manufacturers in exchanging through a common secretary, reports showing their respective rates of production, stocks on hand and prices each member received on actual sales amounted to suppression of competition.

Tends to Increase Prices.

Judge McCall, who rendered the decision, concluded that the tendency of the exchange of such information was to increase prices, as the government had charged. The reports in question were referred to throughout by the hardwood manufacturers as "marked information."

If sustained by the supreme court, Judge McCall's opinion will have the effect of wiping out the swapping of trade information which has become common practice with the members of the majority of the business organizations of the country. It is the view of department of justice officials that discontinuance of the practice will have a marked effect upon prices. C. B. Ames, assistant to the attorney general, in charge of anti-trust prosecution said today:

"The proceeding against the hardwood lumber men was of a civil character, but the government considers that the law as applied in the case is clearly established.

"The members of other corresponding organizations will not be considered by the department of justice as entitled to conduct similar operations in the future because they may have filed papers in Washington, or because of other similar reasons. The department will, if necessary, institute proceedings of an appropriate character to enforce the law."

Notwithstanding the fact that affidavits of practically all the hardwood manufacturers asserted there has been no agreements between them to increase prices, Judge McCall said:

Combination Formed.

"It cannot be with reason denied that defendants formed a combination to promote the interests of the members of the plan by maintaining price levels, and it is difficult, if not impossible, on this record to escape the conclusion that the purpose and intention of the plan was to suppress competition among its members in the hardwood lumber manufacturing business wherein the production of hardwood lumber was to be kept low enough to matinain prices on an ascending scale, but not so low as to drive prices to such heights that consumers would be induced to use substitutes. These two objectives mark the margins of the channels through which the members of the plan conducted by its manager of statistics were to steer interstate commerce in hardwood lumber and through which it was successfully streerer on up to the filing of this bill."

REED IS NABBED ON WAY TO JOIN REDS OF RUSSIA

London, March 17.—A dispatch to The London Times from Abo, Finland, says at a preliminary hearing, and under cross-examination, the man arrested in a coal bunker of a Finnish steamer bound for Sweden, recently asserted his name was John Reed, and declared he was the editor of two newspapers in Oregon. The man, who previously had given his name as Casgormlich, and declared he was an American, said he had arrived in Russia five months ago, according to the dispatch.

A dispatch to The Times from Abo Monday, in announcing the arrest of the man on board a Finnish steamer, said he had English, American and German passports and diamonds and money aggregating a large sum. Also, there was found on him, according to the dispatch, soviet propaganda literature, cunningly prepared photograph films, reduced to the size of postage stamps, and a very small compass.

John Reed, editor of The Voice of Labor, said to be the party organ of the communist labor party in the United States, was indicted in Chicago along with a large number of alleged radicals last January, charged with conspiracy to overthrow the government by force, in violation of the state syndicalist act.

Previously he was reported to have sailed from New York on his way to Russia to join the bolsheviki. While in Russia, it was asserted, it was his intention to arrange for closer affiliation between the Russians and their sympathizers in the United States. Reed was born in Portland, Ore., and is about 32 years of age. He is said to be a close friend of both Lenine and Trotzky. In February of last year he appeared before the congressional committee at Washington investigating propaganda. In his testimony he defended the Russian soviet government.

Your telephone is more than a mere machine

THE telephone instrument is more than a mere machine. It has been very aptly termed "the implement of the nation." Perhaps no other agency is so intimately associated with your daily life or is so much used and useful in times of work and play, in times of joy and sorrow.

The telephone could serve you better if you knew it better. Associated with it is a maze of delicate equipment all finely adjusted to do the right thing at the right instant.

But behind the equipment stands an army of trained people whose lives are dedicated to service. Human minds and human hands create the impulse which makes your telephone an active instrument of service.

Such an implement improperly used can prove a source of annoyance; if properly used it can render a service of immeasurable value and convenience.

Often the spirit in which the telephone is used is reflected in your service. If you feel a distaste for using it or lack confidence in its ability to serve, this attitude is likely to discourage the human workers back of the telephone.

The service rendered by your telephone is the only known service that is measured in seconds. Under ordinary and normal conditions you have assurance of accurate service rendered within the space of a few seconds.

Today the conditions are far from normal, but the service is still measured in seconds by the users, while the efforts of those who serve are devoted to regaining the standards of the Bell System despite the obvious obstacles.

It would be helpful to you and to us if you would visit the central office and see the heart and the brain of your telephone. You could see where your line comes into the switchboard and you could watch the work of the operators who serve you.

You would find here no excuses for deficiencies in service, but you would visualize the congestion that slows down the service and witness the efforts of loyal, cheerful telephone folks to give you the best service possible under the conditions which will make you marvel that the service is as good as it is.

POSSE SEEKS NEGRO WHO SHOT OFFICIALS

Macon, Ga., March 17.—The hunt for Will White, Wilkinson county negro, who shot and seriously wounded Sheriff L. D. Player and Deputy Sheriff J. T. Dixon yesterday afternoon, was resumed today by a posse of 100 armed men. The wounded officers are at a hospital here and physicians say they have a chance to recover. The trail of the negro was followed all night. Rain destroyed the tracks and, although it was known he doubled back toward his home near McIntyre, he had not been captured at noon.

The officers were shot when they smashed a door and entered the home of the negro where he had barricaded himself, defying arrest on a charge of shooting at his wife.

VIRGINIA G. O. P. IS FOR LOWDEN

Following Stormy Scene, Delegates at Large and Alternates Are Instructed to Support Illinois Governor.

Roanoke, Va., March 17.—Following one of the stormiest scenes that ever attended a political gathering in this state, Virginia republicans in convention here elected tonight delegates at large and four alternates to the national convention in Chicago and instructed them to support Governor Lowden, of Illinois, for the presidential nomination.

Delegates at large selected were Representative C. Bascom Slimp, Joseph L. Crupper, of Alexandria, H. L. Lawson, of Floyd, and D. P. Groner, of Norfolk. Alternates named were H. B. Crockett, of Pulaski; J. B. Kimberly, of Elizabeth City; B. B. Wheeler, of Clifton Forge, and Mrs. M. M. Caldwell, of Roanoke.

The delegation was also instructed to suport Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, for the vice presidential nomination, motion for the Lowden and Anderson instruction carrying by a vote of 314 to 194.

Storm of Protest.

A storm of protest rose when the motion that the deelgation be instructed for Lowden was offered by Representative Slemp led by R. I. Roop, of Christiansburg, the opposition holding out for an uninstructed delegation.

When order had been restored Mr. Roop, declaring against an instructed delegation said he attended the national convention in 1908 as an instructed delegate and that he "knew of the evils of being pledged for a man who has not the following of the people."

Delegate Lou W. Summers, of Abingdon at this juncture arose and exclaimed:

"I rise to say that the men in this convention who are advocating an uninstructed delegation are jingling wood money in their breeches at this moment."

Mr. Summers' words brought a veritable howl of protest from the faction for uninstructed delegates.

Delegate Frank Munsey of Bland, accused Mr. Roop of being a "free booter sailing under a black flag."

This statement added to the heat, and Mr. Roop's followers started toward the section occupied by Mr. Summers and Mr. Munsey.

Cries of "Wrong, wrong," came from the Roop followers.

The chairman rapped for order, and delegate John Paul, of Rockingham, took the floor.

Mr. Paul was opposed to an instructed delegation. He was greeted with jeers and hissing.

"I don't believe you gentlemen realize," he said, "that the people of Virginia at this time do not know who they want for president. We should not, therefore, pledge our delegates to support anybody, in my opinion."

The heated debate continued for more than two hours, and a vote finally was reached shortly before midnight.

Following the election of delegates at large, Representative W. A. Rodenberg, of Illinois, addressed the convention. The keynote of his speech was "Americanism," in which he scored the democratic administration for what he declared was its "many failures in the past."

Platform Adopted.

A platform adopted tonight includes the following major planks:

Equal suffrage for women.

Ratification of the peace treaty with reservation that the United States not be obligated morally or legally to send soldiers to Europe without the consent of congress.

A policy of the government "keeping out of business" and allowing industry to thrive under private ownership.

Opposition to government ownership of railroads.

Establishment and maintenance of a merchant marine.

Good roads with a system of national highways.

Opposition to further governmental loans to Europe.

Reduction of taxes.

The creation of a national budget system.

ing the city tonight for Florida.

As we have no permanent secretary, and as Mr. Otis is out of the city, I am sending the minutes of the previous meetings to Mr. Louie P. Marquardt, vice chairman.

While deeply appreciative of the honor paid me in selecting me as chairman of the city planning commission, I have decided to tender my resignation in view of the fact that the commission's work will take a much wider scope than I realized and more time than I am able to devote to it.

Therefore, in justice to myself and the city, I hereby tender my resignation.

I have sent out notices of the meeting to be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and have requested Mr. Marquardt to present my resignation for acceptance at that meeting.

With assurances of my high regard, I am, very truly yours,

JOHN W. GRANT.

Mr. Grant is the fourth member to resign from the commission on account of the pressure of business interests. The other members were Mell R. Wilkinson, Oscar Elsas and Bernard Suttler.

Mr. Kerbey's Address.

The presence of Mr. Kerbey before the commission Wednesday followed a formal request from Mayor Key to the bureau of markets at Washington asking that an expert be sent here to advise Atlanta organizations in the proposed establishment of a municipal market. He was accompanied by an assistant, W. MacKenzie Stevens.

Mr. Kerbey and Mr. Stevens will remain in Atlanta for several days, during which time they will conduct a survey of the city and will place the result in the hands of the mayor.

A municipal market cannot be expected to become a panacea for the high cost of living, said Mr. Kerbey, but he declared that the establishment of one would unquestionably lower the prices of food through the stimulation of increased production.

Four types of markets were described by the speaker: First, the wholesale terminal produce market, where all shipped-in produce is centered; second, producers' wholesale market, where the larger farmers bring their produce in big lots, dispose of it and return to their farms for more; third, the curb, or open market, where the producer sells direct to the consumer; fourth, enclosed public markets, which, he said, is the most common type in existence, and which he intimated would be best adapted to Atlanta's needs.

The fourth type exists primarily for the consumer, said Mr. Kerbey, usually being built and owned by the city and divided up into stalls which are leased at a reasonable rental to the middleman. Here, where produce moves rapidly and where the rents are low, Mr. Kerbey sttaed that it is possible for the middleman to pass the savings on small cost of operation on to the consumer.

Must Be Co-operation.

But to establish any market at all, he continued, there must first be co-operation between the city where the food demand is created and the producers and potential producers in the country.

City markets are being operated with marked success in a number of cities, Mr. Kerbey pointed out, and called the attention of the commission as an example to the Wholesale Producers' market, at Rochester, N. Y. This market, he declared, has attracted farmers to the city with their products, and the country near the city has developed into a great truck growing district, and the housewives do not fail to take advantage of the lower prices obtainable for fresh vegetables and other edibles every day. New York and Chicago, he continued, are seeking similar solution.

Location of a municipal market, according to Mr. Kerbey, should be in the business district of a city, there serving most conveniently the greatest number of people.

Mr. Orme replied to this statement and said that in his judgment a central location suitable for a municipal market could not be procured in Atlanta for less than $1,000,000, making the cost of establishing one in the business district prohibitive.

While in the city Mr. Kerbey will consult with the Fulton county agricultural agent, with agents of adjoining counties, and will gather a mass of data in the city which he will leave for the guidance of the mayor and the planning commission in furthering the project of a municipal market.

The idea of such a market was fostered by the Atlanta Woman's club, whose members have been actively working on the proposal for many weeks. They have the indorsement of the mayor and the commission in their efforts.

Eugene R. Black reported that a committe,e of which he is chairman, appointed to draft a report stating the definite objects of the commission, had been unavoidably prevented from meeting and the report will be submitted at a later date.

Further progress by the committee on housing and public welfare in its study of the problem of providing more homes for Atlanta's families of small means was reported by John J. Eagan, the chairman.

In a brief talk, J. H. Ewing urged the raising of a fund of at least $100,000, sponsored by the city, the county and the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, to put the commission on an effective working basis. The question of finances will probably be taken up at the next meeting.

NO SMALLER TAXES UNTIL AFTER 1922

1918, under exemption to personal service corporations will approximate $12,000,000, involving 2,500 corporations, the secretary wrote, adding that the need for immediate legislation to meet this situation arose "not so much from the possible loss of revenue as the obvious undesirability of permitting 2,500 corporations and their stockholders to escape the taxes upon the corporations and those imposed upon individuals."

Exemptions on Incomes.

Chairman Fordney, of the house ways and means committee, commenting on Secretary Houston's suggestion for a flat tax to supplant the present graduated system, said the repeal of the $2,000 exemption granted under present income laws and the creation of a flat tax on all profits and incomes would result in lowering the average tax from 22 per cent to approximately 17 per cent.

"Present taxes are based on the disposition of profits," he said, "while under the proposed flat tax there would be a straight assessment regardless of the disposition of the taxable amounts."

Representative Kitchin, democrat, North Carolina, however, said the proposed change in the income and excess profits taxes would " switch the burdens from the war and peace profiteers to the little fellows, least capable of bearing the burden." Present tax laws have the approval of President Wilson, former Secretary McAdoo and congress, he stated, adding "they are working satisfactorily."

HUSBAND TRAILS ALLEGED AFFINITY

Zeberdee Gilbert, who trailed them to this city and has been aiding the officers in their search. Mr. Gilbert stated that he intends to take the little child back home with him. It is also understood that he is endeavoring to bring about a reconciliation with his wife.

Woods, it is charged, attempted to shoot Mr. Gilbert at detective headquarters with a 45 Colt automatic, which he successfully concealed from the officers in his cap when searched at the house upon his arrest. His peculiar movements with the cap attracted uneasiness on the part of the young husband, and his hand was seized. The cap fell to the floor and the gun rolled out.

Extremely nervous and exhausted from the grilling to which she was subjected by city detectives and federal agents, Mrs. Gilbert told a story of a wreched, unhappy married life; of her first acquaintance with Woods and their journey here. She stated she was going home to her mother in Raleigh, N. C., where her brothers and sisters also resided.

Attacks Her Husband.

"My husband has never treated me right; he has been so cruel and inconsiderate. When we moved into an apartment on Martin street, in Jacksonville, Woods also had a room there. There I first met him. He was sympathetic and courteous, while my husband treated me so cruelly.

"When we occupied the same room Monday night at 311 East Fair street, we both got down on our knees and prayed humbly and reverently for forgiveness, asking God to help us find a solution of our problems. Then, Tuesday night, he got me a room at another place, while he stayed at the Fair street house," she said.

"He told me he had done lots of things mean and bad in the past, and I told him he must—for his own sake, for his mother's sake and for my sake—reform, and he told me he would. And he will. It may be a long number of years before he is given the chance, but that boy is made of true steel, and he will make good."

Woods admitted complicity in the burglary of the jewelry establishment in Jacksonville last Sunday morning. He said his confederate "did the job" and divided the spoils with him. He said he had an appointment with his pal for 5 o'clock Sunday morning for the purpose of aiding him, but he was thirty minuates late, and his partner had already secured the loot.

FARMERS' QUIZ SHEET IS PRESENTED BRYAN

farm credit facilities, national conservation and maintenance of "free speech, free press and free assembly."

The committee already has listed nearly a score of active or prospective candidates to receive the inquiry and will add others "as each candidate, active or receptive, assumes that status. The list now includes Cice President Marshall, Senators Johnson, Uoindexter, Harding, Lenroot and Owen; Governors Cox, Sproul, Coolidge, Goodrich and Lowden, Major General Wood and Herbert Hoover.

There is no plan for interrogation of congressional candidates, but copies of the questionnaire will be placed in the hands of all members of the organization. Frequent reports will be on answers received from the presidential candidates.

Have Started Something.

"We have started something that we will stay with to the finish," Mr. Barrett said. "This questonnaire is a statement of principles, not a perfunctory inquiry as to where candidates stand on certain questions.

"It is not an exclusive platform. It is large enough to accommodate all honest citizens and all who indorse its principles are invited to aid in enacting them into law. This can be done if we have the right kind of president and are represented in congress by the proper sort of patriotic citizens."

The questionnaire is in the form of a letter asking the recipient to send "definite and clear replies" to 12 specific inquiries as to his views.

"Prosperity on the farm is the first condition of general prosperity," the preamble asserts. "Decline of agriculture is now and always has been the central danger to civilization. Agriculture is declining in America. If the general welfare of our people is to be safeguarded, the decrease in farm production compared with population and the impairment of the fertility of our soils must be stopped.

"In view of the power exercised by the president upon both the legislative and administrative branches of our government we believe that not only the forty million people who live and work on our farms, but all Americans desire and have the right to know in advance what they may count upon a candidate to do after election."

Text of Questionnaire.

The questionnaire follows:

"Will you do your best to bring about such direct dealing between producer and consumer as will secure to the farmers a fair share of the wealth they create, reduce the cost of living to the consumer and limit or destroy the opportunity of the profiteer?

"Will you do all that in you lies to secure to all farmers and consumers the full, free and unquestioned right to organize and to purchase and sell co-operatively?

"Will you see that the farm people of America are represented on general boards and commissions in whose membership various interests are recognized, whether or not the work is directly concerned with agriculture?"

"Will you appoint a secretary of agriculture who knows actual farm conditions, who is satisfactory to the farm organizations of America and who will cause to be made comprehensive studies of farm production costs at home and abroad, and published the uncensored facts?

"Will you take the action necessary to ascertain and make public all obtainable farms concerning the great and growing evil of farm tendency, so that steps may be taken to check, reduce, or end it?

"Will you do your best to secure improved personal and commodity credit facilites on reasonable terms for farmers?

"Will you earnestly endeavor to secure to co-operation organizations engaged in interstate commerce service and supplies equal in all respects to those furnished private enterprises under like circumstances?

"The railroads have been returned to their owners. If at the end of two years of further trial of private ownership the railroads fail to render reasonably satisfactory service to the people, will you then favor reopening the railroad question?

"Will you use your best efforts to secure the payment of the war debt chiefly through a highly graduated income tax or otherwise by those best able to pay?

"Will you earnestly strive to uphold and enforce the national conservation, and especially to stop forest devastation, which has already more than doubled the price of lumber and paper to the consumer?

"Will you do your best to secure and enforce effective national control over the packers and other great interstate combinations of capital engaged in the manufacture, transportation or distribution of food and other farm products and farmers' supplies?

"Will you respect and earnestly strive to maintain the right of free speech, free press and free assembly?"

BRINGS JOY TO SORE, TIRED FEET

Alborum, Used as Foot Bath, Reduces Inflammation, Relieves Soreness, Dispels Odors and Restores Feet to Healthy Condition.

Painful, perspiring, swollen feet, with corns, bunions and ingrowing nails, are all caused by germs which grow in the pores of the skin, causing decay of the cuticle, rawness, eczema, inflammation and odor.

These germs are instantly destroyed by Alborum, a cleansing, soothing, deodorizing and healing antiseptic and astringent. It draws out the inflammation and soreness, dispels the odor and quickly restores health to both skin and nails.

Ingrowing nails do not grow down into the flesh as supposed, but the flesh, being swollen, is pressed up over the nail. Alborum takes out the swelling and inflammation, destroys the germs and the trouble disappears.

An Alborum foot bath is made by simply dissolving a little Alborum in warm water. Get a package from any druggist for 35c. Alborum has many other daily uses as an antiseptic in the home.—(adv.)

BOLIVIA IS WARNED BY UNITED STATES

ceived no direct advices from Bolivia since Monday afternoon relative to disorders at La Paz, where the Peruvian legation was attacked on Sunday night. Reports from Bolivia received today from Guaqui station, on the railroad from the border to La Paz, stated the Bolivian government had seized all rolling stock and was replacing Peruvian employees with Bolivians.

General Ismael Montes, former president of Bolivia, is apparently in complete control of La Paz and has called out all Bolivian reserve troops. Details of troop movements, however, have not been received because strict censorship of land and cable telegraph lines has been established. Steamship serivce on Lake Titicaca has been suspended because it is feared the Bolivians may seize the steamers. It is rumored General Montes has carried out a coup d'etate in La Paz, but this report has not been confirmed.

Foreign Minister Porras stated today no communication had been received from the Bolivian minister in this city explaining the outbreak on Sunday night at La Paz. He said Peru was proceeding with prudence and caution, though the only information obtainable from Bolivia would seem to indicate active preparations under way there for an invasion of Peru.

URGES RATIFICATION OF TREATY OF PEACE

Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, head of the department of government of Harvard University, arrived at the Piedmont hotel last night where he will remain until tomorrow or Saturday.

Dr. Hart will address the students of Emory University today and the Loyal Order of Moose at its lodge meeting tonight, the subjects on which he will speak being America's position and duty in the present political world crisis. The doctor is on a half year's leave of absence, and will visit the Pacific coast and Hawaii before his return to Cambridge.

"I think it is a great scandal," said Dr. Hart, "that this government cannot ratify the peace treaty in some form without the long delay it has already caused. I do not think the fault lies so much with the senate as with the president in his uncompromising attitude on the reservations."

in general is expected to end all

"Neither Article 10 nor the treaty danger of war; the treaty may discourage small wars and provide an opportunity for arbitration and the consideration of peaceable negotiations, but it will not prevent great nations from resorting to arms. It will retard their quick determinations to declare war, because they will hereafter know in the beginning that world opinion is against them instead of knowing it at the end of the conflict, as was the case with Germany in the recent war. In view of this, it does not matter whether we ratify with reservations or not; the effect of the league will be assured if we only ratify.

Dr. Hart said he did not fear the spread of bolshevism or radical tendencies in this country because of the large number of farmers and small proprietors who would be detrimentally affected by those doctrines. France is in the same position as this country, he said but Russia and the smaller countries do not have many land owners and consequently accept radical ideas more readily.

"I believe that if the German people could have their unrestrained will," said Dr. Hart in conclusion, "they would welcome the return of the Hohenzollerns. As a people they are accustomed to autratic government and militarism, and they still believe that such a regime would be stronger than the republican rule which they are now trying out.

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy

You can save about $2, and have a better remedy than the ready-made kind. Easily done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

INFLUENZA CAN BE PREVENTED

Scientists Say Eat Wholesome Food, Get Eight Hours Sleep, Take Plenty of Exercise, Avoid Crowds and Don't Worry.

Keep the Liver Active, Kidneys Regulated and Blood Pure With Dr. Hitchcock's Liver, Kidney and Blood Powders

Do These Things and Your System Will Be Strong Enough to Resist the Influenza Germs

The great risk of contracting influenza is in not keeping the system in the proper condition to resist the "Flu" germs.

The beginning, when the "Flu" germs get in their deadly work, is when the liver becomes inactive and one gets bilious or constipated. Calomel, or other ordinary laxatives do not go far enough. What affects the liver also affects the kidneys and blood, and to put the entire system back to its normal resistive powers, you must treat the kidneys and blood as well as the liver

Dr. Hitchcock's Liver, Kidney and Blood Powders tone up the liver, stimulate the kidneys to healthy action, thus purifying the blood and increasing your germ-resisting powers. 25 cents at all druggists. Take as directed tonight, and it will straighten you out by morning. Guaranteed to please, or money refunded.—(adv.)

THE LINE-UP!

In view of the recent statement of Mr. Hoover that he is unwilling to declare his democracy, The Lawrenceville News-Herald warns the state against the mischievous agitation against the state committee, which, it says, is absolutely without excuse, "unless it is designed to terminate in a bolt from the organized democracy."

The News-Herald editorial is published elsewhere on this page, and nothing stronger has been written in defense of the action of the state committee.

Coming from a newspaper which was one of the first critics of the action of the state committee, the editorial of The News-Herald is of striking significance.

We also reproduce on this page today a strong editorial from The Thomasville Times-Enterprise which, like The News-Herald, has been several times quoted in criticism of the action of the state committee.

The Times-Enterprise now declares that the issue seems to be clearly between Palmer on the one side and Reed on the other, and in a contest of this kind it "awaits the decision with perfect confidence."

Newspapers in all parts of the state which have heretofore been misled by all this Hoover nonsense are seeing the light, and are coming out openly for Mitchell Palmer as the one man on whom the state can best unite to save it from the disgrace of indorsing Reedism even by a minority vote.

It was well enough for democratic newspapers to support Mr. Hoover on the assumption that he was an outspoken democrat. Several representative Georgia newspapers, and Georgia voters, were outspoken in their advocacy of Hoover when he was underwritten as a democrat.

But when he took the trouble to put the state on notice to the contrary, and when he loomed up as an aggressive candidate for the republican presidential nomination, conditions immediately changed.

Mr. Hoover is no longer a factor in the situation in Georgia.

A few newspapers and a few good citizens having gotten their feet tangled up in the Hoover fly-paper, now find it difficult to extricate themselves.

But one after another they are pulling away to find safe anchorage on solid democratic ground.

The situation in Georgia is just as The Thomasville Times-Enterprise says when it declares that "the presidential race in Georgia has practically simmered down to a contest between Palmer and Reed."

In a line-up of that kind there can be no doubt as to the attitude of the loyal people of Georgia.

It is now a question whether or not Kapp can cop the old Prussian throne by means of a coup d'etat.

It may afford Admiral Sims a measure of relief to tell what Germany might have done to the American navy "if" it had acted thus and so; and his recital of past possibilities may be pleasing to the administration-haters in congress. But just what good it is doing for the country is hard to figure out.

Holland expresses a desire to join the league of nations to enforce peace, but its determination to provide a haven for the arch enemies of peace puts its application in a rather unfavorable light.

THE POOLS AND FEES.

Councilman C. T. Bailey, chairman of the parks committee, is making a laudable effort to have the five public swimming pools in this city kept at the disposal of the public next summer without the payment of fees for their use.

He is experiencing some opposition from among his fellow-members, but it is to be hoped those who are in favor of the city's taxing every youngster who patronizes one of these public bathing places will see the error in their position and withdraw their objections.

The swimming pools were, as Mr. Bailey suggests, built with public funds and for the public welfare; and they should be maintained by and for the free use of the public.

There is no more justice in charging a fee for the use of a public swimming pool than there would be in exacting a toll for the use of the public school facilities, the courthouse or the state capitol.

J. Oscar Mills, chairman of the board of county commissioners, is quoted by Mr. Bailey as having informed him that—

"the county would not expend a single dollar in putting the Grant Park swimming pool in condition for opening unless the city would formally agree to make no charge of admission at any of the city swimming pools."

This is right! Public swimming pools contribute not only to the pleasure of the children, who are their chief patrons, but to the health and physical fitness of the community; and surely a city of Atlanta's size and resources and prosperity can afford to keep its pools open to its citizens.

A GOOD SIGN.

Announcement of the decision of President Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern Railway system, not to qualify for the government guarantee which, under the recently enacted transportation act, was offered for the six months following March 1, will attract nation-wide attention to the south as a substantial indication of confidence in the continued prosperity of this section. At the same time it is an evidence of the confidence which the Southern's chief feels in the rank and file of the great industrial army he heads, which should bring every man in the organization to his toes with determination to prove to President Harrison that his confidence was not misplaced.

Under the transportation act railway companies were offered for this six-months' period a guarantee, equivalent to the "standard return" which they received from the United States railroad administration during the period of federal control. For the Southern Railway company this would have been approximately $9,500,000, and for the four companies involved something over $12,500,000.

This was a surety not to be lightly viewed, but President Harrison did not hesitate to take the sporting chance. Quick action was necessary, as those roads which desired to take advantage of the guarantee were required to qualify for it by March 15. An interesting sidelight is that the decision was reached after a short trip through the heart of the territory served by the Southern. The evidences of business activity which he saw on every side convinced President Harrison of the outlook for continued and increasing prosperity.

For the time being the spotlight of European politics has been switched from the "Big Three" to the would-be big two: Ebert and Kapp.

Anyhow, the alien who forsakes us and returns to his homeland simply because he cannot get grog here leaves the country no worse off than he found it.

Speaking of "dangerous spirits" that produce deadening of the intellect, mental paralysis and the like, could not ouija be regulated under the Volstead act?

The German junker ambition to Kapp the climax in central Europe seems to have failed.

By attacking the Turks the Greeks may divert them from the murder of Armenians.

There's good reason for the revival of the old song—

"Spring, in the garden,
With a hoe in her han',
There's another hoe a-waiting
For you, young man."

If the income tax is off your mind there'll be room for a world of worries.

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

THE TEN GREAT MOVEMENTS.

In the Metabolism Symphony, by Brady, there are ten great movements and a couple of mere stunts. The earlier movements are all allegro and taken on the hoof, but as the theme unfolds and the bass of your heart thumping against your fourth rib joins with the reedy wheeze of your breath coming sharp and fast you naturally decide to lie down for the four movements of the grand finale.

There are twenty full beats for each of the first moveemnts, and ten for each of the horizontal, making just 200 beats to the whole piece, and believe me, children, long before the first gross of movemetns are finished the neighbors begin to wonder whether somebody is being murdered in your bedroom or the hired girl has got the asthma again.

Far be it from me to imply that the majority of business and professional people, including housekeepers in both categories, are downright lazy, but such is the sad truth. They are so plumb lazy that they don't absorb enough oxygen to keep life weaving on, and being half dead, they are constrained to try some kind of medicine or psychology in the hope of restoring life to their dead cells. Autointoxication, the high-class nostrum exploiters call this condition. Lack of pep the victim calls it. See the foregoing remarks for what I call it. The old-time patent medicine man ascribed this underoxygenation, slow metabolism, half-dead state to the liver. The liver was big and brave, but would never talk back. The high-brow exploiter of glorified cottage cheese today tells the Wisceheimer family that it is all due to nerve exhaustion, for which delightfully imaginable state his stuff is the proper "tonic." Well, every invalid or near-invalid to his taste. This is a free country, and no one is prohibited from making a simp of himself. In fact, every one is invited to do so.

The Metabolism Symphony grows more pleasing with long familiarity. I've been playing it over on my economy now for several years, gradually adding a movement or re-writing passages, until now I feel that it is the right music for that tired feeling. It takes me something less than fifteen minutes to play the entire piece through, and then I still have time for a few fancy rolls forward and backward, just to keep everything limber and free of kinks. But I am not a big fellow. A big fellow might need a little more time.

Through the interest of a lover of this kind of music we have just published ten thousand copies of this Metabolism Symphony, and every reader who wants a copy to try over on his old protoplasm will receive it with the compliments of this newspaper, if he will file his request, together with a stamped envelope addressed to himself (but not addressed "City"), with the blushing author, in care of this newspaper. Note (in G sharp): Not a toot for the reader who sends loose stamps or a blank envelope or an unsigned request. By order of Dr Brady.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Chocolate or Cocoa.

Does chocolate or cocoa dry up a person's blood? Also, does the craving for it, by an expectant mother, have any harmful effect on the child?

ANSWER—No. Chocolate or cocoa makes a wholesome, somewhat nourishing, mildly stimulating, and usually harmless beverage for any adult. Tea or coffee is slightly more stimulating, not nourishing in itself, and good for the health of most adults.

Children Show Good Judgment.

Can you suggest anything which will even partly serve the purpose of castor oil, something just as effective but not so disagreeable as castor oil? My children simply cannot take castor oil. (Rev. K. B. H.)

ANSWER—Your children probably inherit their good sense from their mother. There is no reason why any child should take castor oil—nothing but solid superstition. Aromatic syrup of rhubarb (U. S. Pharmacopoeia), formerly called spiced syrup of rhubarb, will serve every puprose of castor oil if given in the same doses.

A Fig for That.

I have been eating figs daily for constipation, with satisfactory results. But some say the seeds are injurious to the intestines. (F. A. P.)

ANSWER—Keep on eating the figs with their seeds. Seeds in fruits never do harm (to persons over six years of age) and often do much good.

Warding Off Flu.

Can you tell me some strong disinfectant I can keep in my room to ward off the flu and other diseases? I suppose carbolic acid is too dangerous to have around. (Mrs. W. H.)

ANSWER—There is no such disinfectant. It is a silly superstition exposing disinfecants to the air anywhere with any such purpose. Fresh air and sunlight will give the protection.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. Brady in care of The Constitution.

What Does This Agitation Mean?

(From the Lawrenceville News-Herald.)

The state committee had the legal and moral right, as well as the unquestioned power and authority to do just what it did, despite the facts that thousands of democrats in the state, who, from the very nature of the situation, had no voice in the matter, may have preferred a different ruling.

No democratic executive committee in this state has ever resorted to a plebicite to ascertain whether a majority, or considerable minority of the party desire an opportune presidential nomination, nor the presidential nomination nor called any primary election for that purpose, except a "white democratic primary."

Mr. Hoover has never, at any time, claimed to be a democrat, but, on the contrary, has recently given out a statement in which he said that he, "has always been a republican."

The Georgia democracy delegate authority to their state convention to speak and act for them, and to appoint an executive committee vested with legislative power and authority to prepare all rules and regulations for holding primary elections, and when it has performed that duty there is no forum having jurisdiction to pass upon an appeal from its judgment.

Does any Hooverite who is a democrat, have the temerity to say that the committee did wrong, violated any trust, or usurped any authority when it called a "white democratic primary" at which all democrats can express their choice between democratic candidates for president?

Does any democrat suppose that the state democratic convention that appointed the present executive committee intended to confer upon it authority to call any sort of a primary at which any candidate not an avowed democrat could be voted for?

Was it ever contemplated that the executive committee intended, by any rule, or regulation adopted by it, that the name of any person who is not a democrat could be put upon the primary ballot upon the petition of one hundred, or even one thousand voters claiming to be democrats, regardless of his politics, or antecedents?

Under such a regulation it would be an easy matter to find more than one hundred men in this state claiming to be democrats, willing to petition that the name of Alexander Berkman or Victor Berger be placed upon it.

By this we do not wish to be understood as questioning the party loyalty or integrity of the many democrats in the state who favor Hoover, or desire his name placed upon the primary ballot, but merely to show the possibility of having the name of an utterly unworthy person put in nomination as a fit and proper person for democratic voters to support.

There were thousands of true and loyal democrats who joined in the Hoover movement at the outset, under the impression that he is a democrat, but, since they have been disillusioned by his own declarations to the contrary, they are rapidly falling back into line, yet, unfortunately, some of them belong to that class in the human family who, having said "the horse was sixteen feet high," will stand by the assertion to the end.

Do any of these men believe that Hoover would decline the republican nomination for president by the national convention of that party to be held at Chicago in June?

That is what he is evidently angling for, but failing to catch that, "Bark is willing" to take one from the San Francisco convention, a little later on.

There is a stronger movement in the rank and file of the republican party throughout the country to secure his nomination at Chicago, than there is in Georgia to have his name placed upon the democratic primary ballot.

If he is chosen as the standard bearer of the republican party, and were to receive a plurality vote at the Georgia democratic primary, wouldn't the "dyed in the wool" democrats of the state be placed in a very awkward predicament?

In such an event democratic Georgia would send a delegation to the national convention to be held at San Francisco, instructed to cast its fourteen votes for the republican nominee?

Viewing the situation in this state as it is today, and sure to continue until the primary election is held in April, what justification can loyal democrats and newspapers offer for continuance of the agitation now going on, which cannot possibly benefit Hoover, but is very hurtful to the democratic party of Georgia.

If this situation is designed by the followers of Hoover to terminate in a bolt from the organized democrats of the state, then there is some little excuse for it, otherwise there is absolutely none.

Easier Now Than Then.

(From The Thomasville Times-Enterprise.)

It was Wilson and Underwood in Georgia before and now it seems to be Reed and Palmer. It's easier to take a choice than it was eight years ago.

State Committee Right.

(From The Lyons Progress.)

The state democratic committee acted exactly right in refusing to put the name of Hoover, the mugwump, on the presidential preferential primary ticket. There would be just as much reason in putting the name of Senator Lodge on the ticket as Hoover.

"The Jim Reed Type."

(From the Dublin Tribune.)

The people of Georgia realize that it is just through the Jim Reed type of statesmanship that the government of our country will be placed in a dangerous position and on a mooring which it has never rested. Georgians will hardly give serious consideration to anything the Missouri senator has to say, especially since he has been denounced by the people of his own state.

Big, Broad, Brainy Man.

(From The Walton Tribune.)

Of all the various aspirants for the democratic nomination for president, the name of Attorney General Mitchell Palmer strikes The Tribune most favorably up to this time. A big, broad, brainy man, a public official who has had the courage to do his duty under all circumstances and conditions and despite the threats and coercion of the lawless and disloyal—a citizen who illustrates the highest ideals of citizenship and a democrat who is not afraid to declare himself as such—these things and others of equal importance commend us to A. Mitchell Palmer, Pennsylvania's favorite son, who, by his attitude in 1912, showed that he "would rather be right than president," and helped swing the tide to Wilson when the honor was practically within his own grasp.

"Must Stick Together."

(From The Columbus Enquirer-Sun.)

Those of the south who would fall in their loyalty to the old-time democracy certainly must not know what this section of the country passed through in the latter 'sixties and early 'seventies, or their memory is very short. The old-time democratic organization delivered the people of the south from a condition that was intolerable.

But some may say that we must make progress, that we cannot afford to stick to the old things lest we stagnate. These people, if there be such, forget, if they ever knew, that if it had not been for the old-time democratic organization this section of the country would have been ruined. We are as much in favor of progres as anybody, but we cannot make progress by joining forces with the enemy. The democrats must stick together if they wish to accomplish results. Division will get us nothing.

Reed Vs. Palmer, Says The Telegraph.

(From The Macon Telegraph.)

Receipt by the state subcommittee of letters of request have officially eliminated from the lot of "petitions" on file, the names of all men suggested as candidates to be voted on save Mr. Palmer and Mr. Lansing. Before the date fixed for the vote, Mr. Lansing's name will very likely be also eliminated at his own request, inasmuch as there has never, anywhere, been the slightest indication on his part of arousal of interest in his behalf, or intimation of a desire that anybody take care of his candidacy down here. That, and other reasons.

Ex-Senator Hardwick's candidate's petition has not yet been officially filed, but there are such assurances that it will be in a few days as to relieve any apprehension among the Hardwick-Watson anti-administration clan that there will be any eleventh hour slip. Senator Reed is, to all intents and purposes, as much a candidate today, and in direct opposition to Mr. Palmer, as if the tickets were printed, and it is on that lineup the fight in Georgia will be fought. The Reed candidacy was brought to Georgia by Mr. Hardwick, and back of it, as a staunch supporter, Watson has announced himself. The plan of it is to be, plainly put, "damn the administration," and those who are sponsors and wetnurses for it are going to apply the red paint lavishly and as freely as liberties and not too deep encroachments on decency will permit.

Within these circumstances, therefore, the Palmerites of the state will be those people who find themselves in the position of being against those who are and have been "agin' the government." And it is with just this latter crowd in mind that Georgia is about to be furnished the high entertainment of watching Senator Hoke Smith extricate himself by what will have to be his greatest of all acrobatics in the record of his long political career.

"Palmer and Reed"

(From the Thomasville Times-Enterprise.)

The preisdential race in Georgia is practically simmered down to a contest between Palmer and Reed, a league or anti-league of nations fight. Reed takes the position that the peace treaty is vicious in its entirety and that it has no place in American life. He admits of no reservations that will make it sufficiently mild to become a part of our administrative procedure. Palmer takes the opposite position that it is good, in its entirety and as ratified by other nations or as reserved by the senate on certain phases of its operation should be ratified.

The issue is joined between these two. We who will have a preferential primary must choose therefore between the two. The treaty has been discussed so vigorously and so generally that it is hardly necessary to elaborate on its provisions or to argue its merits. The people of this state know what they want already and they are ready for the question. The treaty with reservations is our platform. It is the platform of the great majority of the people of the state since it seems that this is the only means of securing its ratification.

If Georgia goes for Reed it will be a distinct victory for Hardwick in this state.

Now Between Palmer and Reed

(John Hammond in Macon Telegraph.)

The organization of what will be the Palmer machine in Georgia got off on a very strong footing and undoubtedly will be followed by a genuine activity from this time on. The personnel of the meeting which launches his campaign in the state is a strong and a representative one.

By reasonable process of elimination, therefore, it would appear that at the outside there will be but two seriously considered names on the Georgia ticket. That, inasmuch as there has been no sort of activity or visible preparation in any other behalf. It is rapidly resolving itself, at this time, down to a straight contest between the national administration forces and the national anti-administration forces. The Wilson element will, of course, be made as much a dominant feature in the campaign as the anti-Wilson people can make it. United democracy will be the fighting ground on the part of the administration backers. The way is clearing fast for a straight fight between Palmer and Reed.

"I am a candidate of neither party and do not expect to become one," Herbert Hoover is quoted as saying to a Washington correspondent in a news story printed here last night. Mr. Hoover is further quoted as saying:

"I have not authorized the republicans of California to use my name on their ballot. I have told both the democrats and republicans of that state that I was not a candidate for president. I have used almost every negative expression in the English language trying to make this plain in California and everywhere else. I am not a candidate in California, in Georgia, in New Hampshire, or any other state. This I have tried to make as plain as language can make it.

"Should I authorize the use of my name on any ballot, naturally I would become a candidate, and I am not a candidate in either party."

This, coming immediately upon the heels of the telegram from Governor Edwards, directing that his name be not used in this state has attracted attention of and comment from certain influential members of the state committee.

"The matter of the use of Mr. Hoover's name had already been settled by him," said one of these gentlemen last night, "but the persistence with which a certain faction in Georgia has attempted to drive Hoover over even Hoover himself in Georgia continued nevertheless. The very definite statement from Mr. Hoover cannot do other than effectually and completely put the quietus on that agitation and ring down the curtain on the political barn-storming which they have been conducting the past few weeks.

"Inside of one more week, whatever else may develop, the whole Hoover affair will have ended and gone to sleep."

Who Ever Thought the Blamed Thing Would Act Like That?

The German Revolution

BY FRANK H. SIMONDS

Recent events in Berlin supply the final demonstration of the consequences of a full year of allied incoherence, weakness and blindness. A little more than a century ago Napoleon from Elba saw the Vienna congress degenerate into a group of quarreling nations, saw the unity which had brought ruin to his schemes disappear, saw the restored Bourbon monarchy lose all respect at home and become contemptible abroad. Seeing these things, Napoleon returned to France.

Unhappily for the great emperor, his return came too soon; had he waited a few months more not impossibly he would have found no real obstacle in his pathway, and he might even have obtained allies from the ranks of his enemies. Today the first question one must ask is whether the German reaction has come too soon. It is not a case of the return of an emperor; the old system, not the old figurehead, has reasserted control. So far the situation in March, 1920, differs radically from that of the Napoleonic era.

But on all other sides the parallel is striking. The Ebert government is an unpopular as was that of Louis XVIII., it has been equally impotent in the face of foreign politics, aggressions and intolerable abuses. It has failed to restore prosperity at home, to enforce respect abroad, it has been unable to transform the defeat of the "old gang" into a victory by its peace negotiations with the allies.

Single Hope Left.

A single hope now exists for the non-Prussian world. It may be that, like Napoleon, the junkers have struck too soon. It may be that the return of the militaristic control in Germanyy will serve to resore the alliance which has disintegrated in recent months. It may be that the British and American leaders, perceiving that they were wrong, and the French right, in their estimate of the European situation, will now take the steps necessary to break the German menace once for all.

But every American must recognize that the victory of 1918 is now placed in utmost jeopardy. The men who today control Germany are the men who made the war, they are the exponents of that policy of ruthlessness expressed in the submarine campaign and in the invasion of Belgium. Unless they are decisively beaten, unless their control of Germany is broken, then, in fact, the allied nations will have broken faith with their own dead and their soldiers will have died in vain.

A vigorous policy on the Rhine can restore the situation, a prompt demonstration that the allies stand together still on the issue of Prussianism may give courage to the anti-junker element in Germany. A defeat for the junkers may prove as disastrous to their cause in Germany as Waterloo was to that of Napoleon. Only success can justify the "old gang" who will hereafter bear responsibility for the loss of the world war, unles there is reversal of the decision of that struggle now.

But, if the British, the French, the Italians and the Americans remain divided, if questions of policy, mistaken humanitarianism, confusions of purpose, continue, then the Germans will of a certainty accept their old masters with the familiar Teuton docility, then resistance to the terms of the treaty of Versailles will be inevitable and alliance between Russia and Germany only one of the many evil probabilities.

The explanation of French militarism is now disclosed in the fact that the French estimate of the German situation was correct and the French demand for the maintenace of the Rhine barrier based upon an accurate appraisal of future probabilities. Not less justified is the French view of the Polish situation. On the French and on the Poles will now devolve the main burden of regaining the ground lost by British and American mistakes in recent months.

Americans and British Responsible.

Responsibility for the present affair must be equally shared by the Americans and by the British, who have refused to recognize the truth as it existed, sought selfish ends of their own, closed their eyes to unpalatable facts, contributed to damage the prestige of the whole alliance, and make difficult the position of France, face to face with the German menace and justly and correctly alarmed at the course of her allies.

On the military side the German revolution may have no real dangers. If Britain and the United States are ready to share in what must be a new demonstration on sea and along the Rhine. The junkers will watch for the first sign of allied purpose, so will the Ebert element, now driven out of power. If the same hesitations are revealed which have cursed the allied policy with respect of Russia, the same disasters will follow. The junkers, like the bolsheviste, will make good their control in their own country and an alliance between the two to overturn Europe will follow at no great distance.

We, the English and the Americans, have given the Germans the chance to win back the war. Despite their strength in numbers, the Germans lack the necessary mechanical equipment, the guns and munitions, the tanks and the air craft, to make a new campaign. Moreover, the destruction of their fleet and their shore defenses places them at the mercy of the British fleet, while a renewal of the blockade promises immediate economic paralysis and proximate famine.

But having the weapons in our hands, it remains necessary that we should display the courage to employ these weapons. If the poison which has been generally poured forth in recent months, the effort to justify Germany and to credit the alliance, has been as successfull as the German junkers believe, then allied policy will be incapable of action, allied weapons will be useless, and we shall be back in the days of 1914, with the terrible sacrifices and magnificent victories of the war gone for nothing.

Firmness Necessary.

But firmness will strike at the single real asset of the junkers. If the German people have turned to them, now, it is not with any desire to fight a new war, but because they have been convinced that allied impotence will produce allied surrender, once Germany speaks in the old tones and through the old leadership. To demonstrate the fallacy of this assumption must be the first purpose of the allied nations. Not alone their own safety, but the possibility of a democratic and peaceful Germany depend on what is done in the next few days.

A century ago the allies, at the critical hour when Napoleon returned from Elba, announced that they would not deal with the emperor: not only did they announce this, but reordering their divided ranks, they set their armies in motion and the end was Waterloo, which was the graveyard of all the Napoleonic hopes and the end of all the faith of the French nation in Napoleon himself.

When the German people discover that the return of the junkers means, not a reduction of the peace terms and the restoration of Germany to her old position, to her old place in the sun, they will be as little ready to rise en masse as were the French after Waterloo. If the consequence of the present revolution is the further discrediting of the Ludendorffs and their kind, if the German people recognize once for all that such leadership means only new invasion, new sacrifices, new privations, then and then alone the peace of the world will be assured by the fact that the German dream, like the Napoleonic, will be abolished.

But today all the countries which fought against Germany must recognize that their victory was indecisive and is now called into question. The "old gang" which made the war, which gave the war its character of savagery, are again in the saddle, and they will remain in the saddle to repeat their old crimes and to preserve the old and evil traditions of their caste, unless the allies are ready to act promptly and unhesitatingly.

The diplomats have spoiled the victory, the triumph of the soldiers has been spoiled by the statesmen, we have lost the peace, having won the war, unless in the present crisis, the most acute for the world since the days of the Ludendorff offensive of 1918, the allied nations, forgetting their quarrels over Fiume, the Saare, the Arabian lands, dismissing the idle gossip of the economic and moral "experts," strike hands again in a compact to complete the job.

The German has waited his time, he has struck at a promising moment. The disarray of the allied forces at least warrants a hope that he may regain all that was lost, and that the world may lose all that was won in the four years of terrible war. In any event, the true solution of the situation now lies in the hands of Foch; it is for him to prescribe action and for the statesmen who have sabotaged his victory to stand aside.

Today's Talk

Folded Hand-ers.

It is remarkable that the world advances as fast as it does, with all the sitters-still about.

A lot of those who are in jail should be out, and a lot of those who sit with folded hands and warm soft seats should take their place.

For five years, nearly, the productive areas of the earth and of men's minds were busy tearing down what it took centuries to build. And now with more work in the world than ever before, there are more sitting around with folded hands than in all the history of the world.

Now is not so much a time to reflect as to—work!

There is so much to do, and comparatively so little being done. Each of us must put his hand to the wheel, and with alertness try to guide affairs aright.

We are all important, so long as we work and produce.

I like a man who takes an interest beyond those nearest and dearest to him. He who sees in the betterment of his town and state and country, a real chance for him, is the good citizen.

I am glad that women are being given the opportunity with men to better the affairs of the world. Too many have been wound with cords that bound them to inactivity. Their fine minds and large sympathies will make men more capable.

There is so much to do—and there are not enough to do all the jobs.

But things will daily grow better, if those who now sit with folded hands will only get up and get to work.

And the more people there are working, the less dissatisfaction there will be and the largest measure of happiness all around.

One Year Ago Today
Britt Craig Entered Upon Great Adventure

The calendar over the state news editor's desk in a corner of The Constitution's editorial department is sadly lacking. In red numerals it records days which are set apart from other days in memory of distinguished men, men who have left an imprint on the affairs of the nation, or men who have warmed the hearts of simple folk. But it fails to record that on March 18, one year ago today, Britt Craig entered upon his great adventure. His life was snuffed out by pneumonia as a gust of wind winks the flame from a tallow candle. And it seems strange that even a calendar in The Constitution's office could forget.

Today many men in many newspaper offices will remember. Flowers will bloom again over the grave in Gainesville, where he is buried. Many will halt a moment to pay tribute to his memory, for he warmed their hearts. Like few mortals, he possessed power to touch that chord of nature which makes us all kin, the weak and the strong, the righteous and the dammed. Lines of type impressed on paper can never express what those who knew him intimately would say if they could translate emotion into speech.

Perhaps his Number Tens left no print on the sands of time, but his spirit left an indelible impression on many hearts. So only The Constitution's calendar, which has no heart, has forgotten. And perhaps if it were an older calendar it, too, would remember. Who knows?

CITY GOVERNMENT CALLED ARCHAIC

Chamber of Commerce Speakers, Urging Need of Change, Contrast Atlanta System With Other Cities.

Atlanta"s resources are sufficiently large to take care of her needs, but the present system of government, "archaic and inefficient," does not allow of a just and careful distribution of the funds available, according to various opinions expressed Wednesday afternoon at the group meeting of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

The fact that other cities, operating on less financial output than Atlanta, served a large area and provided for facilities far excelling apy Atlanta now offers, were vouched for by a number of the members of the chamber who took part in the discussion of Atlanta's future at the Wednesday afternoon meeting, presided over by Hervey Laird.

Alderman Harry Goodhart presented figures to the gathering which were compiled by the government, and compared Atlanta's financial condition, under her present system of aldermanic government, with that of Birmingham, operating under the commission form.

"Birmingham, in 1918," said Mr. Goodhart, "was credited with a population almost as large as that of Atlanta, and the various departments of the city government served an area twice as large as that of this city. Despite the fact that practically a similar need was felt in each city, Birmingham operated her affairs on an expenditure less than half as large as that required by Atlanta.

Mr. Goodhart quoted figures tending to demonstrate the higher efficiency of the administration of Birmingham's affairs, as pitted against Atlanta, handled "under a system modeled fifty years ago, and which has not been brought up to the standards required of it with Atlanta's growth."

The need for better streets, better schools and many other things which have been stated from time to time as urgent to Atlanta's advancement, said the alderman, are subservient to the acquirement of a new city charter.

New Charter Needed.

"A charter," said Mr. Goodhart, "which will give Atlanta a businesslike, efficient form of government, and one not subject to the petty political machinations, bickerings and various inefficiencies that are so evident with the present method of operating the city's affairs, is needed."

Mr. Goodhart said that there was no question that Atlanta needed bond issues for her school and street improvements, but he said that the fact had been demonstrated that these large bond issues could not be passed before the Atlanta citizens were given a government in which they had the utmost confidence.

"It's not the 'city hall crowd,' so-called, that is subject to criticism," he continued. "It's the system under which they are forced to operate and the thousand and one disadvantages they are forced to bear. They do the best they can under existing conditions, and it's up to the people of Atlanta to change the conditions, so that the city can advance."

Mr. Goodhart also said that there would certainly be objections to a change in the city's charter, because of the fact that many people liked the political business which the present form of government inspired, and would hate to give up their ward political prestige.

W. G. Manley, of the Bankers' Trust company, said that the people should be apprised of the careless manner in which the city's affairs were conducted, and that they would demand a change in the government when they were shown the faults.

Police Departments Compared.

Among the features of the figures introduced by Mr. Goodhart comparing Birmingham and Atlanta were those in regard to the police departments of the two cities. Birmingham serves with police protection an area twice as large as Atlanta's, he said, but spends an annual average on this of something over $200,000, while Atlanta requires the expenditure of over $400,000.

Other interesting figures showed that the commission form of government had so far systematized Birmingham's expenditures that her street cleaning department operated at a yearly cost of $111,000, while Atlanta's called for an annual output of $587,000.

Another objection to Atlanta's present form of government, which was called to the attention of the meeting, was that its system permitted of too many elective offices, to be filled by political influence and preference, rather than by merit, as was possible under the commission, or city manager, forms of government.

In his introductory talk, Mr. Laird, the chairman for the afternoon, said that the opinion of the 3,300 members of the chamber of commerce was desired in the outlining of the program of work for the coming year and explained that this was the purpose of the group meetings.

Forrest Adair said that Atlanta's duty was to wake up to a realization of the duties that confronted her, and co-operate for the securing of the things she needed. The tax system, said Mr. Adair, was too widely separated and threatened to become even more widely so, if the school board were allowed to levy taxes separate from the other taxes of the city, county and state.

Nat Kaiser said that the taxation system seemed to him to be at fault in that it did not exact payment according to the income realized from the various properties in the right proportion, and that he believed steps should be taken to correct this injustice to owners of real estate.

Mr. Kaiser also said that Atlanta was "small-townish" and fanatical in the matter of its Sunday laws, and did not allow enough innocent and harmless amusement to the people whose only day of rest and rereation fell on Sunday.

Councilman W. D. Hoffman also spoke of the need of a revised charter for the city, which would put its affairs on a business basis and "set aside all the manifold petty personalities and jealousies" which obsess the city in her present form of government.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE OF METHODISTS OPENS

The district conference of the south Atlanta district opened Wednesday morning in Pleasant Valley A. M. E. church. Rev. L. A. Townsley, presiding elder, who made the opening address, said the district was in advance of previous years and its various churches were in a prosperous and spiritual condition.

Bishop J. S. Flipper made the principal address on "The Minister Entering a New Charge." Revs. J. A. Lindsay, C. G. Gray, E. N. Martin, W. C. Davis and Ed Lowe were appointed chairmen of committees which will bring in written reports which will cover every phase of the church work. Splendid reports were made by every minister in the district. The conference unanimously indorsed the return of Bishop Flipper to the district for the next quadrennium. Addresses were made by Revs. H. D. Canaday, J. A. Hadley, P. G. Simmons, T. J. Linton, John Harmon and President B. R. Holmes of the Holmes Institute. Rev. E. N. Martin preached the annual sermon. Rev. John Harmon was indorsed for the editorship of the Southern Christian Recorder to be elected at the general conference which will convent in St. Louis in May, 1920.

WILLIAM B. AHLGREN TO PRACTICE LAW HERE

William B. Ahlgren, one of the younger members of the local bar, and for a number of years connected with the government service, has resigned from the position of chief accountant of the Atlanta federal vocational board, effective March 15, to engage in private law practice. He will have offices with the firm of Weltner & Cheatham, in the Peters building, and will specialize in commercial practice, patent law and federal tax procedure.

He is an honor graduate of the Atlanta Law school, where he won the Hamilton Douglas gold medal in the annual edbating contest, and of the law department of Georgetown university, Washington, D. C., where he received the post-graduate degrees of master of laws and master of patent law. He served as assistant secretary of the United States civil service commission through the war period, later joining the staff of the vocational board.

BAPTIST LEADERS WILL MEET TODAY

Executive Committee of Georgia Convention Will Be in Session at the First Baptist Church in Atlanta.

The executive committee of the Georgia Baptist convention will be in session at the First Baptist church in this city today. This is the second regular meeting of this committee under the reorganization of the machinery of the convention. The first meeting was held in Atlanta, December 30, at which time it formulated the plans for the year and set up a number of new movements for the denomination.

The committee is composed of 51 prominent ministers and laymen of Georgia. A full attendance was recorded last night at the Winceoff hotel, which is headquarters for the meeting. Dr. Arch C. Cree, secretary and treasurer of the committee, stated that the program today would keep the committee busy and that the body would stay in session except for luncheon, which will be at the Winceoff.

The work of the convention is represented through this commission in special committees. The administration committee, of which Dr. Charles W. Daniel, of Atlanta, is chairman, is charged with the direction of the executive matters of the denomination. The mission committee, Dr. C. W. Minor, of Americus, chairman, is working out an extended program of missionary endeavor for the Baptists of this state. J. P. Nichols, of Griffin, is chairman of the benevolence committee. This is one of the busiest committees of the commission. The educational system of the denomination has been reorganized and the special committee has a number of important matters to report today. Dr. Solon B. Cousins, of Columbus, is chairman of this committeee.

The officers of the committee are: President, Judge Andrew J. Cobb, of Athens; vice president, Dr. John D. Mell, Athens; recording secretary, Dr. B. S. Railey, Atlanta; executive secretary, Dr. Arch C. Cree.

The members of the committee are Andrew J. Cobb, Athens; J. M. Dodd, Carrollton; H. W. Gaines, Atlanta; F. L. Hardy, Newnan; J. M. Haymore, Waycross; Ed Jarman ,Baxley; C. W. Minor, Americus; A. J. ROSCOE PICKETT SAYS STATE G. O. P. SOLID FOR WOOD

Former State Senator Roscoe Pickett, of Jasper, chairman of the republican executive committee of Georgia, who was in Atlanta yesterday, declared that Georgia would send a Wood delegation to the Chicago convention in June. Mr. Pickett had just returned from the eighth district convention at Athens, at which he said the candidacy of General Leonard Wood had been overwhelmingly indorsed. Dr. W. H. Harris, of Athens, an enthusiastic Wood man, was named as the eighth district delegate to Chicago.

Mr. Pickett added that the ninth district executive committee had unanimously indorsed General Wood. Other districts throughout the state would undoubtedly follow suit, he declared, and Wood would have the solid support of the Georgia delegation.

When asked about the division in the ranks of Georgia republicans, Mr. Pickett replied the progressives were rapidly coming back into the "regular" ranks, and he expected Georgia republicans to show a unanimous front by the date of the national convention in June.

Jasper Puts "Wood" Upon His Alcohol As a Preservative

Old Jasper Stokes' secret about how to make corn whisky last a long time was exposed when his wife had him run in by the police to save him from an untimely death.

"Aunt" Hannah, Jasper's wife, discovered a few days ago that the old man was getting on an unusual quick and hilarious jag, and she trailed him about the house to see where he kept his supply of liquor. She found a gallon tin can nearly full, and it bore a card which was labelled:

WOOD ALCOHOL.

"Lawd hab mercy!" she cried. "Jasper, you sho gwine die."

She called in the police to have him, so she said, "amberlanced ter de horsepital." The police let Jasper sober up in a cell and then hailed him before the recorder. When the story of the can of "wood alcohol" was told, the recorder said:

"Look here, old man, don't you know that wood alcohol will kill you?"

Lowering his voice to a husky whisper, the old man said:

"Dat warn't no wood alkerhol, Jedge Johnson. Hit was good ol' corn licker, an' I jest put dat sign on de can ter keep udder folks from drinkin' hit up. I lowed ter hab er jag fer er week, an' den had some licker ober."

"That was a slick trick," the recorder told him, "and you will have to tell it to a jury, as I am going to hold you on a $100 bond for violating the prohibition law."

WEST END CITIZENS WILL MEET TONIGHT

Several important matters will be taken up in the meeting of the Citizens' League of West End tonight at 7 o'clock in the Lee Street school. A community newspaper for West End will be discussed and arrangements to establish the paper will be made in this session.

At a previous meeting of the league a committee was appointed to investigate the Battle Hill school, which was declared to be a firetrap, which should be condemned for use as a school building. This committee will make its report on the condition of the building.

John Smith Sentenced.

John Smith, 18 years old, figures he is going to like sunshine and hard work for a year, at least. And Judge Humphries, of the criminal court, believes the combination will eradicate certain alleged kinks in John Smith's system. Smith was accused of an automobile theft, and the judge sentenced him to work on the farm of his stepfather near Conyers. In addition to the sentence, there was a fine of $250.

DEFENSE CLOSES CASE IN NEWBERRY TRIAL

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 17.—Martin W. Littleton, of New York, today closed the case for the defense in the Newberry election conspiracy trial, pleading for some three hours with the jury which is to decide soon the guilt or innocence of Senator Truman H. Newberry and other state political leaders. As originally planned, Mr. Littleton was to have had the afternoon session clear for his effort, but the tactics of the government counsel Monday and the insistence of James W. Helme, democratic defendant, on a full measure of time for his own argument, disarranged this plan.

The final summing up of the government started this afternoon with Frank C. Dailey, special assistant attorney general in role of last orator. It is understood that unless Mr. Dailey concludes by tomorrow noon, Judge Sessions will not instruct the jury until Friday morning. This would put the case in their hands at about noon that day.

FEDERAL HEARING ON BANKERS' SUIT SET FOR APRIL 23

Hearing in the case which has been instituted by the Country Bankers' Association of Georgia to test the legality of the universal par clearance ruling of the Sixth District Federal Reserve bank, has been set for April 23, in the federal court of the northern district of Georgia, in Atlanta.

Judge Beverly D. Evans, of the southern Georgia district, of Savannah, will hear the case, he having been chosen after Judge Sibley had declined to serve on the ground that he is a stockholder in some of the plaintiff banks.

Both sides have made motions in this case. The petitioning bankers have asked that the case be remanded back to the state courts, claiming that, despite the ruling of Judge Ellis, of the Fulton superior court, it is rightly a matter for the state courts to decide. They claim that the state banks are involved, which do business under the Georgia state banking law, and also that in this instance the federal reserve is concerned as a bank doing business in the state.

The federal reserve has made a motion to dismiss the case, and Judge Evans has called a hearing on both motions.

It is expected that counsel representing the State Bankers' associations in Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Tennessee and other states in the sixth district will all be present.

The petitioning banks are represented by Alex W. Smith, of Atlanta, counsel for the Country Bankers' Association for Georgia, and by Orville A. Park, of Macon, counsel for the Georgia Bankers' association, which organization has joined with the country bankers in the issue.

Registration of 22,000.

A registration of 22,000 voters in the county presidential primary is indicated by the volume of business up to date, according to Registrar Lucien Harris. Mr. Harris said he would not be surprised if the list contained 25,000 names by next Saturay, at which time the total will be announced. Twenty-two thousand will be the greatest registration in the history of the county.

Polk Taxes Settled.

C. B. Nettles, tax collector of Polk county, yesterday made his final settlement with the comptroller general of taxes collected for 1919. Mr. Nettles was charged with the collection of $37,155.20, of which only $726.44 were charged off for insolvent, general and poll taxes.

WIFE SUFFERING FROM AMNESIA, BELIEVES HUSBAND

Believed a victim of amnesia, Mrs. Fay Covington, wife of Frank Covington, guard at the United States penitentiary, is being sought by the police. She has been missing since Saturday afternoon.

The Covingtons live at 682 Washington street. Covington said Wednesday his wife had apparently been normal until about two weeks ago, when an acute nervous condition became apparent. She was examined by a noted alienist in Atlanta and the husband was assured Mrs. Covington had an even chance for recovery. He was advised to remove her to the country and had planned to take her to the home of her sister, Mrs. B. L. Allen, in Saluda, S. C.

She was last seen emerging from the Austell building. She wore a black straw turban, a long black cloak trimmed with a velvet collar and velvet cuffs, and beneath her cloak wore only house clothing, a white middy blouse and a black skirt. She is described as being apparently about 35 years old, weighing 160 pounds, with light brown hair, fair complexion and blue eyes.

Mr. Covington has asked that any information regarding her be forwarded to him at the penitentiary or at his home.

PARADE POSTPONED BY GA. TECH REGIMENT

Due to the inclemency of the weather, the band concert and military maneuvers of the three battalions composing the Tech R. O. T. C. regiment, which are held every Wednesday at Grant field, were called off yesterday. The same program scheduled for yesterday will be held next Wednesday at 4 o'clock at Grant field.

Christian Council Meets.

The First Congregational church will act as host to the Christian council of the colored churches this evening at 8 o'clock when this body meets to appoint the permanent commissions and decide upon regular meetings for the month. Since the installation of the officers and the adoption of the constitution the organization is in good way to do some very effective work for the community.

SERVICES ARE HELD FOR MRS. MARTHA BELL

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Bell, 82 years of age, pioneer Atlanta woman, who died Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Wallace, 137 Chapel street, were held Wedensday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Mount Harmony church, Rev. R. J. Hupp officiating. The burial was in the churchyard. Mrs. Bell had been ill for about seven years prior to her death.

Born on McDaniel street, Mrs. Bell has spent all her life in Atlanta. During the war between the states she converted her home into a hospital and gave her services faithfully to the nursing of the sick and wounded.

Mrs. Bell is survived by her daughter; one son, J. L. Cochran, of Austell, Ga., and one brother, J. A. Wade, of Mapleton, Ga.

PURCHASE THE STOCK OF CANDY SALES CO.

One of the largest purchases of candy ever made in Atlanta took place Wednesday when a representative of the A. A. Broger department store, of Baltimore, bought out the entire holdings of the Candy Sales company, amounting to 105,000 pounds.

Two expert candy inspectors made an inspection of the goods, which were found to be in perfect condition. The candy, amounting to four carloads, will be shipped immediately to Baltimore and placed on sale.

"Cluster Solitaire" Diamond Rings

At the present high cost of solitaires—which are steadily advancing in price—our "cluster solitaires" are in great demand.

These new and popular rings are made under a patent secured by our Cincinnati factory. Seven small, fine white and brilliant diamonds are closely assembled in a platinum disc—with a pointed platinum basket beneath—to give the effect of a large solitaire.

A "cluster solitaire" at $145.00 has almost the same effect as a solitaire costing $1,000.00.

These "cluster solitaires" are made in Rings, Scarf Pins, La Vallieres and Ear Screws.

Shower at Nurses' Club

A miscellaneous shower, from their friends on the outside, will be an interesting feature of the reception which will mark the formami opening of the Atlanta registered nurses' new clubhouse, Saturday, March 20. There will be a bright musical program from 2 until 5 o'clock. Miss Velma Purvis will be the pianist. Miss Helena Douglas the soloist, and the Griffith Guitar and Mandolin club will play. Solomonoff, the Russian dancing master, will present in interpretative dancing three of his pupils, Misses Anne Falkner, Katherine Jones and Virginia McRee.

There will be a dancing party in the evening.

Argentine Club Dance.

The regular semi-monthly Thursday evening dance of The Argentine club will be held this week on the evening of March 18, at the club's hall, Segadlo's, on East Pine street.

Dancing will be enjoyed from 9 until 12 o'clock by about seventy-five couples of the dancing club set.

On Sunday afternoon, March 21, a smoker and general get-together meeting will be held for the members only at the downtown clubrooms, 201-202-203 Gould building, and each and every member, active and inactive, is most cordially invited to be present.

WHAT IS "SPRING FEVER"?

Be Fair With Yourself.

LOOK TO YOUR BLOOD

Take Pepto-Mangan, That Famous Blood Tonic. Sold in Both Liquid and Tablet Form.

Feel fit this spring. Feel as fine as the weather. Don't drowse and dose over your work, lose valuable time, or blame yourself for a condition that with many people is as inevitable as Spring itself.

Remember how in the old days they took sulphur and molasses? That was to clear up the blood. For in the Spring the blood is likely to be sluggish, weak and clogged with poisons. It needs help.

Why be handicapped unnecessarily? Why not be vigorous and red-blooded, full of "pep" and enhusiasm?

Pepto-Mangan is a blood tonic—a blood builder and purifier—that has become a standard in the past thirty years. Prescribed by physicians when people are run down and anemic.

Give the children Pepto-Mangan. They, perhaps, need it the most. To safeguard their health, and because Spring days are important ones in the school year. "Spring Fever," remember, is real, not fancied, and is usually due to sluggish, impure blood.

Your druggist has Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form, just as preferred. Equally effective. Make sure you get genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and look for the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," on the package.—(adv.)

LET "DANDERINE" SAVE YOUR HAIR

Get rid of every bit of that ugly dandruff and stop falling hair

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After several applications all dandruff usually goes and hair stops coming out. Every hair in your head soon shows new life, vigor, brightness, thickness and more color.—(adv.)

Brides' Ball Friday Night.

The Brides' ball to be given Friday night at the Capital City club is attracting much interest and from the number of tickets already sold the indications are that the attendance will be phenomenal.

This club is composed of eight young women who have recently forsaken single blessedness and have joined their efforts with the the members of the Joseph Habersham chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to make a success of a big dance.

Mrs. W. L. Peel, one of the most prominent members of the Daughters in Atlanta and a leader in the Joseph Habersham chapter, says that all eight young women were leaders in war activity work during the time the United States was at war with Germany.

A large number of friends of the brides and members of the chapter are coming to Atlanta on that day to make the ball an assured success and a fine time is promised to all who attend.

A feature of the entertainment will be the presence of the Shell-Shock band. Tickets, which are one dollar for men, ladies free, may be secured from any member of the Brides' club or from any member of the Joseph Habersham chapter.

Luncheon to Miss Hand.

Mrs. Sherwood Hurt entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Piedmont club, in compliment to Miss Virginia Hand.

Luncheon was served in the blue room, which was bright with spring flowers.

The table had a basket filled with jonquils and hyacinths in the center, and yellow candles surrounded the center piece.

The place cards were tiny kewpies, with large yellow hats.

Covers were laid for Miss Virginia Hand, Miss Henrietta Tupper, Miss Mary Faith Yow, Mrs. Joel Hurt, of White; Mrs. J. P. Kennedy and Mrs. Sherwood Hurt.

Miss Richardson Honor Guest.

Miss Eloise Robinson entertained at luncheon yesterday in compliment to Miss Dorothy Richardson, of London, England.

The center piece of the table was a silver basket of jonquils; silver candlesticks held yellow tapers, and the mints were yellow also.

The place cards were small painted jonquils. Covers were laid for eight.

Mrs. Scott to Entertain.

Mrs. Henry Bernard Scott will entertain Saturday afternoon with a bridge tea at her home on Myrtle street, in honor of Miss Eliza Morton, whose engagement has been announced to Mr. L. Woodward, of Miami, Fla., and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson, also of Miami, who is the guest of Mrs. Hamilton Douglass, Jr.

After the game a number of friends have been invited to join the players at tea.

Mrs. Johnson Honor Guest.

Mrs. Hamilton Douglass will entertain at tea Friday afternoon at the Woman's club in compliment to Mrs. Gilbert Johnson, of Miami, Fla., the guest of Mrs. Hamilton Douglass, Jr.

Mrs. Johnson was, before her marriage, Miss Winfred March, and a number of parties have been planned in her honor.

Famous Armenian Coming to Atlanta For Relief Drive

Lady Anne Azgapetian, wife of General Azgapetian, who was the Armenian commander of allied troops on the western front, serving with General Allenby, will accompany her husband to Atlanta and will arrive here Friday and will speak in the interest of the Atlanta campaign for Near East relief.

She has been in New Orleans, where she stirred many audiences with her stories of how she ministered to the sick and dying, when she served as nurse during the period of the war. General Azgapetian and his wife will have their headquarters while in the city at the local headquarters of the Near East relief, 1009 Flatiron building.

When asked at headquarters yesterday whether other nations besides this one were serving in Near East relief, L. E. Pratt, local director, stated:

"The people of Great Britain have given millions of dollars through the lord mayor's commission, and these funds are being administered by the American Near East relief.' Considering the heavy burdens of taxation which the British people are carrying and their great economic loss during the war, it may be said that the British people have given a great deal more in proportion to their ability than we have. But to all this must be added the great expense which the British nation has been compelled to bear since the armistice in maintaining its troops in the Near East. It is no exaggeration to say that the British Tommies have saved the Christian and Jewish people of the Near East from utter annihilation."

Household Quiz

1. What cooked product was made famous in the army during the late war by the Salvation army?
2. What is the Sunday before Easter called?
3. What is the quickest and best manner of slicing a hard boiled egg?
4. What two utensils may be used for making uncooked mayonaise?
5. How often should a mattress be turned on the bed, for comfort and eveness in wearing?
6. What are two reasons for saving money?
7. What is the prettiest method of serving "jello's" and ices?

Answers to Yesterday's Questions.

1. Dirt is the common enemy that makes housekeeping a continual struggle unless the modern devices for reducing the work are readily availed of by women.
2. A souffle is a baked custard with the additon of some flour and whites of eggs beaten very stiff and folded in at the last; so that with the slow expansion of the beaten whites in a moderate oven, it will remain in shape while being served. It is considered a very delicate dish for an entree or dessert when made with cheese, fruit, vegetables, fish, etc.
3. Curry powder is a highly seasoned powder of Indian origin and the word "curry" signified a "stew," generally of chicken, veal or lamb. Vegetables are delicious seasoned with a little of the powder; which is sold in air-tight bottles, and is a fine seasoning.
4. Shantung is a natural colored silk from China, and is used for dresses as well as for curtains, especially is it now used for casement window drapery; or when very heavy and figured, for shades.
5. The special features for a living and dining room when used as one is to use furniture that will give a comfortable effect, without crowding or the use of heavy sideboards and similar pieces.
6. The texture of perfect ice cream should be "velvety." It is very easy to secure this quality in homemade cream if part of the sweet cream is heated in a bouble boiler just until the sugar is melted. The ice must always be cracked fine and even, so the packing and freezing will be uniform.
7. To increase the life and wearing quality of stockings, wash them before wearing; if they are not of the firmest weave "run" the heels and other places where the stocking usually wears out first, with a single strand of darning silk or cotton to match. It shows very little and will strengthen the hosiery greatly. (Copyright, 1920, for The Constitution.)

ALL WRONG WAS HER LIVER

Before Taking Black-Draught, Missouri Lady Was Troubled With Constipation, Headache and Bad Taste in Mouth.

Grandin, Mo.—Mrs. Susa Brooks, of this place, writes: "Some time ago I was in a bad fix, with stomach and liver trouble. I did not feel good at any time. I was very constipated, and had headaches from this condition, and had a continual hurting in my stomach, and bad taste in the mouth. Could tell my liver was all wrong.

"I had known of Black-Draught, so decided to try it myself. I began with a large dose or doses, gradually getting to smaller doses. It regulated my bowels, relieved me of the hurting in my stomach, cleaned off my liver and made me feel like a new person."

If you get up in the morning feeling as tired as you did when you went to bed—achy, coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, sallow complexion—then your liver has not done its full duty, and your system has absorbed the poisons which your liver should have taken away.

An occasional dose of Thedford's Black-Draught will help this important organ to function properly.

Shoots Head Off.

Nashville, Tenn., March 17.—Despondent over ill health, it is said, H. H. Gentry, 50, a man of family and engaged in the wholesale grocery business here, ended his life late yesterday afternoon by shooting the top of his head off with a shotgun at his home on the Dickerson road.

OFFICER CHARGED WITH TAKING PART IN THEFT OF AUTO

"He certainly did cover ground fast for a sick man," remarked Detectives Sturdivant, Campbell and Lowe in commenting upon the action of Patrolman F. A. Hulsey, who escaped from the residence at 312 Oakland avenue Wednesday, while his wife fought the plainclothesmen who had been sent to arrest him in connection with the alleged theft of an automobile from a neighbor.

On approaching the house the detectives said that they saw Hulsey through the window. They knocked on the door and asked to see him. Mrs. Hulsey replied that he was not in. They insisted that he was, and tried to push by Mrs. Hulsey, who grappled with the officers and fought them long enough for her husband to escape.

The order for Hulsey's arrest grew out of the revelations of J. C. King, an automobile salesman, who was locked behind the bars at police station in connection with the sale of a Ford touring car to his relative, M. L. King, of Jackson, Ga. The car is said to have been stolen about a week ago from Raymond Brown of 308 Oakland avenue.

Russell-Lewis.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Frances Russell and Mr. James Eugene Lewis, of Birmingham, took place Tuesday, March 9, at 9 o'clock, at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. W. R. Russell, at Birmingham, Alabama.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. Irby D. and Exer Ligon Russell, formerly of Columbus, Ga.

Owing to a recent illness of the bride, the wedding had to be postponed, and consequently was a quiet affair.

The ring ceremony was used, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. W. R. Russell.

Mr. Charles Odelle was best man. The bride was lovely in a traveling suit of blue tricotine, with spring hat of straw and satin to match. Her corsage was of white rosebuds, white narcissi and ferns.

Mrs. Lewis is a Georgian, and is a member of one of the old and distinguished families of the state. Mr. Lewis comes from a historical family of Alabama. They left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to Mobile, New Orleans and other places of interest, and will be at home with the groom's mother, Mrs. J. E. Lewis, at "Vineville," Birmingham, Ala., upon their return.

Parties Planned For Mrs. Chrissman.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grady Dean will entertain with a theater party tonight in compliment to Mrs. Glenn Preston Chrissman, of Detroit, the guest of Mrs. William H. Scott, on Peachtree place.

Mrs. E. S. Grant will entertain at a bridge-luncheon on Friday for Mrs. Chrissman, and other affairs have been planned.

Students' Recital.

There will be a recital at Edison hall, 182 Peachtree street, Friday evening, March 19, at 8 o'clock, given by the piano students of Mr. Kurt Mueller, assisted by vocal students from the class of Mrs. Kurt Mueller.

Those on the program are: Miss Caroline Gray, Miss Dorothy Kellam, Miss Hazel Jolly (student at Lanier university), Mrs. John J. Foster, Miss Ruth Casey, Miss Leone Tribble (student at Lanier university), Miss Annie Thompson, Mrs. Odis Poundstone, Miss Frances Henderson, Miss Lila Ellis, Miss Emily McEntire, Mrs. B. W. Conference on Illiteracy.

Miss Kate Banks, of Milledgeville; Miss Lula Edwards, of Covington; Miss Mattie Tyus, of Milner, and Mrs. Jessie Wilson, of Sylvester, are at the Majestic hotel. They are working in the interest of the Georgia illiteracy commission, and are heer in conference with Hon. M. L. Brittain, secretary of the Georgia illiteracy commission.

The Utopian Club.

The Utopian club will hold their regular Saturday afternoon dance in their clubrooms Saturday afternoon, the usual hours of dancing to be observed.

The next regular dance to be given by the club will be held at Segadlo's hall Thursday, March 25. The usual excellent program of the latest dance music will be rendered by the club's orchestra.

Plans are already under way for the fifth anniversary dance of the club, to be given some time in the early summer. It is the aim of the club to make this one of the most enjoyable affairs ever given by the club.

MEETINGS

The regular monthly meeting of the Business Woman's league of the First Methodist church, will be held at the church Friday evening, March 19. Supper will be served at 6:45. All members and all business women of the church are urged to be present.

Electa chapter No. 6, O. E. S., will hold a regular meeting in the Royal Arch chapter room of the Masonic Temple, corner Cain and Peachtree streets, Friday evening, March 19, at 7:30 o'clock. Work in the degrees. All members of the order in good standing are cordially invited to attend.

The Great Impersonation

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

(Copyright, 1919, for The Constitution.)

"What about the navy, guv'nor?"

The orator swept upon the interrupter in his famous platform manner. The navy, he declared, could be trusted at all times to do its duty, but it could not fight on sea and land. Would the young man who had just interrupted do his, and enroll his name for drill and national service that evening? —and so on. The distinguished soldier, who was suffering from a cold, fired off a few husky sentences only, to the tune of rounds of applause. The proceedings were wound up by the duke, who was obviously, with the exception of the distinguished soldier, much more in earnest than any of them, and secured upon the whole a respectful attention. He brought in a few historical allusions, pleaded for a greater spirit of earnestness and citizenship amongst the men of the country, appealed even to the women to develop their sense of responsibility, and sat down amidst a little burst of quite enthusiastic applause.—The vote of thanks to the chairman was on the point of being proposed when Mr. Seaman, standing up in his place, appealed to the chairman for permission to say a few words. The duke, who had had some experience with Mr. Seaman before, looked at him severely, but the smile with which Mr. Seaman looked around upon the audience was so good-natured and attractive, that he had no alternative but to assent. Seaman scrambled up the steps on to the platform, coughed apologetically, bowed to the duke, and took possession of the meeting. After a word or two of compliment to the chairman, he made his confession. He was a German citizen—he was indeed one of that blood-thirsty race. (Some laughter.) He was also, and it was his excuse for standing there, the founder and secretary of a league, doubtless well known to them, a league for promoting more friendly relations between the business men of Germany and England. Some of the remarks which he had heard that evening had pained him deeply. Business often took him to Germany, and as a German he would be doing less than his duty if he did not stand up there and tell them that the average German loved the Englishman like a brother, that the object of his life was to come into greater kinship with him, that Germany, even at that moment, was standing with hand outstretched to her relatives across the North sea, begging for a deeper sympathy, begging for a larger understanding. (Applause from the audience, murmurs of dissent from the platform.) And as to those military preparations of which they had heard so much (with a severe glance at Captain Bartram), let them glance for one moment at the frontiers of Germany, let them realize that eastwards Germany was being continually pressed by an ancient and historic foe of enormous strength. He would not waste their time telling them of the political difficulties which Germany had had to face during the last generation. He would simply tell them this great truth,—the foe from whom Germany was obliged to make these great military preparations was Russia. If ever they were used it would be against Russia, and at Russia's instigation.— In his humble way he was striving for the betterment of relations between the dearly beloved country of his birth and the equally beloved country of his adoption. Such meetings as these, instituted, as it seemed to him, for the propagation of unfair and unjustified suspicions, were one of the greatest difficulties in his way. He could not for a moment doubt that these gentlemen upon the platform were patriots. They would prove it more profitably, both to themselves and their country, if they abandoned their present prejudiced and harmful campaign and became patrons of his society.

Seaman's little bow to the chairman was good-humored, tolerant, a little wistful. The duke's few words, prefaced by an indignant protest against the intrusion of a German propagandist into an English patriotic meeting, did nothing to undo the effect produced by this undesired stranger. When the meeting broke up, it was doubtful whether a single adherent had been gained to the cause of national service. The duke went home full of wrath, and Seaman chuckled with genuine merriment as he stepped into the taxi which Dominey had secured, at the corner of the street.

"I promised you entertainment," he observed. "Confess that I have kept my word."

Dominey smiled enigmatically. "You certainly succeeded in making fools of a number of respectable and well-meaning men."

"The miracle of it extends further," Seaman agreed. "Tonight, in its small way, is a supreme example of the transcendental follies of democracy. England is being slowly choked and strangled with too much liberty. She is like a child overfed with jam. Imagine, in our dear country, an Englishman being allowed to mount the platform and spout, undisturbed, English propaganda in deadly opposition to German interests. The so-called liberty of the Englishman is like the cuckoo in his political nest. Countries must be governed. They cannot govern themselves. The time of war will prove all that."

"Yet in any great crisis of a nation's history," Dominey queried, "surely there is safety in a multitude of counsellors?"

"There would be always a multitude of counsellors," Seaman replied, "in Germany as in England. The trouble for this country is that they would be all expressed publicly and in the press, each view would have its adherents, and the government be split up into factions. In Germany, the real destinies of the country are decided in secret. There are counsellors there, too, earnest and wise counsellors, but no one knows their varying views. All that one learns is the result, spoken through the lips of the kaiser, spoken once and for all."

Dominey was showing signs of a rare interest in his companion's conversation. His eyes were bright, his usually impassive features seemed to have become more mobile and strained. He laid his hand on Seamans' arm.

"Listen," he said, "we are in London, alone in a taxicab, secure against any possible eavesdropping. You preach the advantage of our kaiser-led country. Do you really believe that the kaiser is the man for the task which is coming?"

Seaman's narrow eyes glittered. He looked at his companion in satisfaction. His forehead was puckered, his eternal smile gone. He was the man of intellect.

"So you are waking up from the lethargy of Africa, my friend!" he exclaimed. "You are beginning to think. As you ask me, so shall I answer. The kaiser is a vain, bombastic dreamer, the greatest egotist who ever lived, with a diseased personality, a ceaseless craving for the limelight. But he has also the genius for government. I mean this: he is a splendid medium for the expression of the brain power of his counsellors. Their words will pass through his personality, and he will believe them his. What is more, they will sound like his. He will see himself the knight in shining armour. All Europe will bow down before self-imagined Caesar, and no one except we who are behind will realize the ass's head. There is no one else in this world whom I have ever met so well fitted to lead our great nation on to the destiny she deserves.— And now, my friend, tomorrow, if you like, we will speak of these matters again. Tonight, you have other things to think about. You are going into the great places where I never penetrate. You have an hour to change and prepare. At eleven o'clock the Prince von Terniloff will expect you."

A. A. Fauver Dismissed.

Detectives were a bit premature in arresting A. A. Fauver, of 374 Spring street, Judge Andy Calhoun believes. Fauver was accused in a prohibition case, and the police exhibited a still made of a milk can, a baking pan and rubber tubes. Fauver was dismissed when it was shown he had made no liquor.

Hunger or Appetite?

There is a difference you know. Hunger is physical; appetite mental. It is this spoiled child "Appetite" that makes most of our digestive troubles. The man who eats an ice-cream soda or bits of candy at intervals during the day, the woman who beguiles the hours with a little luncheon here and there in the course of the day and the child who spends his penny for candy are humoring their appetites and not appeasing their hunger.

The home nurse should insist upon her family studying to a certain extent their bodily needs and she should see that they are well supplied with the nourishing food that hunger demands and that appetite will accept. Appetite is a stimulant to digestion and without it we are liable to digest badly. If the body needs a proteid or tissue builder, and it is decided that the particular form of proteid shall be beefsteak, let us by all means get the co-operation of the appetite by cooking it well and serving it invitingly. The same thing is true of the carbohydrates or energy producing foods served on our tables generally in the form of vegetables, bread, oils and sweets.

The essential thing is to refuse to be led astray by appetite which will pile up in the body carbohydrates in excess of its need and produce too much fatty tissue. Or it gives the body more protein than it needs for tissue building, and this gives the excretory organs, particularly the kidneys, too much work to do, so we have a condition of disease.

Habit is an important factor where food is concerned. Most persons have accustomed their stomachs to receive food three times a day and that is a sufficient number of times. If appetite whines for sweetmeats at other hours, you humor it at the expense of health. The stomach is a union worker and secretes gastric juice only at meal times if it has formed the proper habit.

LARGE AUDIENCES GREET SHEPHERD FROM GALILEE

A large audience greeted Rev. Stephen A. Haboush, the shepherd from Galilee, at LaGrange, Ga., Sunday and Monday. The people showed their appreciation by filling the church for his lecture entertainment that he gave Monday evening. Not only speaking in the different churches Suuday, but all day long Monday he was engaged in lecturing in the schools and colleges in and around LaGrange.

Last night Mr. Haboush gave his varied program at the St. Paul Methodist church to a large and an appreciative audience. In the face of the rainy weather the church was fairly seated to enjoy the lecture and the entertainment. In the near future he is to return to the church and give the balance of his exposition on the 23d Psalm.

The lecture that he was to give at the Inman Park Methodist church Friday night of this week is to be given next Monday evening.

Mr. Haboush is to tour the neighboring counties around Atlanta for the next few weeks and give his lectures and entertainments until the first of May when he will leave for the Holy Land for about four months, and he is expected to conduct Bishop James Atkins and Dr. W. A. Beauchamp, of Nashville, Tenn., on a tour of investigation through Palestine and the adjoining countries.

J. S. FLORENCE HEADS RAILWAY EMPLOYEES

The election of officers was the most important event in the meeting of the local post of the Benefit Association of Railway Employees, which was organized last night as Atlanta division No. 70, held at 8 o'clock in the Red Men's wigwam. A large number was present.

Officers were elected and installed as follows:

President, J. S. Florence, chief clerk to one of the freight agents; vice presidents, J. A. Smith, engineer; Luther Robinson, carman, and Roy Felker, engineer; secretary, J. Lindborg, machinist; and guard, A. B. Upshaw, conductor. All officers elected are employees of the Southern Railway.

Following the installation of officers, a smoker was held. Committees were elected to arrange a permanent meeting place and dates for future meetings, also for a social event to take place some time during the first part of April.

This organization has recently been formed to promote good feeling among the members and to care for the sick among its members. The present membership of the lodge is estimated at 1,000 members, which number will be increased by other roads affiliating with the Southern men in this co-operative movement.

STANDARD OIL WORKERS GATHER FOR BANQUET

The employees of the Atlanta branch of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky held a banquet and dance at the Ansley hotel last night. The dinner was merely a get-together affair, for the purpose of forgetting business and getting acquainted, as explained by R. E. Hodgson, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Speeches were made by Vice President S. W. Coons and Auditor A. H. Monroe, both of the Louisville office, and by F. M. Coley and Miss Mary Joe Bird, of the local office.

Mrs. A. R. Tates and G. W. Wilson sang for the diners, accompanied by Mrs. G. H. Slayton, who also played Bartlett's "Polka de Concert."

MILITARY BAND PLAYS IN ENLISTMENT DRIVE

The military band of the Twenty-first Georgia Field Artillery played at the Forsyth theater last night, the occasion being a part of its recruiting campaign which is being prosecuted in this city.

Notice of concerts by this organization will be published from time to time, and while recruits are desired for all units of the regiment the band is aiming especially at enrollments in its own company. Many advantages are pointed out, among which are musical training and the opportunity for travel.

Scarborough Fights Return.

Deputy Sheriff E. W. Folsom, from Bishopville, S. C., was forced to return to his home Wednesday without T. L. Scarborough, son of Sheriff J. S. Scarborough, of Lee county, because the boy refused to waive requisition papers. According to Scarborough's statement, he was serving a five-year sentence when paroled, and he will now have to complete this service. He was arrested here for idling and loitering by Patrolman W. C. Hardy. His father had sworn out a warrant in Bishopville, S. C., for his arrest, charging him with burglary, and telephoned the officials here that he would pay a reward of $100 for his surrender.

To Peel Off Freckled, Blotchy, Pimpled Skin

As March winds, flying dust and dirt, are apt to injure any complexion, this information will be of special value right now. If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, moth patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches or any surface eruption. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for one ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in the morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple, harmless treatment report astonishing results.—(adv.)

Unusual Fence Is Built To Protect Hurt Property

Fence erected by Joel Hurt in front of the Hurt building to prevent it being taken over by the public.

Atlanta's most unusual fence—unusual because it encloses a few square feet of perfectly good sidewalk in front of the Hurt building at the intersection of Edgewood avenue and Exchange place—reveals a law that is also somewhat unusual, the law being the reason for the fence.

When Joel Hurt built the office building that bears his name, he left a good many square feet of his private property at the intersection for sidewalk space to allow plenty of room for pedestrians. These square feet of ground are valuable, and may some day be more valuable. Mr. Hurt decided his feet of ground were too valuable to be dedicated to the feet of pedestrians, and so he took measures to prevent proscription.

Now, the law: It is written that where the feet of pedestrians pass over feet of ground for seven years without interference, the feet of ground may become permanently used for the feet of pedestrians and, under the law, public property to the extent property may become public property.

To offset the possibility of prescription for the use of the public, Mr. Hurt built the fence, placing in each corner of the pie-shaped section a marker warning pedestrians against trespass, and explained it all to a reporter for The Constitution, which makes everything perfectly clear.

Britain Following Traditional Policy In Regard to Navy

London, March 17.—Introducing the naval estimates in the house of commons today, Walter Hume Long, first lord of the admiralty, said the government was firmly adhering to the traditional policy that the British navy "should not be inferior to the navies of other powers. Then, alluding to the United States as the only country whose navy approached that of Britain in strength, he said that the idea of competition in armaments between the United States and Great Britain was repugnant, adding: "We hope and believe that if there is any emulation between us, it is likely to be in the direction of reducing that ample margin of naval strength which we alike possess over other naval powers. This is the foundation of the British naval policy."

SHERIFF IS CHARGED WITH MOONSHINING

Nashville, Tenn., March 17.—Sheriff A. P. Warren, of Warren county, was arraigned in the federal court here today and pleaded not guilty to a distilling charge.

Warren was indicted yesterday afternoon, and his trial will be held at the present term of court. The case has attracted widespread interest as a result of Fred Murphy, a government witness in the case, having been found hanging recently in the Warren county jail at McMinnville. Sheriff Warren was exonerated by state authorities. Federal warrants charging intimidation of a government witness were issued against Warren, his wife and several others, but the case has not been submitted to the grand jury.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nauseless calomel tablet called Calotabs, and which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way toward preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bedtime, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(adv.)

Give Stomach What It Needs

The Alkaline Effect of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Usually Corrects the Stomach Faults that Provoke Attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

To sit back after a good meal and know there is not going to be sour risings, gas, drowsiness and discomfort is the logical result of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets immediately after eating. Most people believe they can trace each attack of indigestion to the something they ate and can still "taste." And it surprises them, invariably, to note how quickly relief comes after using one or two of these tablets. Whether it is highly seasoned food, rich pastry, the heavy hearty foods or some one particular offender, the relief comes just the same. Those who are susceptible to attacks of indigestion or dyspepsia should try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, as they supply the stomach with an alkaline effect just as it does naturally when it is working in a perfectly healthy condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so widely known and used that you can get them in any drug store in the United States and Canada at 50 cents a box.—(adv.)

NOTED EVANGELIST PREACHES TONIGHT

Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, of London, to Speak at Baptist Bible Conference.

The seventeenth annual Bible conference of the Baptist Tabernacle will begin tonight at 7 o'clock, with a song service of camp meeting hymns, followed at 8 o'clock with a sermon by Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, of London, England, one of the greatest evangelists in the world.

Every preparation for the conference has been completed, and indications are that the Tabernacle will be packed even to the third gallery at the opening service.

The song service, like all musical programs to be rendered during the ten days of the conference, will have the spirit of the glory songs that were sung at the Billy Sunday revival. The sermon preached by Dr. Morgan at 8 o'clock will be the first of a series of notable evangelical addresses that he will deliver twice a day during the conference.

Accompanied by his wife, Dr. Morgan is expected to reach Atlanta shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. It will be his first return to Atlanta since his visit here seven years ago when he was the principal figure at a previous Bible conference held at the Tabernacle.

The conference which he opens tonight will continue through Sunday, March 28, with sessions held each morning at 10 and 11 o'clock, each afternoon at 2, 3 and 4 o'clock, and each evening at 7 and 8 o'clock.

Speaks Twice Each Day.

Dr. Morgan will speak each morning at 11 o'clock and each evening at 8 o'clock.

Dr. W. M. Evans, of Los Angeles and Chicago, will speak each morning at 10 o'clock and each evening at 7 o'clock.

Dr. John Paul, of Wilmore, Ky., will preach each afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Dr. George W. McPherson, of New York, will preach each afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Len G. Broughton, formerly pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, but now pastor of the First Baptist church of Knoxville, Tenn., will arrive in Atlanta Monday and from then until the end of the conference will speak each afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Preceding each session of the conference a song service will be held under the leadership of Captain D. L. Spooner, musical director at the Tabernacle, assisted by the Rev. Lawrence Young, of Los Angeles.

Songs and Sermons.

Two things will characterize the conference—first the evangelical quality of the sermons, which will deal with subjects of faith and not of theology; secondly, the song services which will consist of familiar hymns sung by the large audiences and by a choir of eighty voices.

In the size of the audiences, in the prominence of the speakers, and in general completeness of program, the conference will surpass all previous sessions held during the last twenty years at the Tabernacle.

Letters received by the Tabernacle pastor, the Rev. John W. Ham, show that visitors will be present from every part of the south. Various educational institutions have asked to have special reservations made for the student bodies at sessions of the conference. And Tabernacle workers who are distributing posters announcing dates and speakers have found deep interest in Atlanta in the conference.

"I wish to emphasize again," said Mr. Ham Wednesday, "that the conference is for every one, and not for any limited group. The doors of the Tabernacle are open. Every one in Atlanta is urged to come."

RICH DRAFT DODGER WILL BE SENTENCED

Thirty Years in Penitentiary Asked for Millionaire Bergdoll, of Philadelphia.

New York, March 17.—All indications point to the conclusion that a verdict of guilty was returned and a sentence agreed upon this afternoon by general court-martial in the case of United States government versus Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, millionaire draft dodger of Philadelphia. At about :30 the finding of the court was handed to Lieutenant Colonel Charles C. Cresson, the trial judge advocate, who asked the court for a sentence of thirty years in a penitentiary.

No announcement concerning the finding of the court can be made until it is passed upon by the reviewing authority. This, it was said, may not be done for several weeks. The only inkling of the fate of Bergdoll which will be known before that time will be in case of an acquittal, when an order for his release from confinement will be issued. This order will very probably be issued tomorrow morning if the court rendered a verdict of not guilty, a situation which is not expected even by counsel for the defense.

Had Nothing to Say.

Bergdoll when asked if he had anything to say replied in the negative. A written statement coming from the defendant was put into the record. In it Bergdoll said he had fled from the draft because he had become frightened by the threats made by John Dwyer, head of draft board No. 32. At the conclusion of the reading of the statement by Mr. Gibboney, the defense finally rested.

Colonel Cresson then began his address to the court-martial. At one time he was stopped by a heated objection by Attorney Weinberger, to whom he had clearly referred by innuendo as a "human jackal skulking along the east side of New York, ready, like a Judas Iscariot, to do anything to combat the law for a few pieces of silver."

Weinberger flushed and got up and demanded that the colonel retract this statement.

"I did not mention the counsel's name," Colonel Cresson said, "but if the shoe fits, let him wear it."

Ready for Fight.

"And I may say," he added, pugnaciously, "that Mr. Weinberger can find me on this island any time he wants after this court-martial is over." Weinberger did not answer the indictment, the culmination of a long series of verbal clashes between the two. Colonel Cresson weighs about 160 pounds; Weinberger about 140. Both are fighters. In concluding Colonel Cresson, in asking such a long-term sentence, said: "The term I ask is moderate, considering the crime and the surrounding circumstances."

ASK METEOROLOGISTS TO HELP IN FLU FIGHT

Budapest, March 17.—Meteorologists are called upon to fight influenza in an appeal issued through the American Red Cross by Professor Detruss, head of the medical faculy of Budapest university. He asserts the influenza germ is the smallest encountered by scientists and, because of its light weight, it is caught up by air currents and carried hundreds of miles to other districts. He thus accounts for the steady and rapid spread of the malady.

Professor Detruss declares the microbe has a strange propensity of remaining in air currents close to the earth and never rising above 2,000 feet. He appeals particularly to meteorologists in America and Europe to organize a system of notifying the world during influenza epidemics of the direction of air currents so that endangered districts in the supposed path of the microbes may take adequate precautions to prevent infection.

Not to Hang Imbecile.

Montgomery, Ala., March 17.—Sam Rice, alleged imbecile, of Bay Minette, will not die on the gallows March 26 for the murder of Joe Whitney, aged fisherman, but will serve the remainder of his life in the hospital ward of the state penitentiary, Governor Kilby having commuted the sentence of death today.

HE DARKENED HIS GRAY HAIR

Tells How He Did It.

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well-known resident of San Francisco, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay-rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine.

"These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—(adv.)

Which Bridge should a woman choose?

The Weak or the Strong One

If you see before you a strong and safe bridge leading to your goal, would you ignore it and choose some insecure and tottering structure?—

If you were offered sure aid in time of trouble would you hesitate to accept it?—

The answer is simple—you would choose what all evidence showed to be the safe way—and you would risk nothing in useless experiments.

Why then do some women risk one of their most precious possessions—their health—in trying medicines of unknown value, when everybody knows that the most successful remedy for woman's ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is more proof:

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could be out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, 'My! but you look well—what do you do? Who is your doctor?' and there is only one answer, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines.'"—Mrs. Wm. Stein, 560 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

Gainesville, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my side. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband and I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results, and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time, and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound, and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work, and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. M. Stephens, 202 Harvey St., Gainesville, Texas.

Strong-Arm Tactics In Minnesota Primary Charged by Johnson

Detroit, March 17.—The Minnesota republican primary was characterized as "a pretense" and the "first strong arm tactics of the 1920 campaign" by United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson, in a signed statement issued here this afternoon.

He charged that "the republican state machine is in absolute control" of affairs in Minnesota. "This machine," the statement declares, "has been conducting the Wood fight."

HOOVER WON'T BE IN CONTEST HERE

By J. A. Hollomon.
(By Constitution Leased Wire.)

Washington, March 17.—"Under no consideration will Mr. Hoover permit his name to go on the democratic primary ballot in Georgia, or on a separate or side ballot that could be voted by the electors in the primary. Not being a democrat Mr. Hoover feels that the Georgia democratic committee acted correctly in not entering his name on a democratic ballot, even though the petition was made by the required number of democratic voters."

This statement was made to The Constitution today by one of Mr. Hoover's close political friends, who is in Washington in the interest of Mr. Hoover's nomination by the republicans at Chicago on June 8.

In this connection it may be added also that despite statements printed in Georgia to the contrary the Hoover republican club is pushing the former food administrator in his home state, California, with all the vigor of seasoned politicians and a republican ticket pledged to the "support of Herbert Hoover first, last, and all the time at the Chicago convention," has been made public by the Hoover headquarters in San Francisco.

G. O. P. Pushes Nomination.

While the names may be inconsequential to the average Georgian in order that there may be no mistaking the fact that the Hoover national headquarters are pushing the candidate for the G. O. P. nomination only, and that there is no longer any camouflage about the Hoover brand of party affiliation, the following is the full ticket as officially given out in Washington today:

Delegates-at-large—C. C. Moorfe, San Francisco; Mrs. Frank A. Gibson, Los Angeles; Charles C. Chapman, Fullerton, and M. C. Sloss, San Francisco.

District No. 1.—Mrs. Minnie McLaughlin Walker, Willows, and Edwin E. Skinner, Eureka.

District No. 2.—Captain Thomas G. Chamberlain, Auburn; and Mrs. Mrs. Frances S. Robson, Vina.

District No. 3.—Wilson R. Ellis, Sacramento; and Dr. Robert R. Hammond, Stockton.

District No. 4.—Dr. Adelaide Brown, and Fred W. Ely, San Francisco.

District No. 6.—Peter J. Crosby, Hayward; and Mrs. Jean Howard McDuffie, Berkeley.

District No. 8. Charles C. Teague, Santa Paula; and Miss Agnes Emmons Howe, San Jose.

District No. 9.—Frederick Cole Fairbanks, South Pasadena; and Robert J. Burdette, Pasadena.

District No. 11.—Gordon Gray and Miss Alice Lee, San Diego.

This ticket will oppose the delegation to Senator Hiram Johnson in the state primary May 4. One of the bitterest political fights in the history of California politics has begun.

Moore was president of the Panama-Pacific exposition, Schloss is a former justice of the state supreme court, Ellis is secretary of the state highway commission and a Johnson appointee; L. L. Dennett is a state senator; Mrs. Burdette is the widow of the late humorist; and Mrs. Cable is a past president of the Federation of Women's clubs.

The Hoover committeemen in Washington are apparently not disturbed by the third rate showing made by their candidate in the Minnesota republican primaries, and declare this is only an incentive for greater efforts in the nation-wide campaign that it on.

Hoover Offended.

In the meantime Mr. Hoover, who is living now in New York, where the national Hoover republican organization is located, is deeply offended, it is said, here, at the publication today of his letter to President Wilson last April in which he took apparently the same position with regard to the treaty's international provisions as taken today by Lodge and the republican majority. It is understood that Mr. Hoover will seek to modify the position taken at that time by tracing more the present expressed views of his party colleague, ex-President Taft.

COUNTY AWARDED $40,000 U. S. MONEY TO BUILD BRIDGE

The county public works committee Saturday will decide whether or not to accept $40,000 of federal funds to aid in building a bridge across the Chattahoochee at Roswell. Fulton was awarded that sum Wednesday, but no money was allowed for paving the Roswell road and 7 miles of Stewart avenue. Cobb county would share expense with Fulton if the committee decides to build the bridge.

The reason given by the state highway commision, through which the federal funds are distributed, for the failure of the Roswell road and Stewart avenue projects to obtain United States aid was that government money for this year in this district "had run out." Lack of aid from the government is expected to prevent both the road paving projects.

Application for aid in building the Roswell bridge is the first Fulton county has ever made for federal funds.

ELECTRIC STORM CRIPPLES LIGHT AND PHONE SERVICE

An almost continuous downpour of rain dampened the tempers as well as the clothing of Atlanta residents from Tuesday evening until yesterday afternoon, the early hours of Wednesday morning being enlivened by a thunderstorm which disturbed their slumbers and did considerable damage to the electric light and telephone wires in and about the city.

Seven cables connecting with the Hemlock, East Point and Ivy exchanges were struck by the electric disturbances, putting nearly 800 telephones temporarily out of commission. The telephone company officials stated that the damage would require two days' work to be repaired.

The Georgia Railway and Power company also suffered from the storm. The transformer at the Peachtree station blew up, while the transformers at Carrollton, Banning, Winder and Cartersville were interfered with to an extent that all will necessitate costly repairs. The power company officials stated that there will be some delay in putting the out-of-town stations in condition again because of the bad condition of the roads over which repair material must be hauled. The fire department reported that no damage by way of fire had come to its notice.

POLES WARNED TO STOP MILITARY ACTIVITIES

Warsaw, March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Polish authorities have urged in a third peace note of the Russian soviet government to cease military action in the Ukriane, the bolsheviki threatening to concentrate their forces against Poland if the latter does not recall its troops from their position in south eastern Russia.

Belief is expressed here the note was inspired by fears in Moscow of a spread of a counter revolution in the Ukraine and southern Russia.

PROTECTION IS ASKED FOR CHICAGO NEGROES

New York, March 17.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People telegraphed today to Governor Lowden, of Illinois, and Mayor Thompson, of Chicago, asking that all possible steps be taken to avert race friction in Chicago. NEGROES URGED TO AID FIGHT ON ILLITERACY

3,000 Adults in Fulton Unable to Read or Write, Organizer Says.

The negroes of Atlanta have not as yet responded as they have in other centers of the state toward the movement to reduce illiteracy among their own people, and Lydia Thornton, organizer from the Georgia illiteracy commission, has asked help in teaching her people in this section how to read and write.

She is being assisted in organizing her classes in Atlanta by Louie Shibery, a graduate of the Atlanta university, and a director of the Gate City Kindergarten association for negro children. She is a volunteer worker in the illiteracy commission.

Lydia Thornton is a graduate of the Tuskegee institute.

In Macon she organized classes when 500 negroes were taught to read and write, and 500 more are in night classes working for the same object.

"I have had conferences with many of the ministers of the Atlanta churches and they assure me their co-operation," she said. "But I wish to see the negro population of Atlanta aroused in the movement. There are more than 3,000 grown up negroes in Atlanta and Fulton county who can neither read nor write."

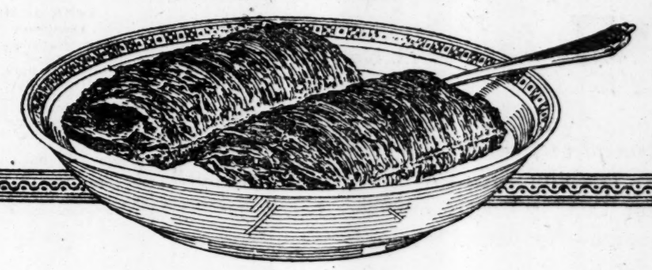

Several night schools for negro adults have already been organized for Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 o'clock until 9 o'clock. The classes and books are free. The classes are at Bethel A. M. E. church, Ashby Street school, Mitchell Street school, Warren Chapel church, West Hunter Street school, Rush Memorial church, Shiloh Baptist church, Neighborhood house, Taylor Street school and Pittsburg school.

Sports — Georgia Tech Starts Spring Football Work

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELIN'? By Briggs

Practice Going on At "Flats"

Coach Alexander Starts New System at Institution for Training Prospects for Coming Football Season—No Hard Work Yet.

By Keller Melton.

Tech's Golden Tornado is again in action. Strange as it may sound, it is true, for, although it is still some six or eight months before football fans will have an opportunity of witnessing the mighty Tornado in action against a wortny foe, Coach Alexander's warriors have already begun to train for the coming season.

Beginning last Tuesday afternoon, and every afternoon from then on until the end of school, candidates for the 1920 football squad can be found hard at work down on Grant Field under the guiding hand of Coach Alex, but one could never tell by their dress that the men are would-be football players. Instead of the customary heavy jerseys, pants, stockings, shoes, headgears, etc., the men are clad in the thinnest of track suits, for the workouts, for the present at least, will be confined to regular work on the track squad.

Due to the fact that Coach Alexander more than has his hands full in the shaping of the track team that will represent the Gold and White institution in one of the hardest track schedules that the school has ever undertaken, the work of the football squad will have to fit in with that of the cinder path men.

Spring training for the football team is a comparatively new feature at the "Flats," but one that has been followed by some of the larger of the eastern colleges for a number of years. With the institution of the new regime of athletic affairs at Tech, football training during the spring of the year was one of the first of a number of features to be installed by Coach Alexander.

Players Were Pledged.

In the past, the members of the football teams that had not played on other teams pledged themselves to keep training to a certain degree, and to try to keep themselves in the best of physical condition. With the undertaking of such a strenuous schedule mapped out for Tech for 1920, it was deemed necessary by Coach Alex to take some sort of extra measures to prepare the 1920 Tornado for the ordeal.

With the exception of Captain-elect "Buck" Flowers, "Red" Barron, "Bo-o" Webb, T. B. Amis and a few others, who are members of Joe Bean's baseball squad, every member of the 1919 team is still in school; plus quite a large sprinkling of Coach Clay's Yannigans, make up the football squad for the present.

The work for the time being is confined to several turns around the track for the line men, and plenty of dashes for the backfield candidates for, above all things, speed is a prime requisite to a backfield man. After the track work, the whole squad comes in for a workout with the weights. At present Coach Alex is not trying to develop any great track men out of the football squad, but is striving mainly to get the men into shape and build up their endurance so that next fall, when the clarion call for football candidates is heard around Grant Field, work of more strenuous nature can be undertaken at once. As has been the case in the past, two or three valuable weeks have been wasted in geting the men into condition before taking up the fundamentals of football proper.

Tackles Tough Schedule.

Next fall, in the last five weeks of her schedule, the Golden Tornado tackles five hard teams—Vanderbilt, Pittsburg, Center college, 1919 champions of the United States; Georgetown and Auburn. In addition to these, Tech has games with Oglethorpe, Clemson and others. With this schedule in front of them it is going to take all the work that the team can stand both now and next fall to pull the Jackets through without mishap.

Later in the season, when the track work does not claim all of Coach Alexander's time, the practice will take on more of the nature of a football practice, as there will be plenty of passing the ball around, and lots of signal practice.

It has been in the forward passing department of the game that Tech has been particularly weak in the past few years, and Coach Alexander hopes to eradicate this weakness by the extra work this spring.

Sewell, Alabama Captain, Signed By Johnny Dobbs

Will Not, However, Report to Pels Until College Season Closes—Has Had Many Flattering Offers From Professional Teams.

By George H. Watson.

University, Ala., March 17.—(Special.)—Joe Sewell, captain of the baseball team of the University of Alabama, confirmed the report here today that he had signed up with the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern league, but he stated that he would not report to Johnny Dobbs until after the collegiate baseball season is completed.

Ever since the completion of Alabama's baseball season last year, Captain Sewell has been besieged from far and near to sign up with the professionals. He has had offers from St. Louis, Cleveland and Philadelphia, of the National league; from Atlanta and Birmingham of the Southern league and from various other teams in the South Atlantic and Texas leagues.

Sewell is completing his fourth year at college, and hence is free to go into the national pastime as a profession. However, he will have to stay in college another six months after this year to receive his diploma.

Captain Sewell expects to assist Coach Gordon Lewis this season in an effort to turn out another champion nine of the south at Alabama. He will perform at second base again. Joe is also a good man on the gridiron and in addition is president of the student body.

The exit of Sewell from the ranks of Crimson sport will make three players of the champion nine of last year that have gone into professional ball. "Big" Jim Boone, pitcher, is now with the Atlanta Crackers, and Lena Style, catcher, is with the Philadelphia Nationals.

Riggs Stevenson, of all-Southern fame in both baseball and football, is another member of Coach Noojin's winning aggregation of last year who will no doubt finally land in the big leagues. "Stevie" has just returned from New Orleans, where he worked out a little with the Cleveland Indians.

However, the Crimson fullback and shortstop is only a junior this year. He declares that beyond a gentleman's agreement he will not sign up with any team until after the completion of the 1920 season in baseball and football.

FIFTH DIVISION NINE HAS STAR IN PHILLIPS

FANK L. METIVER, (Sergeant Major.)

Among those who will perform on the diamond for "Georgia's own" baseball nine, which is made up of officers and soldiers of the fifth division at Camp Gordon, is Paul A. Phillips, of college and minor league fame, who will take care of the third sack and its vicinity.

From 1913 until 1915 he attended Bucknell university at Louisburg, Pa., and was a member of the varsity baseball, football, and track teams. He made a name for himself in an intercollegiate track meet, held at Louisburg in 1915, in which all the large colleges from both Pennsylvania and New York competed, when he established a record in the hammer throw and running broad jump.

He played on the Bucknell football eleven and as a gridiron warrior was of the par-excellence class.

While playing third base for the university nine in the summer of 1915 he attracted the attention of one of the major league scouts, and during the following winter signed a contract. After his appearance in spring training he was turned over to the South Bend team of the Indiana-Michigan State league for further seasoning.

Playing fast ball for this organization during the season of 1916 and leading the league as batsman, he was again brought back to the majors and during spring training was pronounced a finished product for the big circuit. But with the outbreak of the war, he enlisted in the infantry and went overseas with the famous fifth division and served all through their operations with the exception of the time he went to officers' training school. He was on the point of being commissioned at the signing of the armistice, but with the ruling of the war department that no more men would be commissioned, he went back to his old organization, Company E, 60th Infantry, as first sergeant.

While in the army of occupation he proved to be a valuable find for the Red Diamond nine and greatly aided the team in keeping second place in the Third Army league.

At present he is suffering from a sore hand, the result of an accident in the first workout of the season. It is anticipated, though, that the opening game which is to be played with Georgia Tech on April 2, will find him on the job holding down the third sack.

With the expiration of his present enlistment, Phillips will again get in touch with the big leagues, and will no doubt be in the limelight during the seas on of 1921, if he retains his present form.

BASEBALL NOTES

Pitcher Gene Packard, the Phillies' southpaw, says he is out of the game for good.

Two Southern league stars, Lou Christenbury and Dixie Carroll, are going at a fast clip with the Boston Braves.

Albany, one of the standbys of the old New York State league, has taken over the Providence franchise in the Eastern league.

George (Chippie) Gaw, pitcher of the Buffalo International league team, has been appointed baseball coach at Boston university.

It was so cold at the Detroit Tigers' training camp the other day that the Jennings pastimers built bonfires in order to keep warm.

Cliff Blankenship, the old Washington backstop, has been signed as manager of the Spokane team of the new Pacific International league.

It has been many a day since so many of the regular Giants and veteran pastimers failed to show up at the spring training camp of the McGrawites.

The St. Louis Cardinals were the first big leaguers to get action in regular ball games. The Rickeys started in playing Texas league teams right off the reel.

Reports from Pasadena have it that the Cubs are highly pleased with the fine weather and ideal training conditions they have encountered in the California city.

From all accounts the Athletics are indulging in strenuous training stunts at Lake Charles, which probably means that the Mackmen will not be the soft proposition they were last season.

Catcher Gharrity and Pitchers Shaw and Davenport have refused to sign with the Washington club for the salary offered. Davenport is a newcomer, having recently been traded by the Browns to the Senators.

Golfing sharps who have watched "Babe" Ruth drive the white pills around the links say that the home run king, while able to knock the ball a mile, has not the makings of a star at the ancient pastime.

Joe Wood is trying out his pitching arm in practice with the Cleveland Indians and if the old "smoke ball" artist finds his wing strong enough to go the distance, he will go to the box in a regular game for the Indians.

DUBLIN WANTS BERTH IN THE DIXIE LEAGUE

Dublin, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) Dublin is to have representatives at the meeting of the fans soon to be held in Moultrie for the purpose of reviving the old Dixie baseball league. Fans here are in earnest about getting into a regular circuit and if possible they want to get into the proposed re-organized Dixie league. I. Bashinski, C. D. Hilbun, R. H. Hightower and Frank Lawson are to attend this meeting in behalf of Dublin.

Dublin Cage Record.

Dublin, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) Dublin's basketball team has just won the series of championship games with Swainsboro and now holds the title for this section of the twelth district. Ten games of basketball were played, of which they won 7 and lost 3, making a percentage of .700.

Sensational and Remarkable Incidents In Career of Georges Carpentier Told for First Time by Himself In THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION

Term 'Walkover' Was Originated On Race Course

By Al Spink.

The term "walkover" came originally from the race course.

It was used in a purse or stake race in which a horse had no competitor.

It is customary in such a case to send the horse to the post, from where he is started by the starter, as in the regular race, the horse slowly galloping over the distance fixed in the conditions of the race.

In cases of walkovers some of the racing associates only give half of the amount of the purse offered. While in stakes the added money is also halved.

In some cases when a favorite horse gets a "walkover" it is customary to let the boy who has the personal care of the horse, if possessing any ability as a reder, ride the horse, as Mr. Lorillard alowed his stable boy Jones to do when Parole "walked over" for the two and one-half mile purse at Saratoga in 1877.

Seldom if ever nowadays do you hear of a real "walkover," but at that the term is often used.

At that, there are all kinds of walkovers nowadays.

You might say that Jack Dempsey had a walkover for the world's heavyweight championship when with a single blow he rendered Jess Willard hors de combat and won a fortune in money and fame.

Reds had a walkover for the

You might say the Cincinnati Reds had a walkover for the world's baseball championship last fall when they not only won the series but each of the winning players received for his share of the winnings a small fortune.

You might say too that the Reds and White Sox had a walkover in view of the facts that the receipts in the first six games were $585,896.

You might say both Reds and White Sox had a walkover, too, by reason of the fact that the money receipts for the last world's baseball series broke all records, the nearest approach to the nearly three-quarters of a million taken in at the gate being in the series of 1912, when the receipts were $400,499 for the eight games played.

The division of money to the various teams was not made on any arbitrary basis.

The Cincinnati team, by vote, decided twenty-one players were entitled to full shares, or approximately $5,200 each, parts of shares being given to various club attaches. Each White Sox division among twenty-four players amounted to about $3,250 each. Each player on a second place team got about $800 and each player on a third place team about $500.

So you might say all the ball players playing with the teams which finished as good as one, two, three in their respective leagues last year had something of a walkover.

In his tour last fall Hoppe showed the most remarkable form of his wonderful career. On it he made ten runs of more than 100, eight of more than 150 and six better than 200.

Greenleaf and Cannefax showed exceptionally fine form. On two occasions Greenleaf ran out his matches in two innings. Cannefax made some high runs, but McCourt always has pressed him closely; in fact, the games between Cannefax and McCourt were real battles.

So in billiards last year Hoppe, as usual, had something of a walkover.

Duffy Fights Draw.

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—Jimmy Duffy, of Lockport, N. Y., and Young Denny, of New Orleans, welterweights, fought 12 hard rounds to a draw before the Savannah Athletic club tonight.

FULTON WINS EASILY

Philadelphia, March 17.—In the main mix of the star bout at the Olympia A. A. here tonight, Fred Fulton, of Minneapolis, dealt out a severe trouncing to Bartley Madden, of New York. Madden took all sorts of chances through the 18 minutes, trying to connect with wild swings, but his much bigger opponent had little trouble evading most of Bartley's slams. Madden's left eye was cut in the second round and beginning with the fourth it was completely closed.

In the other bouts of an all-heavyweight show, "Knockout" Bill Brennen, of Chicago, defeated Fred Lange, of Minneapolis, in three rounds, the referee stopping the bout. Paul Sansom, of New York, won in six hard rounds with K. O. Sansom, of Philadelphia.

ARTIE ROOT KAYOED

Philadelphia, March 17.—Artie Root, of Cleveland, was knocked out here tonight in the fourth round of the star bout at the National club, when he failed to get up at the count of ten, after being dropped by Danny Frush, of England. Root was not completely knocked out. He had his full bearings after being floored, but evidently missed Referee Joe Griffo's count. When Griffo reached seven, Root smiled and said "You've got two more to go," but at nine Artie was still looking up at the referee, who finished the necessary toll for a knockout.

South Carolina university, Columbia, S. C., April 17.

The Citadel, Charleston, S. C., April 17.

Little Rock college, Little Rock, Ark., April 24.

The matches with Auburn, Emory, Wofford college and Little Rock college have been definitely planned.

The following officers have been elected by the Tech Rifle club: J. M. Slaughter, of Meridian, Miss., president; C. A. McRee, of Watkinsville, Ga., vice president; A. A. Black, of Lakeland, Fla., secretary; M. O. Berry, of Columbus, Ga., treasurer; Capt. A. L. Pendleton, Jr., executive officer.

A squad of 30 men will be selected this week, those having the highest scores to date in gallery practice being chosen. At present E. D. Sledge, of Athens, Ga., is acting captain of the squad.

Commission Post Will Probably Go To 'Bill' Edwards

Old Princeton Star Will Be Named by Heydler and Johnson as a Compromise—Only Big Upset Will Keep Him Out.

Magnets may stew and fret over the appointment of a successor to Garry Herrmann on the National commission, but the stewing and fretting and additional delays only make it appear all the more certain that William H. (Big Bill) Edwards, of Princeton fame, will ultimately land the plum.

Advices seeping through official channels in the past few days, are to the effect that Edwards will be named by Messrs. Ban Johnson and John Heydler as a compromise candidate, and also as a testimonial that the American league executive will not chance further antagonizing Colonel Ruppert and Colonel Houston, of the New York Yankees, and Harry Frazee, of the Boston Sox. Only a sensational upset in the deal will keep Edwards out of the vacancy.

For several weeks Johnson has been angling for an opportunity to name Henry Woodruff, Chicago sport writer. This opportunity never came because eastern magnates insist upon having an eastern man on baseball's supreme court bench, with Johnson and Heydley President Hydler, of the National, has been holding out for John Conway Toole, legal adviser of the senior circuit, but Toole's appointment will not be satisfactory to eastern owners in the American.

Only one week ago Johnson was indirectly given to understand that Edwards was the favorite of Messrs. Ruppert and Houston for the big chair job, and now the executive of the American is using his persuasive powers to convince Heydler that "Big Bill" is the right man —and Heydler is just about convinced for the sake of harmony.

William H. Edwards has long been identified with athletics and especially football. While at Princeton he won a nation-wide reputation. Although never officially connected with professional baseball, Edwards is a student of the game. Edwards' reputation for fairness and fearlessness has given him a large following in eastern collegiate sport circles. He is now serving as collector of internal revenue in New York city, a large and important post in which he handles millions of dollars annually.

Edwards is a personal friend of Colonel Ruppert whom he met in his work as revenue collector. Edwards was born in 1876, and was graduated from Princeton in 1900. Although never seeking the National commission job, it is known Edwards has consented to accept if the berth is tendered to him. Johnson, it is said, realizes he can do more to cement the bonds of friendship between the eastern magnates and himself, by naming Edwards than in any other way. He is willing to surrender his personal choice in the matter ot that particular end. Eastern National league magnates have already aproved Edwards although some of the western National owners favor Mr. Toole.

PREP BASEBALL WORK HALTED BY J. PLUVIUS

By Roy E. White.

Just as the coaches of the various and sundry prep teams of Atlanta and vicinity were beginning to see something like real baseball outfits for their respective schools, Mr. J. Pluvius, with his well known water bucket, forced his obnoxious presence upon them, causing a layoff for awhile, and setting the spring training program back a couple of notches.

On Tuesday afternoon, however, the teams of Tech High, Boys' High and Peacock put in a hard afternoon of their work on their diamonds at Piedmont park, and seem to be progressing rapidly along the right path. The rough corners are being rapidly knocked off by the coaches, and the clubs are rounding into excellent condition.

Wednesday afternoon all the diamonds at Piedmont park were transformed into excellent grounds for the pursuance of the great old game of water polo, but from a baseball standpoint, they were out of the question.

Tech High held swimming practice in the Y. M. C. A. pool Wednesday afternoon, and a large number of candidates reported to Coach Goulding for instruction. In this branch of sport, Tech High seems to have excellent prospects. Many of the team from last year have returned to school, and they have all been proven able and experienced tank men.

This is the first year that all of the prep schools in Atlanta have put swimming teams in the water, but the sport is rapidly growing in favor, and has already a large number of followers here.

Young Jack In Great Condition

Wire From Joe Levy States That Lawler Is in Wonderful Shape. Much Interest Taken in Tuesday Bout.

By Gene Hinton.

The mingling of Benny Valger, the far-famed "French Flash," and Jack Lawler, the "Nebraska Cyclone," in a ten-round bout at the Auditorium on the night of Tuesday, March 23, is creating a tremendous stir in sporting circles in Atlanta. There is a lot of speculation as to how the bout will come out, particularly as both fighters are claiming that they will knock the other's block off.

Valger comes to Atlanta heralded as the greatest featherweight in the world. Whether this rather broad statement be true or not, he will arrive here with a wonderful record of knockouts over strong and sturdy feathers, and with quite a few decisions over lightweights.

Before coming to this country, Benny held the title of the "Featherweight champion of France," where there are many

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

Rheumatic Sufferers!

Your Money Will Be Refunded if Two Bottles of Prescription C-2223 Do Not Give You Satisfactory Relief.

This guarantee is made in good faith. It is the expression of confidence of the manufacturers in the merits of Prescription C-2223 to benefit those who suffer with rheumatism, gout, lumbago and eruptive skin diseases caused by toxic poisons in the blood.

This is the guarantee which accompanies every package. Take two $1.50 bottles of Prescription C-2223 according to the directions given, following suggestions as to diet and daily habits. If, after this treatment has been used, no benefit is experienced, sufficient to justify the continuance of the medicine, take the two empty bottles back to the druggist from whom purchased and the $3.00 originally paid him will be cheerfully refunded. Your druggist reports your case and is promptly reimbursed.

Of course there are cases of long standing that require the use of several bottles to accomplish the results desired, but if no benefits are derived after taking two regular size bottles Prescription C-2223 —considered a fair test—then there may be some doubts as to whether further use of the prescription is advisable.

Time and experience have demonstrated that the reasoning of the specialist who first formulated this prescription, was based on unusual knowledge of those diseases caused by acid or toxic poisons in the blood. He made a study of such diseases; by continued experiments, he knew what drugs produced the quickest and best results. In the treatment of hundreds of his patients, he had ample opportunity to test, again and again, the curative properties of his own prescription, which is now known as Prescription C-2223.

If you suffer from rheumatism or any of the diseases caused by poisoned blood, take Prescription C-2223. The use of this great blood purifier is almost the same as consulting a specialist, for every bottle represents what the originator and many other medical authorities on such diseases would prescribe for you.

Prescription C-2223 contains no mercury, chloral, strychnine, morphine, cocaine or other habit forming or dangerous drugs. It is a concentrated liquid preparation of certain drugs having marked influence on those diseases caused by blood poisons which are produced within the system, as well as those which enter from without. Prescription C-2223 stands above all other remedies as an alterative of great power. It restores normal functions to those organs or tissues which are not naturally performing their full work; changes diseased conditions into conditions of health. It also acts especially on the excretory organs, aiding nature in removing impure products from the body.

A valuable aid to Prescription C-2223 is a mild cathartic that does not sicken or gripe. This pill stimulates the secretions of the liver, tones up and regulates the bowels. It is known as the 2223 Liver Pill and sells for 25c. As one is a dose, and no bad effects result from their use, they can be used by young and old alike.

Prescription C-2223 is guaranteed and sold by all good druggists at $1.50 a bottle, or the complete treatment of two bottles and a box of Pills for $3.25. If you cannot be supplied, write the 2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn. Send name and address for literature, 1920 Almanac and a sample of the Liver Pills.

good men in his division. He came to the United States after a most successful career in his native land, and proceeded at once to cut a wide swath in the featherweight division in this country.

Quite a good deal of success was predicted for him upon his arrival in the United States, but his record in the last few months has exceeded by far anything that even his fondest admirers had hoped for. He has literally swept everything before him in his flight to the dizzy height he has reached, and he has included many titleholders as has victims.

Valger Beat Ray.

After mussing up Jole Ray, the British champion, in a 12-round affair, almost knocking that worthy out for the county, Valger stopped Jimmy Hall, the rugged Australian champ, in a recent bout, after a few rounds of hard fighting. Valger's record at that time was such that Johnny Kilbane, the champion of the world, was forced to recognize the right of Benny's for a bout so the two met in Newark some weeks ago.

In this bout, to say nothing of his previous mills, Valger clearly demonstrated his right to be serious thought of as a strong contender for the crown. He completely outboxed, outgeneraled, outfought, and in every way outclassed the clever Kilbane, and in one round, after Johnny had been enveloped in a torrent of boxing gloves, the already shaky crown held by Kilbane almost became Valger's, and it was only the wonderful stamina and staying-power of Kilbane that enabled him to weather the storm.

The cleverness and science that Valger has exhibited in his recent bouts has made fight critics of the east, where good and clever fighters abound, gasp with astonishment. He has made a number of these same "good and clever" fighters look foolish by his bewildering style, and if Benny Leonard could be sliced down to about 125 pounds and still retain his wonderful skill and grace and hitting power, he would be nothing more nor less than Benny Valger.

To say that a fighter is a pocket-edition of the great Leonard is indeed covering quite a bit of territory, but he has earned this right. He is like Leonard in his type of fighting — wonderful footwork, quick hitting and much display of boxing skill. He is also like Leonard, inasmuch as he is a terrific hitter with both hands, and that he goes into an opponent from the first round of the bell to put him away.

Wants Title Mill.

This is a characteristic that makes for popularity with boxing enthusiasts. Valger is fighting now to get a crack at Kilbane in a decision bout, and he takes his opponent in every bout as an obstacle in his path to the top. For this reason, if for no other, he is on top of him from the start. He vows and declares that there should be no question about his ability to put little Jack Lawler away for the count in jig time, but the same Jack Lawler avows differently.

The little Oklahoma boy knows what he has before him in this bout and he is training for it as he has never trained before. A recent communication from Joe Levy, the genial and rotund manager of Lawler, stated that his protege was in excellent shape for the bout.

That is very cheering news, and if Jack Lawler is defeated in this bout, it will be known that lack of trim was not the cause of his downfall. Lawler is very young and can get into excellent condition after a few days' training. For this reason, he has been in the habit of waiting until three or four days before his various fights to get in shape for them. The news that he is in fine shape with the bout a week off insures that he will step into the ring in the very pink of condition.

Confidence in Jack.

Joe Levy has a world of confidence in his boy, and he has a perfect right to feel proud of him. In the space of a year Jack Lawler has made a name for himself. His rise from the pit of, obscurity to a rarefied position in the featherweight division reads like a novel.

About a year ago Jack Lawler made his first showing here. He looked good, but he was never taken very seriously as a championship contender. In fact, at that time Jack himself was not taking the game very seriously. He was but 18 years old, and was just learning the rudiments of boxing. Fighting seemed to come natural to him, being Irish, and he was seen at once to be a tough and aggressive boy.

Then said year dragged by, and now Jack Lawler blossomed forth as a real contender. He is fast, a good boxer, very shifty on his feet, and is, as always, a fighter. He came through with flying colors in recent bouts with Young Chaney and Johnny Dundee, both having a great advantage on him in point of ring service.

Jack has never been floored in an Atlanta ring, and he stoutly maintains that he will keep on his two pins in his bout with Valger. The question is, whether he will or not, but, anyway, he will have plenty of followers at the Auditorium on Tuesday night, for Jack is one of the best-liked boxers who has ever fought before a local audience.

"Mac" is arranging an excellent card of preliminaries, the participants of which are to be announced later. It is a strong possibility that Stanley Meeghan, the tough little Irishman, who gave Freddie Boorde such a nifty lacing in the last show, will meet Battling Barnett, of Miller's stable, in the 10-round semi-windup. This should be a great fight.

YALE SWIMMERS BREAK TWO RECORDS IN MEET

New Haven, Conn., March 17.—Two intercollegiate records were smashed here tonight by Yale swimmers, who defeated Harvard in a dual meet by a score of 48 to 5. Edwin Binney, Jr., of Sound Beach, Conn., broke the record for the fifty-yard swim, hanging up a mark of 24 3-5 seconds. The Blue relay team battered its own record for the 200-yard relay race by winning the event in one minute 39 4-5 seconds.

Return Suicide Verdict.

A verdict of suicide was returned at the coroner's inquest into the death of J. M. Thompson, of Greensboro, found in the rear of 260 Capitol avenue Tuesday morning. It was found that Thompson had been a patient at the Piedmont sanitarium, sufferine from nervous disorders, and had left the sanitarium without the knowledge of attendants.

COURT OF APPEALS PUTS BOWIE TRACK OUT OF BUSINESS

Annapolis, Md., March 17.—The court of appeals rendered a decision today putting the Bowie race track out of business unless the legislature passes the pending bill to create a racing commission for Prince Georges county and the meet scheduled for the first week in April cannot be held.

This is the second decision of the court against the Bowie track. In the first case the court held that the law did not permit beeting on the races in Prince Georges county. Just prior to the meet last November, the race track owners secured an injunction from Judge Camalier to restrain the state's attorney and the sheriff from interfering with the betting.

The lower court denied the motion of the state's atttorney to dissolve the injunction, and the case was taken to the court of appeals. Meanwhile the racing men went on as usual without the interference of the authorities.

STRAIGHT RAIL BILLIARD CHAMP WILL PLAY HERE

George E. Spears, champion of the world at straight rail billiards, and his troupe of star players will be in Atlanta Friday and will appear in exhibition games in the afternoon and evening.

Mr. Spears will play a 200-point billiard match with the best player in this city. He holds the world's record high run of 5,041 at straight rail billiards, and at Cleveland last week, he made an unfinished run of 223 at 18.2 balk line billiards.

Touring with the champion is the "Masked Marvel," famous as an exponent of the pocket billiard game, and he will be ready to meet all comers at the pool game. He has a high run of 147 at rack pool.

A reward of $100 is offered to anyone guessing the identity of the masked player, as he has never appeared in public unmasked. The attraction carries six players, and during their stay here will exhibit at the Pastime Poolroom on Peachtree street.

WALTER GOYNE WINS HUDSON BAY DOG DERBY

The Pas, Manitobaa, March 17.—Walter Goyne, the Alaskan, won the Hudson Bay dog derby here yesterday. Pranteau was second, and Hayes third. The winner's time was 13 hours and 22 minutes in the 100-mile course.

Goyne, the winner, is the famous crippled Alaskan musher who lost both feet as a result of freezing on the Alaskan trails some years ago. Pranteau, the second man, finished one hour and a half after Goyne.

TECH ELECTRICAL STUDENTS TO HEAR COLLIER ON SALES

W. R. Collier, general sales manager of the Georgia Railway and Power company, will address the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at Georgia Tech this evening on "Sales Engineering." Mr. Collier's talk will be given on the first floor of the Academic building.

The members of the senior class in the departments of electrical and mechanical engineering at Georgia Tech will make an inspection trip to Birmingham the latter part of May. About fifty men will make the trip, which will take six days and include visits to about ten industrial concerns.

Preparatory to this trip, at one of the future meetings of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Professor R. S. King, of the experimental engineering department, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Manufacture of Iron and Steel." Another trip planned by the electrical department will be made to the hydro-electrical development at Tallulah Falls some time in April or May. Another talk scheduled will be given by C. E. Bennett, special engineer of the Georgia Railway and Power company, on "Lightning Arresters."

WOMAN ASTRONOMER DISCOVERS NEW STAR

Oscar Mills, chairman of the county commission, is rapidly recovering from an attack of influenza. He expects to attend the meeting of the public works committee Saturday.

GOOD PRICES BROUGHT IN SUMTER STOCK SALE

Americus, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Four hundred and twenty head of hogs and 44 head of cattle sold at the farmers' co-operative sale here today netted their owners approximately $15,000. George O. Marshall, county farm demonstration agent, announced tonight that 50 farmers participated in the sale and the hogs and cattle were purchased by the White Provision company, of Atlanta. Hogs offered in the sale brought $14.45 per 100 pounds for No. 1's, and cattle, most of which were scrub stock, sold at $8.85 per 100 pounds. The sale was the largest event of its kind ever held in this section.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATES TO BE OPENED FRIDAY

Begin Elimination Contests for Spring Meeting in Athens.

The annual debates between the various high schools of the state to determine the prize debating schools which will participate in the spring meeting to be held at Athens this year, begin tomorrow, according to the program announced yesterday by Professor Joseph S. Stewart, director of high school education of the University of Georgia.

The subject to be debated this year is: "Resolved, That the county school superintendent should be elected, in principle, as city superintendents usually are by their boards."

This question was an issue at the last session of the Georgia general assembly, at which time the negative won and popular election of county superintendents was retained.

Schools signifying their intention to enter the contests have been grouped in triangles for the preliminary debates, in so far as such grouping has been possible. Each school presents two teams of two debaters each, one of whom may be a girl, one team of the affirmative and one team on the negative, the affirmative team debating at home and the negative team away from home. Should two of the schools in any triangle fail to debate, the district president shall assign the remaining team to some other group.

The groupings by agricultural school districts reported to Professor Stewart are as follows:

First district: Waynesboro-Statesboro; Metter-Millen.

Second district: Meigs-Cairo-Donaldsville; Pavo-Tifton-Moultrie; Pedham-Sylvester.

Third district: Americus-Cordele-Fitzgerald; Ashburn-Vienna-Unadalia; Dawson-Montezuma-Marshallville; Cuthbert-Fort Gaines-Luhmpkin; Shellman-Richland-Plains; Ellaville-Smithville-Americus A. & M.

Fifth district: Kirkwood-College Park; East Point-Fairburn; Decatur-Union City-Conyers.

Sixth district; Gray-Monticello; Forsyth-Thomaston.

Eighth district: Covington-Roystion.

Ninth district: Lawrenceville-Canton; Commerce-Winder-Buford.

Tenth district: Wrens-Thomson.

Twelfth district: Swainsboro-Graymont-Summit; Eastman-Fort Valley.

RAILWAY COMMISSION BACK FROM SAVANNAH

Members of the state railroad commission returned yesterday from Savannah, where they had a public hearing on the petition of the receiver of the Savannah Electric company for an increase of street car fares. The hearing ended sooner than had been anticipated, as it had been supposed that several days would have been consumed in the presentation of evidence and argument. Chairman Murphey Candler said that it would probably be at least a week before the commission would be able to announce its decision in the matter.

The hearing on the petition of the railroads entering Savannah to open freight depots at 8 o'clock instead of 7, also ended very quickly, as the Savannah chamber of commerce withdrew its objections and agreed to the later opening hours.

No further hearings will be held by the commission until March 23, for which date a number of petitions have been set.

A petition was received yesterday from the Central Georgia Power company, asking for an increase in rates charged in the Macon territory.

A. S. ADAMS LEAVES TODAY TO ATTEND ROTARY BUSINESS

Albert S. Adams, president of the International Association of Rotary Clubs, leaves Atlanta today for a trip embracing a number of cities of the United States and Canada, where he will attend a series of district Rotary conventions. Flaming, Itching Skin Diseases

Cause untold suffering that could be avoided.

It is now pretty generally conceded that a great majority of the suffering that the human family undergoes, comes through ignorance, and hence could be avoided.

This sounds like a broad statement, and yet it is only too true. So many people are dragging through life the victim of some chronic ailment that is either misunderstood or mistreated, when intelligent, rational treatment would restore them to their normal healthy condtiion.

Diseases of the skin come from beneath the surface, hence they can be reached only by remedies that penetrate down to their very source.

And right here lies the secret of so much continued suffering from so-called skin diseases. Simply because the disorder is manifested by irritation, itching and often a breaking out and inflammation of the surface of the skin, the patient is misled into believing that the entire trouble is confined to this local disorder.

Hence the mistake is made of believing that the proper treatment is the application of local remedies to the affected parts. Very often the itching and irritation are so severe that you feel disposed to try almost anything for relief, and that is why you rely upon local treatment of salves, ointments, washes and such remedies.

But these remedies cannot possibly have any real curative effect upon the trouble, because your disease comes from far below the surface. The condition of your skin depends entirely upon the condition of your blood. Hence when you are afflicted with what is commonly called a skin disease, you may be sure that the real trouble is with your blood, and must be treated through the blood, if you expect real rational relief.

S. S. S. is the most satisfactory remedy for diseases of the skin because it is the most thorough blood remedy ever discovered. It searches out and removes all impurities from the blood.

Mr. Joe Katorkin, a leading furniture dealer of San Antonio, Texas, writes: "After six weeks of continued use of S. S. S., and bathing the affected parts as directed by you, I wish to advise that I am wholly relieved of the miserable disease which has afflicted me for more than twelve years. I can highly recommend S. S. S. to anyone, and I wish to thank you for the personal advice given me in my case, which was positively beneficial."

If you are afflicted with eczema, tetter, erysipelas, ringworms, pimples, acne, scaly eruptions, boils, irritations of the skin, or other similar disorders, you need not expect any real relief from local applications, and the sooner you discard their use, the sooner you will be on the road to recovery, provided you will rely upon the use of S. S. S.

This fine old blood remedy goes direct to the seat of the blood of all impurities and distrouble, and by cleansing the ease germs, it keeps the skin free from infection, and restores it to its normal, healthy condition.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITTAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth.

Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asseverated would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly.

Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious pomade.

I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalko.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoos (which contain alkalis) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalko contains those elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

New York, March 17.—The cotton market showed renewed strength and activity today, old crop months making new high ground on covering and trade buying accompanied by reports of an improved spot demand for export. May contracts sold up to 37.74, or 52 points net higher, and closed at 37.71.

The general list closed firm at a net advance of 15 to 55 points, except for April, which was nominally 20 points lower. There was no business in April and the closing quotations merely reflected a readjustment after the marking up of the price yesterday.

The market showed some hesitation at the start owing to the sharp break in Liverpool and private cables which reported some selling on a less favorable view of German politics. The optimistic idea of the German situation still seemed to prevail here, however, and after opening 19 points higher to 7 points lower, the market quickly turned firm.

Liverpool and domestic trade interests were both good buyers of May and July, while there was also scattered buying on the firmness of sterling exchange and unfavorable weather for new crop preparations in the eastern belt.

Later covering became more active owing to reports that exporters were good buyers of spot in eastern belt markets and a private message from Dallas, which said buying orders had been received there from Germany again today and that the buyers were offering payment in New York. March sold up to 40.24, a new high record, while July advanced to 34.87 and October to 31.96, making net advances of about 24 to 56 points. The close was only a few points off from the best under realizing.

The early trading feature was the trade and Liverpool buying, but later there was a broadening demand through commission houses.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK.

NEW ORLEANS SCORES MODERATE ADVANCES

New Orleans March 17.—Moderate advances marked the trading of the greater part of the session in cotton today as the result of buying based on the improvement in the German situation and on continued unfavorable weather conditions in the belt.

The opening was higher and the improvement continued with only one or two recessions, until the trading months were 25 to 34 points over the last prices of yesterday. In the early afternoon there was a reaction which carried prices off almost to the level of yesterday's finals, but at no time were net declines established. Late in the day the tone was very steady on expectations of an unfavorable weather map in the morning.

The close was 19 to 29 points up net for the day.

Selling on the session was for the most part in the way of liquidation of long cotton, although during the period of lowest prices short selling came on the market as the result of rumors of fresh labor troubles in the steel industry.

Liverpool was very poor and kept bullish operations down to moderate limits in the early session, but the market retained a steady undertone throughout the day and much of the steadiness was due to reports of excessive moisture in the eastern belt and too dry a top soil in portions of Texas.

New Record for Spot Cotton

Atlanta spot cotton yesterday shattered all records since civil war days when it was quoted by the Atlanta Commercial Exchange at 42 cents per pound, basis good middling. Middling spot prices ruled steady at 40 cents per pound.

Wednesday's quotation for spots exceed by 80 points the peak price of the upward wave of cotton prices near the close of 1919, the record for that movement being 41.20 cents per pound as quoted by the Atlanta Commercial Exchange on last November 11. After making this point, spot cotton hit a downward movement that lasted until the beginning of the present upward trend.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, March 17.—(Special.)—Liverpool was sharply lower on the more unfavorable reports from Germany and the improvement in the foreign exchange situation. Here the market failed to meet the decline abroad, as it was felt that any improvement in exchange increased the value of cotton on this side. In addition, there were heavy rains in the Atlantic states which will again delay crop preparations. During the day some large profit taking made its appearance, but the offerings were well absorbed by trade and local buying. The trade here is now looking for higher prices on the theory that no cotton has been attracted here on March and, consequently, that both May and July are relatively too low. At the same time it is well to be careful about following the advance at these prices, although the market shows no signs of weakness.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, March 17.—(Special.)—Near positions continue to reflect the strength of the spot situation and the market shows a strong upward tendency. The weekly weather report shows a discouraging outlook for the new crop. Purchases on recessions seem the best policy for the present.

MOSS & FERGUSON.

New York, March 17.—(Special.)—The New York market paid no attention whatsoever to the very weak early Liverpool market, and notwithstanding the continuance of the unsettlement in the German situation, the demand, especially for the near months, continued unabated. Today's advance was in the face of persistent selling of substantial proportions from professional sources, and unless international affairs take a turn for the worse, the same difficulty may be found in covering today's short selling, as has been experienced on every other recent attempt. Reactions from time to time will be natural, but if indications are that we continue to be in a bull market, advantages should be taken of reactions to make purchases.

JOHNSTON BROS.

New York, March 17.—(Special.)—The Liverpool decline was the result of an improvement in exchange rates and fear of further disturbanve in Germany. Our market disregarded this and advanced quietly. Unfavorable weather advices were not reflected in new crop position movements, but the strength was in the near months. Experts are holding up well in face of conditions abroad, and we anticipate a higher market, but suggest buying only on recessions.

J. W. JAY & CO.

New Orleans, March 17.—(Special.)—Higer prices were made today on buying, stimulated mainly by the apparent settlement of the German political trouble. There also was buying on the continued wet weather in the belt. In the early afternoon there was short selling on the rumor of fresh labor troubles in the steel industry, but the tone was very steady toward the close on fear of another unfavorable weather map tomorrow morning. If it materializes, we probably will see further advances.

DUGGAN & BOUDEN.

New York, March 17.—(Special.)—While Liverpool cables were much lower than due at the time of our opening, this influence was ignored and the unfavorable weather east of the Mississippi received important attention. Furthermore, good demand for spot cotton for export is reported generally over the belt, and particularly from the Atlantic states. It is particularly noteworthy that Germany is reported as buying cotton in Texas with New York reimbursements. Notwithstanding the rise in the market recently approximately 6 cents per pound, the tone and strength today were as good as at any time. Yet it is believed that many people in the trade who have been successful on the rise are liquidating.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.

New Orleans, March 17.—(Special.)—The cotton market displayed a strong undertone today. In the afternoon bullish sentiment again asserted itself on a report that Von Kapp, the German revolutionary leader, had resigned, causing a more hopeful feeling as to the outcome of the situation in Germany. Fear of further rains in the Atlantics overnight also stimulated short covering in the late trading. Judging by today's sales in this market, a better spot demand is developing, although the inquiry thus far is principally for good middling. Heavy washing rains were reported in the Atlantics, and if they continue, they may cause considerable devs in crop preparation in that section. The market seems to have strong support, even on moderate declines, and unless weather conditions improve in the near future, may work to still higher levels. However, we prefer buying on dips for the present.

NORMAN MAYER & CO.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, March 17.—Cotton seed oil was dull and featureless today, prices being sustained by the bullish showing on the other commodity markets. Leading months closed 9 to 12 points net higher. Sales 7,300 barrels. Prime crude $17.00@17.50; prime summer yellow spot $19.60; prime winter yellow and summer white nominal.

The market closed strong. March and April $19.25; May $20.17; June $20.20; July $20.40; August and September $20.50; October $18.75.

STOCKS STRONG LATE IN SESSION

Many Substantial Gains Registered at Market's Close on News of Secretary of Treasury's Advice.

New York, March 17.—Stocks were active and strong at the opening today, dull and uncertain during the intermediate session and higher than at any previous period in the final hours, when many substantial gains were registered.

The spirited rebound in the later trading followed word from Washington that the secretary of the treasury had advised against the imposition of a tax on stock dividends until the beginnnig of next year.

Equipments, motors and oils, as featured by Baldwin Locomotive, Stutz and Mexican Petroleum, led the sudden and vigorous advance towards the end, Baldwin gaining 13 points and Stutz 20, while some two-score less prominent issues made net gains of 3 to 10 points.

Crucible Steel and General Motors, which again created much unsettlement by their erratic course, finished at comparatively nominal gains, after having fluctuated within a 10-point radius.

Stocks which manifested greatest strength in the feverish activity of the close were those directly in line for stock dividends. The more stable industrials and rails made relatively little headway, though strengthened at the end.

Other developments of the day ranged from favorable to the reverse. Call money was freely offered at 6 per cent after opening at 8, but foreign exchange was unsteady and industrial conditions, as viewed by trade authorities, were clouded by fuel and freight car shortage.

A belated rise in Liberty 3½s and the better tone of high-grade rails were the features of an irregular and contrasted bond market, international recordings a material change. Sales, par value, aggregated $10,875,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

FRESH ADVANCES IN CORN AND OATS

Reports of Bubonic Plague in Argentina and Foodstuffs Buying in New York for Exports Causes—Provisions Also Gain.

Chicago, March 17.—Fresh upward swings in the value of corn took place today simultaneously with reports of bubonic plageu in Argentina and of export buying of foodstuffs at New York.

The corn market closed strong, 1¾ to 2¼c net higher, with May $1.57¼ to $1.57½, and July $1.50⅛ to $1.50⅜. In oats the finish ranged from ¼c decline to 1⅝c advance. Provisions scored gains of 12 to 25c.

Corn began to ascend as soon as the market opened, but heavy selling to realize profits led to a decided break before the market went soaring in earnest. Nearly all of the news which developed was adverse to the bears, but the feeling was prevalent that some sort of a reaction would result from the fact that sinve February 9 there had been an extreme rise of 32c.

Initial advances, due to Argentine advices, were therefore made the signal for general sellihg. Independent strength shown by oats, however, helped the sharp rally that followed, and so, too, did persistent gossip of big purchasing to supply trans-Atlantic needs, emphasized by reported difficulties in Argentina.

Eastern shipping demand lifted cash oats here to 97½c, the topmost figures on record.

CURB SECURITIES

New York, March 17.—Prices in the curb market today followed an uncertain trend during the first four hours of trading, but in the last hour there was active bidding, which put values, principally in the oil group, up to very steady levels. The volume of business increased appreciably on the late rise and caused a run-in of the short interests.

NUNNALLY STOCK SENT AS DIVIDEND OF LOCAL CONCERN

The Atlanta Securities Sales company yesterday mailed to its stockholders shares of Nunnally Candy company common stock as dividends on securities sales stock in the ratio of three-fuorts of one share of Nunnally to one share of Securities Sales. The local concern points out in a letter explaining the issuing of the Nunnally stock that listing of Nunnally on the New York stock exchange is in progress, and that it is hoped to be completed in the very near future.

A convention of the Securities Sales company, whose head offices are located here, will be held in Atlanta on April 8, 9 and 10, when representatives from all of the branch offices of the various southern cities will attend. A large number of bankers and financiers from the southeastern states will also be present.

In addition to business meetings, an interesting program consisting of social functions, a dance, banquet, automobile rides, theater party and other social affairs will be arranged for the attending guests. A regular program has not yet been arranged and the place for the meeting has not been selected, but these will be decided on and announced next week.

ATHENS KIWANIS CLUB PRESENTED WITH ITS CHARTER

Athens, Ga., March 4.—(Special.) Athens now has a chartered Kawanis club, with 79 members on its roster. The document binding the club to the international Kiwanis organization was delivered to the club Wednesday night by R. S. Wessels, Kiwanis governor for the district of Georgia, at a banquet at Athens' Y. M. C. A.

More than a hundred Kiwanians attended the gathering. Included in this number were the following Atlanta Kiwanians: President George P. Eubanks, Dr. Samuel Green, John Dupree, C. V. Weekly, Sam Cohen, Olin Stanton, Sam Greenberg, Norman Wrigley, L. G. Murray, R. E. Tracy, Jim Belcher, C. W. McClure, Fred Cooledge, J. E. Penn, Grady Walker, J. H. Spillane, A. W. Falkenburg, Jim Cochran, E. G. Skinner, R. C. McCoy, J. Sam Slicer, Harry Cohen, W. C. Webber and others.

The charter presentation meeting, which followed the banquet, was called to order and presided over by Blanton Fortson, president of the new Athens club. The program included a number of speeches by various members of both the home and visiting clubs, and a series of stunts and other entertainment features.

The Athens Kiwanis club is the sixth one in the state to receive a charter. Officers, in addition to President Fortson, are Charles Martin, vice president; Bob McWhorter, secretary and treasurer, and John White Morton, chairman of the governing board. Colonel Max Michael was chairman of the entertainment committee, and the reception committee for the occasion was headed by T. W. Baxter.

Three county commissioners were named, they being R. J. Dixon, J. M. Deason and C. H. Watkins

BIG AUDIENCE GREETS DORSEY AT AMERICUS

Americus, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Sumter country farmers and business men were today asked to subscribe approximately $350,00 to the capital stock of the proposed cotton bank, which, it is asserted, will enable southern cotton growers to market their product gradually and insure them a profit upon their investment of time and money in its production. Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, who is touring the state in the interest of the project, reached Americus this afternoon, and notwithstanding a heavy downpour, which commenced thirty minutes before he began speaking, was greeted by a large crowd of farmers and business men from all parts of the county.

The governor drove direct to the courthouse from Buena Vista, accompanied by a delegation of Americus men, and delivered his address in the superior court room. He spoke for a little more than an hour and explained the aims and purposes of the cotton bank to his hearers. At the conclusion of his address he was given an ovation by a number of his friends. He will spend tonight here.

Funeral for Thompson.

Greensboro, Ga., March 17.—(Special).—The funeral of J. M. Thompson was held here today from the home of his son, C. H. Thompson. Rev. L. E. Dutton, of Cartersville, conducted the services. Mr. Thompson's death occurred yesterday in Atlanta at a private sanitarium. He was one of the wealthiest citizens of Greene county, president of all well-known local firm, and connected with the Greensboro National bank. He is survived by one son, Calvin H. Thompson, of Greensboro. Interment was in city cemetery.

NORTH DAKOTA STORM CAUSES HEAVY LOSS

Results in Five Known Deaths and Thousands of Dollars Damages.

Bismarck, N. D., March 17.—Five known dead and thousands of dollars' damage to property was the toll of the two-day blizzard which swept this state, the worst in more than thirty years. The storm early today was reported to be gradually subsiding, with temperatures sinking.

One girl gave her life to save her sister and brother, while the heroic efforts of another youth proved futile, and he and his three brothers perished on the prairies during the storm.

When their sleigh was wrecked near Center by the wind, Hazel Miner, aged 18, took off her coat and wrapped it and blankets around her small brother and sister. For 24 hours they lay in the snow drifts before they were found by searching parties. Hazel was dead, but her action in bundling up the little ones saved their lives.

Adolph Wohlka made a gallant attempt to bring assistance to his three brothers when the team of horses he was driving home died from exhaustion, near Ryder. After making his three brothers as comfortable as possible, he set out for help. Twenty-four hours laters his father found him and the other three children frozen in deep snow drifts.

Virtually no freight trains were running in this state today and passenger service was slow.

Reports from Devil's Lake said that there were snow banks from 20 to 30 feet deep between there and Minot. Hotels at Devil's Lake were said to be unable to handle the stranded travelers there, and many persons were reported sleeping in coaches and railroad yards. Relief was expected today.

Standard Oil Company Is Sued by Alabamian, Following Explosion

Anniston, Ala., March 17.—(Special.)—Allen Britt, whose home at Delta, Clay county, was destroyed by a gasoline or oil explosion four months ago, killing two of his children and severely injuring Mr. and Mrs. Britt, has brought damage suits aggregating $150,000 in three federal courts in Alabama against the Standard Oil company. The allegation is made that the defendant company was responsible for the explosion by reason of its agent having put gasoline into a kerosene oil tank at a store where Britt later bought kerosene.

It is alleged that the merchant and the agent delivering the gasoline, both believing the gasoline would rise to the top of the oil in the tank, drew off 10 gallons, and that the merchant then sold the remainder to his customers, thinking it contained no gasoline. Britt claims he bought the first 5 gallons sold after the supposed withdrawing of the gasoline, and an explosion followed when he attempted to use it in his lamps, it is claimed.

The suits are all brought in the federal courts, one of the $50,000 suits being set down for hearing at the spring term of the federal court in this city. The others will be heard in Birmingham and Tuscaloosa.

LOSS NOT ANNOUNCED IN ALLEN STORE FIRE

Macon, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) The J. P. Allen store, Macon's newest department store, which opened for business here a month ago, and which was the scene of an early morning blaze today, was closed throughout today while insurance adjusters were busy figuring up the damage. Very little damage resulted from the flames, most of loss beoing due to smoke and water.

No estimate of the actual loss was made by General Manager Kline today, but it was stated it will reach several thousand dollars, but is covered by insurance. The fire, coming just at this time, was most inopportune. Macon merchants are in the midst of their annual observance of style show week and the Allen store has been taking a prominent part. A wedding ceremony was to have been performed in their show windows this evening, but the fire necessitated the holding of the wddding elsewhere.

WALKER OFFICIALS NAMED IN PRIMARY

Lafayette, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—The primary election yesterday resulted in the election of the following officers: For clerk of superior court, T. W. Bryan defeated John L. Rowland, incumbent; W. L. Stansell, incumbent, defeated G. W. Pierce for ordinary; Henry Brown was elected tax collector, succeeding T. M. Coffeey; A. C. Catron defeated W. E. Hixon for sheriff; J. A. Sartain defeated R. D. Love, incumbent, for county school superintendent. The board of county commissioners elected are Claude Clements, S. P. Hall, J. R. McFarland, D. S. Abercrombie and M. A. McConnell.

CIGARETTES For Your Health

Cigarettes are now being made without either tobacco or cubebs. They contain fragrant and soothing medicinal herbs which smoke perfectly. This medicated vapor is inhaled; then exhaled through lips or nose, with real contentment.

Not only does the smoker have more pleasure but there is a valuable remedial treatment. First, let it be known that these cigarettes are an aid in warding off influenza and colds. Second, they are purposed to give relief in throat irritations, hoarseness, catarrh of the head or throat and in stopping those roarings, buzzings, or other head noises, and in reducing deafness of which colds and catarrh are the cause. Do not confuse these with the cubeb or other similar cigarettes. No nicotine—nothing habit-forming. No nervousness. Cost no more than other good quality cigarettes and at same time you have a health-benefiting, harmless, delightful smoke.

At the drug store ask for Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes. Or you may buy it in pipe mixture or for burning on a holder (which many women prefer); but the main thing is to get a box now and enjoy a delightful surprise. If you desire a trial package, send 10 cents (silver or stamps) to the Blosser Company, SB-11, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

She Charges Uncle Sam With Alienating Love Of Rich Indian Hubby

Topeka, Kan., March 17.—Charging a conspiracy by three government agents to alienate the affections of her 70-year-old husband, Jackson Barnett, millionaire Indian, Mrs. Anna Laura Lowe Barnett today filed an answer and cross-petition in the supreme court.

Mrs. Barnett asked the court not to grant the petition of the government agents who brought habeas corpus proceedings to replace Barnett in charge of his federal guardian, C. J. O'Harnett, of Henryetta, Okla.

The three agents named are Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs; G. E. Parker and J. C. Davis. Barnett and Mrs. Lowe were married in Coffeyville last month. The government agents have charged her with virtually kidnaping the aged Indian.

Aged Savannah Woman Claims She Is 107; Fought in Civil War

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—The recent celebration of the 100th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Georgia Nathans, of this city, has discovered another centenarian in Savannah, Mrs. Lucy Matilda Kenney, of 1111 Montgomery street, who claims with confidence that she can prove her claim to be 107 years old. She was born in Bladen county, N. C., November 21, 1812, she says.

Mrs. Kenney is unusually active for one of her years and talks freely. Advising others how to reach her long life, she advises, "Don't live too fast." She has been married twice and has had three sets of teeth. In the civil war, she declares, she donned a soldier suit and fought by the side of her husband, who was wounded thrice and finally killed in battle.

BIBB REPUBLICANS CLAIM HEAVY VOTE

Macon, Ga., March 17.—(Cpecial.) The republican party in Bibb county plans ot have 4,000 registered negro voters in this county by the time the November presidential election rolls around. This was decided at the republican county convention. E. L. Wheaton, negro lawyer, has been named president of the county organization and delegate to the sixth district republican convention. He has also been nominated for a delegate's place at the national convention.

If the negroes succeed in registering 4,000 of the members of their race, they will have a voting strength within 1,000 of the democratic white voters, and 600 more than were polled in the last democratic election.

JUDGE LONG PASSES AT HOME IN QUITMAN

Quitman, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Judge W. H. Long died at his home here today of pneumonia. He had been judge of the city court since 1912 and had just been nominated in the county primary for another term. He was a member on the city board of education and a very prominent and beloved man. He was a graduate of Mercer university and the son of Judge Henry Long, of Leesburg. He had lived here about nineteen years and his widow was Miss Agnes Chapman, of this place.

Judge Long was about 40 years old, and is survived by his widow and three children, his parents; four brothers, E. T., H. T. and J. R. Long, of Leesburg, and F. T. Long, of Sutherland, Fla., and a sister, Miss Annie Long, of Leesburg. Funeral services will take place here tomorrow afternoon.

SLAYERS OF PINEORA WATCHMAN SOUGHT

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Officers are today following the first clue they have been able to find that may lead to the apprehension of the party or parties who murdered William Baxley, nightwatchman for the W. M. Exley Lumber company, at Pineora, Effingham county. Baxley was killed early Sunday morning while on duty at the mill, the entire top of his head being shot away.

There was no evidence of a struggle and no reason to believe that anything but robbery of the company's offices was a motive for the deed. The Pineora Manufacturing company has offered a large reward for the arrest and conviction of the slayers of their watchman.

Dublin to "Reopen."

Dublin Ga., March 17.—(Special.) Dublin schools are likely to reopen again next Monday after being closed about four weeks because of the influenza epidemic. Superintendent Martin stated today that the schools must make up the time lost, and they will probably have half day sessions on Saturdays for the next several weeks.

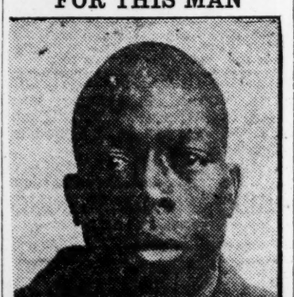

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking — Take Olive Tablets

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must keep your body free from poisonous wastes. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after efftct. Take one nightly and note results.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually. 10c and 25c.—(adv.)

10,320,000 BARRELS OIL CONTRACTED FOR Shipping Board Gets Fuel at 50 Per Cent Higher Prices Over Last Year.

(The Constitution—Philadelphia Public Ledger Service—Copyright, 1920.)

Washington, March 17.—Contracts for 10,320,000 barrels of fuel oil to be delivered over a period of the next six months were let by the United States shipping board today at prices approximately 50 per cent higher than those paid last year. The action of the board virtually amounted to the acceptance of bids submitted by the oil companies last month, and characterized by shipping board officials at that time as exorbitant. A recent survey of the oil situation made by Captain Paul Foley, the board's oil expert, convinced the board that the prices were the best that could be obtained if any appreciable amount of oil was to be obtained.

The contracts signed today, according to an announcement authorized by Admiral W. E. Benson, chairman of the board, call for deliveries on the gulf and Atlantic coasts as follows:

From the Mexican Petroleum company for the six months period beginning April 4:

From the Standard Oil company, of New Jersey, 2,925,000 barrels at New York, Baltimore, and Norfolk for a six months' period, beginning April 4, at 32.07 a barrel, including government transportation of 80 cents a barrel; and 2,800,000 barrels at New York, covering "topping, storage and redelivery, at $1.66 a barrel, including the government transportation charge.

SUING FOR DAMAGES, LOUIS DOLLAR DIES

Thomasville, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—The death here yesterday of Louis P. Dollar, whose funeral took place today, removes the plaintiff in a damage suit against Thomasville for $50,000. Dollar had a fall from an electric light pole while in the employ of the plant here in June, 1918, and he claimed that since that fall he had been incapacitated for active work. The suit was to have come up for trial in the city court here this week, but owing to the ban against flu, court was postponed until the term in June.

Edwin Dollar, a brother of Louis Dollar, died about two weeks ago, both befng victims of influenza, and the brother was said to have been perhaps the only witness in the case. Louis Dollar is survived by his wife and two small children, and it is said that she will take up the suit against the city.

PETERS FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING SHERIFF

Nashville, Tenn., March 17.—The trial of Rexford Peters and Donald Voorhies, charged with the murder of Sheriff M. H. Stephens, of Williamson county, last June while in his custody, ended at Centerville today in a verdict of not guilty for Voorhies and voluntary manslaughter for Peters with a sentence of two to ten years.

Sheriff Stephens had started with the two youths from Nolensville to Franklin to commit them to jail on charges of trespassing and destroying the property of others. The next morning the sheriff was found by the roadside dead, a bullet in his back and another through his head, and his prisoners gone. Voorhies claimed he had gone to sleep and awakened by a roaring sound; found the sheriff gone and did not know what had happened. Peters did not take the stand, but a plea of insanity was made for him.

Sugar Exported.

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Three steamers represented by one Savannah shipping agency, cleared last night and today for Havre with export cargoes, one of them carrying 5,000 tons of sugar.

Will Try Mrs. Innes In Macon on Charge In Federal Court

Macon, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) United States Commissioner W. E. Martin will be asked tomorrow morning by Assistant District Attorney E. Clem Powers to issue a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Ida Mae Innes, wife of Victor E. Innes, both of whom figured in the sensational disappearance of the two Nelms sisters several years ago. The latest accusation against Mrs. Innes, who will conclude a three-year sentence at the state farm within a few days, is that of using the mails to defraud.

The warrant will be served on Mrs. Innes when she leaves the state farm on March 23, and the preliminary hearing will be held in this city, although information on which the warrant was issued was forwarded to the district attorney's office here by the United States district attorney for the northern district of Georgia.

CLYDE LINER TOWED INTO HAMPTON ROADS

Norfolk, Va., March 17.—The Clyde line steamer Mohawk, with 214 passengers, which wis disabled Sunday off Cape Fear, was towed into Hampton Roads today by the coast guard cutter Manning. When picked up at sea the Mohawk was completely disabled, her machinery being crippled.

MISSISSIPPI GUARDS AGAINST BOLL WORM

Jackson, Miss., March 17.—Shipments into Mississippi of lint seed, or any form of cotton that might be infected, is prohibited except by special permit, by a decision announced at a meeting of the state plant board here today, the measure being taken to guard against the introduction of the pink boll worm, proving so disastrous in Texas and recently discovered in Louisiana.

Says Rid the System With Sulpherb Tablets Easily

Springtime always brings with it joy and distress. The distress is in the form of catarrh, neuraligia, rheumatic pains, constipation, inactive kidneys and usually a feverish, sluggish lethargy that is hard to throw off.

Do you remember how grandmother fed you sulphur and molasses every spring to purify the blood? It was a good, old-fashioned, but nauseous remedy. Now you can take sulphur, cream of tartar and herbs in tablet form. A better remedy, easy and pleasant to take is Sulpherb Tablets. Sold by all druggists. A laxative, blood purifier of unequalled merit for those who are constipated and suffering in any way from such pent-up poisons. Each package is guaranteed to give wonderfully satisfactory results. Be sure you get Sulpherb Tablets (not sulphur tablets.)—(adv.)

(By Constitution Leased Wire.)

Washington, March 17.—Raymond H. Adams, of Soperton, has been designated candidate of the twelfth Georgia district for the military academy entrance examination to be held beginning the third Tuesday in March.

White Soldiers Forced To Eat at Same Table With Negroes, Charged

San Antonio, Texas, March 17.—Charges that negro and white soldier patients at the base hospital at Fort Sam Houston are kept in the same wards and that the white partients are forced to eat the same tables with negroes are now under investigation by the office of Major General Meritte E. Ireland, surgeon general of the army, it was learned at southern department here.

A communication from General Ireland, asking for a report on conditions at the hospital with regard to the charges which were made by Miss E. M. Preston, for many years a principal in the public schools of this city, was received several days ago, it was learned, by Colonel Frances A. Winter, department surgeon, who referred it to Colonel George A. Skinner, commander of the hospital.

Miss Adina Dezavala, it is said, took the charges up with Representative John N. Garner, democrat, of Texas, at the request of Miss Preston, and Mr. Garner laid them before Secretary of War Baker.

In a letter to Mr. Garner, a copy of which has been received by Miss Dezavala, Secretary Baker says it has been the general policy of the army to "treat white and colored soldiers in different wards when practicable, or in different parts of the same ward with a dividing curtain separating the two races."

In certain instances this has not been found practicable, Secretary Baker says, "because of the nature of the disease or the demands as regard nursing."

General Ireland has been instructed to take "such corrective measures as may be practicable," Secretary Baker adds.

HAD TERRIBLE COUGH AND NIGHT SWEATS

Cough about gone, Eats and sleeps well, and gained 12 pounds.

"In December, 1913, I had a fearful cough, and my physician ordered me to change climate immediately. I went to San Antonio, Texas, and entered a sanitorium. Left there and came to Oklahoma City in October, 1915. Had no appetite, could not sleep, had night sweats and was losing from one to three pounds a week. I also had catarrh of the bowels, which the doctors had been unable to relieve.

"Relatives urged me to try Milks Emulsion. I did so and began to improve, slowly at first, but steadily. My weight has increased 12 pounds. I have no temperature, and my cough is about gone. I can eat heartily, sleep well, and am working at my trade again."—V. W. Neff, 610 No. Dewey St., Oklahoma City, Okla.

Nature does wonders in fighting off diseases, if given the chance. Milks Emulsion is a powerful help in providing strength and flesh. It costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatably that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Charles A. Smith Drug Co., 4 and 6 Peachtree street, and druggists elsewhere.—(adv.)

DECISION IS RENDERED ON HOME LEASE PLAN

Judge Bell Reverses Recent Decision of Judge L. F. McClelland.

On the ground that the expiration of a lease renders it invalid for renewal except by mutual agreement of the parties, Judge George L. Bell, of the Fulton superior court, on Wednesday rendered an order reversing a decision by Judge L. F. McClelland, of the municipal court, in favor of J. S. Allen, of 39 Vedado way.

The case was brought to Judge McClelland's court on dispossessory preceedings instituted against Mr. Allen by Mrs. Ella Montgomery, who had leased the residence to him. In court, Allen claimed that when the lease expired at the first of 1920 no mention was made of a renewal, and that he paid the January rent under the terms of the old lease, with still no mention of a new lease. The next month, however, he stated that he received notice of an advance in rent, which he refused to pay. Mrs. Montgomery then sought to dispossess him, but he refused to move out, and she carried the matter to the courts.

Judge McClelland decided with the defendant that she had no right to eject him under the circumstances. His decision was read with wide interest. The case was carried up to Judge Bell by Attorney Paul Etheridge, counsel for Mrs. Montgomery, on a writ of certiorari.

Under the ruling of Judge Bell, Mr. Allen will have to vacate. He was represented by Attorney J. C. Lancaster.

ORNSTEIN TO GIVE SECOND ATLANTA RECITAL TONIGHT

In his second appearance in this city, Leo Ornstein, the composer-pianist who has invoked the praise of some of America's most noted critics performs in Atlanta this evening at Eggleston hall. Miss Frances Newman and Miss Ellen Wolff are presenting him.

Since his advent in the world of music, Mr. Ornstein has made a startling impression on the music-lovers who have followed with interest and noted with enthusiasm his development. In technique he is the exponent of a new principle of music which he pursues in utter disregard of the traditions.

Mr. Ornstein was a visitor to Atlanta and gave a concert in his earlier stages of musical training. At the time of this first concert he was little more than a boy, yet his genius, both in composition and in his mastery of the most difficult selections, assured lovers of music that he was destined for a brilliant career.

West Point Candidates.

Washington, March 17.—Candidates designated to take the entrance examinations for admission to the United States military academy at West Point in June include: Alabama, L. Ray Stone, Centerville; Arkansas, Eugene Russell, Yellville; Georgia, Raymond H. Adams, Soperton; Mississippi, J. T. Wilson, French Camp; Oklahoma, Wallace Honnold, Tulsa; South Carolina, Willis Gregory, Cheraw, and James B. Gaffney, Gaffney; Tennessee, John R. Menzies, Jr., Dyersburg; Texas, Ernest K. Banner, Fort Worth, and Charles D. Murray, Union Stock Yards, San Antonio.

AMUSEMENTS

"Business Before Pleasure."

(At the Atlanta Tonight.)

Abe Potash and Mawruss Perlmutter are the principal characters in "Business Before Pleasure," the A. H. Woods production which will be seen for the first time here at the Atlanta theater tonight, when it begins an engagement of three nights and Saturday matinee. This screamingly funny comedy was the sensation of New York and Chicago, where the combined runs of the play ran something over three years. The comedy is based on the stories of Montague Glass and was dramatized by Charles Eckhart Goodman, who is also responsible for numerous Broadway successes. "Business Before Pleasure" has everywhere been pronounced the best and funniest show seen in many a day. The company which Mr. Woods will send to Atlanta is an exceedingly capable one.

"Auction of Souls."

(At the Tudor.)

Probably the most unusual motion picture star ever seen in Atlanta is Aurora Mardiganian, the heroine of "Auction of Souls," at the Tudor theater this week. Aurora is a beautiful Armenian girl, who was the sole survivor of a massacre in which 500,000 of her countrywomen were either butchered or sold into unspeakable slavery by the Turks. She escaped to America, and here agreed to portray on the screen the terrible sufferings, hardships and adventures through which she passed. The result is "Auction Souls," one of the most remarkable and impressive motion pictures ever filmed.

"Mary's Ankle."

(At the Rialto.)

Big crowds continue to flock to the Rialto to see Douglas MacNeal and Doris May, the two popular young co-stars, in their newest Paramount-Artcraft production, "Mary's Ankle," one of the most delightful comedies of the year. In this production these charming young stars have exceeded their previous efforts in "23½ Hours' Leave" and "What's Your Husband Doing?" This is the third picture these two have been starred in together, and each succeeding picture is more enthusiastically received than its predecessors.

"The Beauty Market."

(At the Criterion.)

In "The Beauty Market," the big photo-drama which is being presented this week at the Criterion, Katherine MacDonald portrays the part of a society girl whose beauty wins her the attention of wealthy admirers, and whose heart leads her to eschew the sham life she has been leading for a wholesome love. It is an even better role than the one she had in "The Thunderbolt," the picture in which she scored such a hit at the Criterion recently. Other features are "A Twilight Baby," a decided novelty in the way of comedy pictures; Fox News, a Mutt and Jeff comedy, and the Criterion orchestra; Dave Love, conductor.

"The Right of Way."

(At Forsyth Theater.)

A wonderful picturization of Sir Gilbert Parker's great novel, "The Right of Way," with Bert Lytell in the role of "Beauty" Steele, begins a three days' engagement at the Forsyth theater today. There are few, indeed, who have not read this most thrilling tale of the great north woods, and even those who have not yet will find in this compelling story one of the finest settings for a moving picture that has been offered upon the silver sheet in months. In selecting the players to support Mr. Lytell in "The Right of Way," the directors left no stone unturned to secure types who would portray just the characters the story calls for, and vast sums of money were thus expended; but the results have been more than worth while, for the rugged characters who have been woven into the story seem to step from the book upon the screen, they seem the living impersonation of the hardy folk about whom the tale is written. Among the famous supporting stars who appear in the picture are Leatrice Joy; Carmen Phillips, herself a star in her own right; Frank Currier, Antrim Short, Gibson Gowland, Henry Harmon, Virginia Caldwell and Larry Steers. This list of players represents a prized company of screen artists who, in the opinion of screen experts, will not alone portray their own roles with genuine distinction, but will render Mr. Lytell the collective support that his unique characterization of "Beauty" Steele requires. Ye Leatrice Joy has been given the part of Rosalie Eventurali, the French-Canadian girl who has so marked an influence over Charley Steele's life after he has, by a series of misadventures, become a dweller in the little town of Chaudiere, on the fringe of the wilderness. Miss Joy was engaged only by arrangement with George Loane Tucker, with whom this remarkable young actress has an extended contract. Carmen Phillips will appear in the role of Fanlette Dubois, the "scarlet woman."

Neil O'Brien Minstrels.

(Coming Again to Atlanta.)

With an increased number of good features, unusually good singing and new comedy, the Neil O'Brien Minstrels will appear again at the Atlanta theater on Monday night next, when they will begin an engagement of three nights and Wednesday matinee. This is the eighth annual tour of this organization, and Manager Oscar F. Hodge promises a show that will reveal a new and elaborate stage setting, a well-proportioned mixture of song, dance and comedy, and the same absence of coarseness that has been the foundation stone of the success of this organization. The list of comedian is a large one, including Bert Swor, "Sugarfoot" Gaffney, Dan Fitch, Bobby Gossans, Frank Quinn, Charles Strong, Fred Miller, George Faust, Howard Vail and Major Nowak, While the names of J. Lester Haberkorn, James Barardi, James Walbank, John Worland, Lea Laird, Richard Flournoy, Charles R. Wright, James B. Isbell, George Milner, Waldo Roberts, Edward O'House and James White go to make up the list of vocalists.

Seats go on sale Friday morning.

TODAY'S LYRIC BILL GIVEN HIGH PRAISE BY ALABAMA CRITIC

Declaring the show to be one of exceptional merit, The Birmingham Age-Herald of Tuesday has the following to say of the new Keith vaudeville bill opening at the Lyric here with today's matinee:

"The bill that is being offered to patrons of the Lyric for the first half of the week, which was witnessed by packed houses yesterday afternoon and night, lived up in every particular to the advance dope in that it was one of the best rounded bills that has appeared at the local theaters this season.

"Something out of the ordinary run of comedy playlets was offered by Mr. and Mrs. Mel-Burne in a wide-awake episode, entitled 'On the Fourth Floor,' which easily carried off the headline honors.

"Another cleevr little musical comedy sketch that could be easily classed as a headliner was presented by John and Winnie Hennings.

"'Blue' Bert Kenny, billed as a shuffling sort of person who is a blackface comedian par excellence, came in for a generous share of the headline honors.

"Ed and May Ernie, in 'Three Feet of Comedy,' proved to be a clever little act.

"Mang and Snyder, two master acrobats, called 'The Twentieth Century Wonders,' closed the bill with a number of difficult and hazardous feats."

Miniature Musical Comedy Will Head Program at Grand

The show to be given at Loew's Grand beginning with the matinee this afternoon will be headed by "I'll Say so," a miniature musical comedy, in which four talented performers will have a part and in which music, song, dance and comedy chatter will all have a part. It is said to be one of the brightest and snappiest acts of the Loew circuit and one that has scored heavily in every other town in which it has been seen.

Supporting it will be seen a novelty act in Colonel Diamond and his granddaughter in a dance program. The colonel is now 82 years old and is still active and a most graceful dancer. The granddaughter is young and very good to gaze upon. Their selections range from the waltz to the cake walk.

Then there will be Mantambo and Nap in comedy acrobatics, with a laugh to every second; Arthur Rigsby, the inimitable minstrel man, who has songs and new stories to win him the good opinion of the audience, and Bonner and Power, former stars of the Blue Devil company, who will introduce a menu of songs, dances and chatter to help along. The movie picture section of the program will be headed by George Walsh in "Manhattan Knight."

BRUCE KENNEDY DIES AT MONTGOMERY HOME

Word was received in Atlanta Wednesday of the death on that day of Bruce Kennedy, who for the past ten years has been the secretary of the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce, and one of the best-known civic leaders in the southern states.

Mr. Kennedy is also well known as a newspaper man, having been associated for a number of years with The Mobile Register as managing editor, and with The Montgomery Advertiser in the same capacity.

The news of Mr. Kennedy's death is a source of great regret to many Atlantans, his visits to the city and his various connections here having won for him a wide circle of acquaintances and friends.

"Divorce Mill" Grist.

Atlanta's "divorce mill" will have plenty of grist when the docket goes to trial Monday week, despite the efforts of the judges to decrease the number of cases. The calendar will contain about 200 names, according to J. Clarke Lewis, deputy clerk, although an order is in effect that no undefended cases be placed except upon a written request by attorney. There were 300 cases on the docket of the last session.

WILLIAMS' NAME SENT TO SENATE BY WILSON

Washington, March 17.—The nomination of William Martin Williams, of Montgomery, Ala., to be commissioner of internal revenue was sent to the senate today by President Wilson. Mr. Williams will succeed Daniel C. Roper, whose resignation becomes effective April 1.

MUSCOGEE TAKES BIG ALLOTMENT OF STOCK

Columbus, Ga., March 17.—(Special.)—Muscogee county has oversubscribed its allotment of stock in the proposed Georgia Agricultural bank as the result of Governor Dorsey's visit. This county was assigned 88 shares of stock and local subscriptions were considerably in excess of 100 shares. Governor Dorsey left this morning for Buena Vista and Americus.

REPUBLICAN MEETING OF 8TH DISTRICT HELD

Athens, Ga., March 17.—(Special.) The republican convention of the eighth district was held here today with thirty-four delegates present and approximately 200 in attendance. Dr. W. H. Harris, of Athens, was named delegate; H. D. Bush, alternate, and the district reorganized with the election of Rev. J. T. Johnson as district chairman.

The district committee will consist of two delegates from each of the seventeen counties wit hthe exception of Clarke, which will have four delegates. It is said that Wood will get the vote of this district. Henry Lincoln Johnson is opposed as national committeeman.

'The Store of Dependability'
An Announcement
We now have in our shop one of the best platinum designers in the country, enabling us to submit without delay original sketches of platinum and diamond jewelry and to make the desired article in our own workrooms. We believe our patrons will find this much more satisfactory than the customary plan of waiting for the drawings to be made in New York, and then waiting again for the work to be executed after the design has been approved.

It Is Real Economy To Buy a Good Refrigerator

If you have ever had experience with a cheap refrigerator, you know it is a costly experiment to have one in your home because the ice bills are large, and in addition the food is not preserved as well. In the long run it is more costly than to buy a good refrigerator in the first place. This model is one that we selected after the most careful examination, because of its perfectly insulated walls and its circulation of cool, dry air to every part of the food chamber. Your saving of ice alone in one season will be sufficient to almost pay for this refrigerator, which is priced on convenient credit terms at only $32.50.
